HOGAN TRIAL ARGUMENTS UNDER WAY

Man Accused of Manslaughter as Result of Fatal Auto Crash Denies Speed and Being Drunk at Accident

State, in Rebuttal, Begins Attack on Testimony as the Defendant's Friend Is Called to Witness Stand

Arguments to the jury were begin this afternoon in the trial of Howard Hogan, wealthy Oakland youth, who is charged with manslaughter.

Shortly after the beginning of the afternoon session of court, the prosecutin announced that it rested its case, and that no more rebuttal testimony would be introduced The defense had rested during the morning session.

The arguments on both sides were expected to consume all of this afternoon's session, and the greater part of Monday.

Already nearly three weeks have been occupied by the trial Hogan, who is the 22-year-old son of Hugh Hogan, wealthy Oakland lumberman, is accused of having been driving at excessive speed and under the influence of liquor when his automobile struck and killed two men on the night of June 1 at East Twelfth street and Twenty-third avenue.

The prosecution opened its rebuttal with an attack upon Edward T. Young, defense witness, who yesterday told of a party attended by Hogan and himself on the afternoon and evening of the day of the accident Young maintained emphatically yesterday that Hogan was not drunk when the two parted company late that Sunday night, about a half hour before the accident.

Today Young was recalled and asked if he had met Milton W. Sevier, police court prosecutor on the morning of June 2 in front of the jewelry store at Fourteenth street and Broadway, of which Young is assistant manager. The question propounded by District Attorney Ezra Decoto was as follows Decoto asked Young if he called Hogan "Mal' as a nickname and received an affirmative reply

"Didn't you meet Sevier at Fourteenth and Broadway and didn't this conversation take place. Didn't you say, 'You are just the man I want to see. I tried to get you all morning I phoned to your house'

"And didn't Sevier say, 'What's the matter, Ed'"

"And didn't you say, 'Haven't you seen the papers" Mal got drunk last night and ran over two men and killed them.'

"And didn't you say further, 'I want to see Mal. He is in the city jail. We were on a party last night and Mal got drunk—too drunk to drive his car We took it away from him and put it in a garage, and he promised to go home. He went back about 20 minutes later and got it and then this happened.'"

WITNESS SAYS HE CAN'T RECALL CONVERSATION.

To which the witness replied, "I do not recall"

Decoto insisted on an answer and Young repeated, "I cannot say. I had some conversation with Sevier but I do not recall what it was"

Young denied that he took Hogan's car that night and put it in a garage. He was excused by the defense without question.

As the noon recess was called Assistant City Jailor George Mulhollan was called to the stand by the prosecution.

Hogan's recital on the witness stand of his version of the accident was dramatic The largest crowd that has attended any court session of the trial was on hand to hear the defendant's story. Hogan spoke in a clear, firm voice and did not lose his self control except on one occasion when he was telling of the

Life in Danger

BETTY GERKE POISONED IN S.F. MYSTERY

Famous "Candy Girl" of College City Adds Chapter to Her Alliance With Livingston Irving, War Hero

An overdose of sleeping powders, taken either accidentally or with suicidal intent, threw into the balance today the life of Betty Gerke Irving, divorced wife of Livingston Irving, son of Samuel C. Irving, former mayor of Berkeley. She lies in a critical condition in the Central Receiving hospital in San Francisco.

Mrs. Irving was taken early this morning from the apartment of friends at 641 Post street, San Francisco by the police. They believe that financial burdens rested heavily upon her and that, to escape them, she took the drug intentionally. The attending physician says she has but a slight chance for recovery.

ROMANCE BEGAN IN CANDY STORE.

The woman's act is one more in a series of romantic episodes which began when she was a candy girl in a Berkeley store and the son of the college city's executive eloped with and married her. The elopement caused a tremendous stir. It happened during the exposition and aroused immediate protest from the young man's parents. He was a student in the University of California at the time, the girls' father and mother ran a candy store on Shattuck avenue

Irving and the girl maintained their marital establishment for a year and then, as suddenly as they had been wed, announced a separation. All sorts of charges were bandied back and forth between the bride and the Irvings She claimed that she and her husband would have been quite happy but for parental interference There were even rumors that she had been offered a certain sum to quit the young man.

The war came along and off to the battle front in the very height of his domestic difficulties went young Irving. He came back many months later wearing numerous decorations.

SUITS FOR DIVORCE KEEP GOSSIPS BUSY.

Steps for legal separation were taken at various times. In the first instance Irving's suit for divorce was thrown out of court when the judge learned that the husband and wife had lived together quite calmly after the divorce suit had been filed. Late in 1919 the young husband tried it again and this time his plea for divorce was granted. A suit for alienation for $50,000 parents-in-law, she subsequently abandoned.

In March, 1921, Irving married Madeline Geagan of 1461 Alice street, Oakland. This wedding also was quite informal and unexpected, being performed by Judge Mortimer Smith at the hall of records, where he had been unexpectedly summoned by telephone.

The Gehrkes, parents of the first wife of young Irving, lived for a time in eBrkeley, but recently removed to Manteca. Betty has been residing with friends in San Francisco.

COLLAPSE OF OAKS DEAL THREATENS

"No Proposition Received," Claims Local Magnate; Offer Made Before Trip to Seattle, Visitor Says

On again; off again; gone again. That's the status of the popular indoor sport "Selling the Oaks."

Today it looks as if the deal were definitely off. Walter Johnson, Washington pitching ace and prospective purchaser of the local club came into town this morning from Los Angeles. J. Cal Ewing, president of the Oakland club, arrived about the same time from Seattle, Vancouver and way points.

Johnson and his partner in the proposed purchase, George Weiss of New Haven, waited around expecting a call from Ewing. However, Ewing was busy otherwise or was not interested enough to bother.

Asked if he had heard from Weiss or Johnson, Ewing said he had not.

"They have not yet made a proposition for my ball club," declared Ewing.

"We made a proposition before Ewing went to Seattle and expected an answer as soon as he returned," said Weiss.

When Johnson discovered that Ewing had not been interested enough to get in touch with his business partner he declared his intention of leaving Oakland for Reno tonight. Joe Engel, Washington scout and the man who has been trying to resign Walter to a Washington contract, will accompany the star pitcher. The chances are Johnson will listen to Engel's proposition and stay with Washington.

Late this afternoon when Ewing was told that Weiss was waiting to hear from him, Ewing said he might get in touch with the eastern man but that he had no appointment with him.

TWO COUNTY JAIL ESCAPES CAUGHT

Grant and Booth Surprised in S. F. House and Nabbed by Four Detectives.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—Ernest Booth and Robert Grant, who escaped from the Alameda county jail, were recaptured today by four detectives in a house at 559 Ivy avenue.

There was no gun play in connection with the arrest of the two men, but both were armed with automatic pistols. Detective sergeants McLaughlin, Brunner, McMahon and Van Matre made the arrest.

The four detectives, after booking the prisoners at the city prison en route to Oakland, hurried to Alameda this afternoon on a hot tip, which, it is believed will result in another arrest.

The detectives, acting on secret information, surrounded the Ivy avenue house, said to be conducted by a woman known to the police as "Salvation Nell" Barry. With revolvers in their hands the officers broke through the door of the front room. Booth and Grant were eating, and before they could do anything pistols were shoved against them.

The two men are suspected of participation in the holdup of the Haight-Fillmore branch of the Mercantile Trust Company on the day following their escape. Approximately $15,000 was taken in the haul.

Booth and Houston were convicted on October 11 of having held up and robbed the Allendale branch of the Oakland bank on the afternoon of May 19. The two were alleged to have taken $2002 from the institution by means of a hold daylight robbery, in which they were armed with a revolver and an ammonia bomb.

The two were sentenced by Superior Judge Lincoln S Church, and were being held in the county jail awaiting transfer to San Quentin, when Booth and Grant staged their jail-break.

The escape was effected shortly before noon on the morning of October 26. Booth had been allowed in the front part of the jail to converse with an attorney, Marshall Stutzman of Los Angeles. As he was being led back to his cell by Jailer E. Q. Turner, he produced a revolver and threatening to blow Turner's brains out, he forced him to enter the cell and give him the keys to the outer [illegible] door.

The day the two men escaped from jail, the Haight-Fillmore branch of the Mercantile Trust Company in San Francisco was held up and robber of $3600 by a gang of bandits. Two of these were said by witnesses to resemble Booth and Grant.

MUSSOLINI FOES ARM, KILL THREE

Socialist Deputy Kills Rival Legislator: Gioletti Turns on Premier.

LONDON, Nov. 14—Italy trembled today on the verge of widespread anti-Fascist demonstrations, despatches from Rome indicate. A Fascist deputy was shot in Castellamare on the Bay of Naples, and a serious situation existed at Messagne, near Brindisi, according to despatches to the Daily Mail.

Communists at Messagne were reported ready to resist armed troops sent to exact reprisals for the destruction of Fascist headquarters.

Three Fascisti, including the town councillor, were reported wounded at Landriano, near Parma, when Communists attacked a Fascist home. In the Castellamare fight former Deputy Imparati, who was a Socialist member of the Chamber of Deputies, shot and killed Fascist Deputy Cosenz, Daily Mail despatches said.

Four Communists were arrested in Rome, an agency despatch stated after a meeting of extremist elements. Two were slain

PUT UP TO COURT. GARIBALDI DUEL

ROME, Nov. 14.—It was announced today that General Italo Balbo, commander-in-chief of the Fascist national militia, owing to the impossibility of a duel with General Peppino Garibaldi, had submitted the case involved in his challenge to General Garibaldi to the permanent Court of Honor at Florence.

The challenge issued by General Balbo last week was an outgrowth of a protest made by Garibaldi, grandson of the Italian patroit, against the alleged attack by Facist militia upon former soldiers during the celebration of the Austrian armistice anniversary in Rome.

86,000 to See Bear-Card Game; "Tightwad Hill" To Be Reserved

11,000 Denied Tickets Will Get Free Passes to Famed "Moochers'" Roost.

BERKELEY, Nov. 14.—"Moochers" will be barred from "Tightwad Hill" the day of the "Big Game" between California and Stanford, November 22.

"Tightwad Hill," where thousands climbed to view last year's game, will be set aside for persons sending applications for seats, but whose orders remain unfilled, according to Raymond Cortelyou, assistant graduate manager of the University of California. With each returned application will be enclosed a slip entitling the holder to a place of vantage on the hillside. All other persons will be barred from this area.

86,000 EXPECTED TO ATTEND CONTEST.

Assistant Graduate Manager Raymond Cortelyou of the University of California today prepared to care for 86,000 people or more in the memorial stadium and on the hillsides to the east of the big bowl in Strawberry Canyon.

University of California officials are swamped with applications for tickets. Cortelyou announced that the number of applications to be returned unfilled will reach the 11,000 mark instead of 6000 as announced yesterday. Of this number fully 9500 will be applications from University of California students, alumni and others seeking their seats through the Berkeley campus. Stanford will return the remaining number.

With seats provided for 76,000 persons in the stadium itself, Cortelyou estimates that the hillside crowd will easily reach at least 10,000 persons.

BERKELEY'S BIGGEST EVENT, HE ASSERTS.

"This is the biggest event Berkeley has ever prepared for," said Cortelyou today. "The proportions the game have assumed have staggered university officials."

Owing to the big demand for tickets, university authorities are redoubling their efforts to guard against "scalpers" and strict prosecution of all persons caught selling pasteboards at excessive prices will be pressed.

S. F. LEADER FACES BRIBE INDICTMENT

U. S. Attorney Says Politician Got $100,000 "Protection" Money in One Deal and $70,000 in Next Shipment

Two Dead Men Accused of Liquor Conspiracy in Last Batch of 85 Writs; Lid to Be Pressed on Tight

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14. — Indictment of a powerful San Francisco politician, who is alleged to have received money running into the hundreds of thousands of dollars from rum-runners in return for "protection," will be sought fro mthe new federal grand jury, Sterling Carr, U. S. attorney, declared today.

This man, according to Carr, is alleged not only to have received $100,000 in 1920 from a supposed Canadian "liquor trust" and 25 per cent of the value of all liquor landed here by the "trust," but in the last few weeks demanded 100,000 from the owners of a rum-runner off the Golden Gate and is alleged actually to have received $70,000 at that time.

Federal agents today secured search warrants in order to gain entry to safety deposit boxes at local banks in search of evidence.

EXTRADITION NOT THOUGHT POSSIBLE.

Carr said that he has found no way in which Canadian citizens who were indicted this week in connection with the alleged "liquor trust" investigation, can be extradited and no attempt to extradite them will be made.

The government made another drastic move yesterday by announcing that, in the future, any person arrested for the possession or sale of imported liquor would be prosecuted under the smuggling laws. This means any person arrested for buying as well as selling imported liquor will be liable to a fine of $5000 and imprisonment in a federal penitentiary for two years.

Treasury department officials will co-operate with Prohibition Director Samuel Rutter and, in cases where dry agents seize imported liquors in cafe raids, the evidence will be turned over to the treasury department for prosecution under the tariff laws.

TWO OF INDICTED MEN ALREADY DEAD.

Two of the 85 indicted persons are reported today to have died some time ago. They are one of the Zimmerman men and Mark Rogers, who committed suicide in Vancouver a month ago. Another, Henry Raifel, according to a Vancouver dispatch, has not been connected with the Consolidated Exporters, Ltd., for two years.

United States District Attorney Carr announced today that new evidence tending to show that Russell Whitelaw, Vancouver millionaire and reputed head of the international trust for smuggling liquor into this country, paid $100,000 to "certain San Francisco people," for protection.

Consolidated Exporters, Ltd, was formed in 1921 at the request of the Canadian government, which was seeking a simplification of the customs inspections. Sixteen separate wholesale liquor houses were included in the amalgamation, which was directed by F. R. Anderson, the Vancouver attorney whose arrest without warrant Wednesday night brought Bert Schlesinger and John L. McNab, two of the most prominent Bay district attorneys into the fight as defense counsel.

An accounting of the liquor seized in the Quadra will be demanded of the government in a civil suit, according to Schlesinger, who declared that "Evaporation is remarkable in the case of good liquor in San Francisco."

20 OF 28 INDICTED ARE U. S. CITIZENS.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 14 — Out of the 28 British Columbia men connected with the Consolidated Exporters and who were indicted by the federal grand jury at San Francisco in connection with rum running charges, no fewer than 20 are American citizens. They came to Canada after the United States went dry and went into the liquor business.

N.Y. Heir's Family Won't Interfere With Marriage to Cabby's Daughter

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—An indication that there are more rocks ahead for Leonard Kip Rhinelander and his bride, who insists she is not a negress, arose today when the wealthy Kip and Rhinelander families met in conference in the law offices of Bull & Edgar. It was a meeting from which all but those vitally concerned with the family's affairs were excluded.

The meeting was called to discuss the secret marriage a month ago of young Rhinelander, rich in his own name, to Alice Beatrice Jones, daughter of a New Rochelle resident, variously described as a taxicab driver, a coachman, a West Indian, and by the bride, as "a retired real estate operator."

Spotswood D. Bowers, attorney for the elder Rhinelander, gave out a statement this afternoon indicating that the family intended to do nothing about the marriage.

"Mr. Rhinelander," said Bowers' statement, "states that his son, Leonard Kip Rhinelander, who is over 21, was married on October 14 without his knowledge. Mr. Rhinelander never met the young woman whom his son married, but is informed that she is of English parentage. Mr. Rhinelander further states that he has authorized no other statement and that neither he or his attorney will make any further statement."

"Does that mean," Bowers was asked, "that young Rhinelander will be disinherited?"

"I have nothing to add to the formal statement," the lawyer replied.

FAIR BATTLE TO KEEP HAPPINESS.

Young Rhinelander and his bride of a month clung to their happiness today in the face of a barrage of questions in the modest home of the bride's parents behind a cold drink stand.

Behind his thick lensed glasses and sandy moustache, young Rhinelander, 21 years old last June when he came into the inheritance of $336,127, wore a troubled expression at the storm of attention aroused by discovery that he married Beatrice Alice Jones secretly October 14.

He urged his wife to answer questions calmly "to help clear things up." His bride, however, was in tears as she returned indignant replies to questions as to her parents' ancestry.

"There is not a bit of negro blood in our veins," she declared

GIRL DECLARES PARENTS ENGLISH.

According to the marriage license, issued when they were married in the city hall at New Rochelle, the bride is 23, white, the daughter of George and Elizabeth Jones. The father and mother were born in England, according to the record. The girl said her father had lived in the West Indies for a time.

Dynamite Is Used to Halt Blaze, Blowing Up Buildings; 2000 Children Are Periled by Several Blasts

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Nov. 14.—A conflagration which started in the salpetre plant of the Richardson Chemical company leaped beyond the control of the fire forces of two cities to the abandoned plant of the American Sugar Refinery company and then destroyed several smaller factories and two rows of three and four-story tenement houses within six hours.

The loss, it is estimated, will run into millions of dollars.

Fifteen persons were seriously injured, or burned; scores of others were cut by glass blown out over a half mile radius by a series of explosions and 2000 men, women and children comprising 900 families were made homeless.

The tenement houses destroyed included most of the buildings in the block bounded by Morris, Warren, Essex and Washington streets.

CAVING WALLS FORCE FIRE FORCES BACK.

At 1:30 o'clock fire in the rear section of the American Sugar Refinary building forced the fire fighters to retreat. The walls at the rear of the building were beginning to cave. The main warehouse of Colgate and Company, filled with tons of soap and other highly inflammable substances, much of which is explosive, is across the street.

Plants of the Vulcan Iron Works Co. and of the Manhattan Electric Supply Co. are also menaced.

Firemen and apparatus from New York City this afternoon were ordered to assist in fighting the fire. Three alarms were sounded to mobilize the firemen. Earlier two fire boats, the John Purroy Mitchell and the New Yorker, had gone to the assistance of the fire forces.

Firemen and policemen were frequently forced to lie down on sidewalks to catch a breath of life saving air as the saltpeter fumes were driven upon them.

Fifteen firemen were overcome by fumes and scores of persons were treated for cuts from flying glass and effects of the fumes which rolled across the city and the Hudson river.

HUNDREDS JOIN FIRE FORCES BATTLING FLAMES.

The Hoboken fire department joined fire boats from New York City in helping the Jersey City firemen. Several hundred volunteer firemen were engaged in battling small blazes which caught in various buildings and tenements.

Two thousand children from a nearby public school were rushed out of the building. As they came into the street a terrific explosion tore the roof from the plant, hurled it fifty feet in the air and scattered it for several blocks. The children terrorized, fled through the streets.

SULPHURIC ACID BEGINS EXPLODING

Stores of sulphuric acid in the sugar refinery began exploding after noon and threw blazing debris into groups of firemen. Additional fire lines were brought to bear upon the new danger and other streams were directed on the Lehigh Valley railroad coal pockets in the burning area.

At noon Fire Chief Boyle called for tons of dynamite with which to blow up buildings in hope of cutting off the onward sweep of the conflagration.

City Commissioner Fagan closed one city resevoir, directing all its supply to the fire nozzles which increased the water pressure from 85 to 95 pounds.

Old Bonanza Silver Mine, Found On Catalina, Shipping Rich Ore

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—An old silver mine has been found on William Wrigley's famous Catalina Island off the California coast and already two carloads of ore, realizing $6560 to each carload, has been shipped to San Francisco, Wrigley said today.

There will be no gold rush across the country as in '49, however, as Wrigley owns all the island, including the mineral rights.

"It looks like a big thing," said Wrigley, "and I'm going to develop it, not that I care so much for the profits, but simply to develop the natural resources. The mine is about 75 miles from my home and 2000 feet up in the hills."

When found, he said, the old tunnel was covered with dense underbrush. The mine has probably been lost for 60 years, he added.

PROSECUTION OF DOBLE'S AGENTS MAY BE DROPPED

Action on Indictments Indicated When Temporary Writ Is Granted.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov 14—Possibility that prosecution of officers and fiscal agents of the Doble Steam Motors corporation on indictments charging violation of the state corporate securities act, may be dropped is indicated in a temporary writ of prohibition which has been granted by Appellate Judge William H. Langdon.

The writ was issued in response to the claim of Thomas F Havens attorney for his son, Harold E Havens, one of the defendants that no such crime as that charged is specified in the corporate securities act and also that the statute of limitations was operative at the time the indictments were returned.

The writ was made returnable December 15, at which time the court will decide whether or not to make it permanent.

The resignation of Harold E Havens as secretary-treasurer of the company, has also been announced. Havens in a statement, declared that his separation from the concern was entirely friendly and came in the ordinary course of business.

TWO HIGHBALLS DECLARED ONLY DRINKS IN DAY

He detailed his movements early in the day saying he had attended a dinner party at the bachelor quarters of Jack Pendleton, 1008 Grand avenue, had gone to the home of Horatio Bonestell on the Joaquin Miller road and there met several guests of the Bonestells, had returned to the Pendleton quarters and from there had gone to the Athenian-Nile club thence to the Como apartments and then out East Twelfth street. At the Pendleton party he partook of two highballs and that was the only drinking he did during the entire day he said.

He said he drove out East Twelfth street at a rate never exceeding 25 miles an hour and slowing down to 10 miles at certain intersections. In telling of the actual accident Hogan said:

"I drove out East Twelfth street at about 100 to 125 feet west of the crossing at Twenty-third avenue I came up to a small Ford car without a tail light. I watched it bounce over the tracks on Twenty-third avenue. After I got to the east of the crossing I looked ahead and saw the road was clear. I started to pass. When I got about half way [illegible] came [illegible] out in front of that car. I was going about 20 to 22 miles an hour. They came right out in front of my car when I was about three or four feet away."

"What happened then?" asked Hogan's attorney, to which he replied:

"I hit them, then I tried to put on my brake. I must have stepped on the accelerator for my car shot ahead. For the next instant I sat there stunned by the realization that I had hit someone. Then I pulled my car out of the traffic, ran back and tried to give what assistance I could."

Hogan was asked if he had talked to any of the police officers who had him under arrest and he replied that he had asked one of them [illegible] move down the street and if he had [illegible] asked him [illegible] made [illegible] broke [illegible] head as he re[illegible] [illegible]

during the night, saying he did not go faster than 25 miles an hour. He also declared he was sober and denied admitting to anyone that he was intoxicated.

Hogan declared that there was no one near the body when he started to pick it up and he denied that he had taken hold of the body by the hair. Hogan said that it was not until he reached the city hall that he knew that he had struck two persons.

Under cross examination he said that when he first jumped from the machine to run back to the body he saw just one body and "kept his eyes glued" on that to the exclusion of everything else.

Hogan told Assistant District Attorney Frank M. Shay that he partook of but two drinks at the Pendleton quarters. Shay asked a surprise question when he said, "What kind of games did they play there that day?"

"Not any."

"Are you positive?"

"To the best of my recollection not any."

The witness finally declared that eating, talking and dancing were the only diversions of the afternoon and that no "games" were played. Hogan said that when he was driving out East Twelfth street he was headed for the Tokon Inn and that he was "absolutely alone" at the time.

The witness said that he saw but one form but he knows now that there must have been two. He said that after the impact he continued to drive on down the street in a straight line for "an instant," not being able to gather his faculties. He illustrated an "instant" by counting three and Shay attempted to secure a stipulation that it was a "little less than two seconds," but did not succeed.

In telling of his actions immediately after the impact Hogan said he "just sat there."

"You didn't do anything else?"

"I couldn't."

"You didn't see any form on your car, on the front of it after the impact?"

"No."

"You lost your mind so completely you didn't know whether there were one, two or three people there?"

"I did not lose my mind and don't want that impression to get out. I knew what was going on around me. I knew what I was doing but I was just stunned and could not do anything. I put my foot on the accelerator and the car shot ahead. I was paralyzed."

Hogan said that he did not pay any attention to which side of the street he stopped his car on nor how far he drove before stopping. He said the body he ran back to was about ten feet from the left hand curb. He had no recollection of the speed his car developed after the impact and before he brought it to a stop, he said.

HOGAN DECLARED SOBER BY HOST.

Hogan was preceded on the witness stand by Horatio S Bonestell, 1725 Joaquin Miller road, who said that young Hogan and a party including his son came to the Bonestell home on the afternoon of June 1. Hogan introduced himself to some guests at the house and then Bonestell left to walk in the garden. Hogan was sober at the time he said.

J A. Bonestell, previously referred to in the testimony as "Jack" and a son of H S Bonestell, then took the stand and told of attending a dinner party at the Pendleton apartments. There were four women and four men present, the latter being Pendleton, Hogan, Edward T Young and himself. Asked if he knew the women, he replied "They are prominently known in San Francisco and I don't want to give their names." He was not pressed further.

He said that after dinner some one suggested going to see the new [illegible] there in two cars. One of the machines stalled at the foot of the grade into the place, he said and Hogan drove the car in, the grade being steep and winding. The women and men were introduced to Bonestell's mother and father, the witness said, and after about an hour they all left, returning to the Pendleton apartments.

Bonestell said that Hogan was sober all that afternoon and based this conclusion on the declaration that "he did not stagger, spoke coherently and in no way showed himself under the influence of liquor."

On cross examination Bonestell was asked if liquor had been served at the dinner party and said that there was a bottle of "Scotch" on the side board and anyone could go there and help himself or herself at any time. He did not remember if wine had been served at the dinner table but said that only one drink was "served" to the guests during their stay there.

Returning to the Pendleton flat after the trip to his home "all pitched in" and got supper, one more round of drinks was "served" and then the party broke up. He, Hogan and Young went to the Athenian-Nile club, he driving his car and Young driving Hogan's. Then Hogan and Young left about 10.15.

Suicide by Drowning Is Verdict of Jury

RICHMOND, Nov 14—Death by drowning with suicidal intent was the verdict of a coroner's jury which investigated the death of Mrs Mabel Todd, 67, of 1468 Hampel street, Oakland, today. Mrs Todd's body was found on October 19 floating in the water near Crockett by a crew of workmen. The body had a rope tied around the neck which gave rise to a suspicion of murder. Relatives of Mrs. Todd, however, identified the body and furnished the suicide clue.

COUNTRY CLUB TO ADD FEATURES

R. H Maddan of Berkeley, president of the Eastbay Country Club, yesterday returned from an inspection trip of the Southern California Country clubs.

The Eastbay Country Club, he states, will have all of the features of the famous Southern California clubs with the added advantage of beautiful natural surroundings that are in no way approached by any of the outdoor organizations below the Tehachapi.

"If any of the Los Angeles organizations possessed a site as our Crow Canyon property, only 45 minutes from Broadway, Oakland, membership in them would be almost priceless," Madden said yesterday.

The new Eastbay Country Club will combine, insofar as possible, the desirable features of all of the clubs that Maddan visited, he said.

"Many of the club officials in the south have heard favorably of the progress being made by the Eastbay Country Club," Maddan said. "On both sides of the bay within a radius of 20 miles of Oakland there are 17 country clubs. Los Angeles has 44 within the same circle. The southern clubs are glad to note the development of the play spirit in the northern part of the state as it is directly related to business growth, they point out."

TURKEY SHOOT.

OAKDALE, Nov. 14.—Stanley L. Collins Post of the American Legion will hold its annual turkey shoot next Sunday about a mile west of town. One hundred fancy birds have been secured for the occasion and it is expected that many of the fancy shots from all parts of the county will participate in the shoot. Last year more than 100 birds were disposed of. The profits go toward paying off the indebtedness on the Legion club house.

QUAKE KILLS 300, SWALLOWS TOWNS IN CENTRAL JAVA

River Transformed Into Mud Channel Littered With Bodies of Dead.

BATAVIA, Java., Nov. 14.—The island of Java has been severely shaken by earthquakes. Already 300 persons are reported dead or missing.

The earth shocks extended over Wednesday and part of Thursday. Many native towns of the Kedu district, a central residency of Java, have been destroyed by landslides. One village completely disappeared into the river.

Java, in the Malay Archipelago, is the seat of government for the Dutch East Indies. Created by violent seismic convulsions, it is subjected from year to year to similar disturbances, less violent, but sufficient in times past to have destroyed much life and property.

In 1919, the volcano of Kalut erupted and caused many deaths, variously estimated at from 15,000 to 50,000. Besides Kalut there are many active volcanoes in the island with its 48,000 square miles. Some of these seismic disturbances have been accompanied by heavy floods and landslides.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—A dispatch to the Morning Post from Amsterdam, quoting reports received from Java, says the river near Kampong has been transformed into a mud channel in which the bodies of men and animals are lying.

Forty-five houses in the Leksono district have disappeared entirely. The whole of Dessah Badjingan has been engulfed in the Pring river. Magelang, the principal town in the Kedu district, was only slightly damaged. Houses of Dutch officials at Wonosobo were not destroyed.

Slayer Electrocuted Vowing Innocence

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., Nov. 14. — Proclaiming his innocence to the last, Harry Piamond, 26, convicted of the murder of his wife, who was shot to death near Gary, Ind., last February, was electrocuted at the state prison here at 12:01 o'clock this morning.

Piamond went to his death calmly, stating to prison officials just before being strapped in the chair:

"You men are more guilty of murder than I."

Limberger Price Grows Stronger But 'Kick' Weak

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

BERLIN, Nov. 14.—Limberger cheese is 113 per cent dearer in the current market than it was in 1913 and not half so pungent. Cheese experts insist it is not made with the care it formerly was and that less attention is paid to aging it.

Cod fish is 124 per cent more expensive than in pre-war Germany, onions 200 per cent, sauerkraut 100 per cent, beans 167 per cent and coffee 100 per cent.

L. A. PINS MEDAL ON GERM HEROINE

School Teacher Who Disobeyed Quarantine to Nurse 1500 Pupils Honored.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—That Los Angeles has won its battle against pneumonic plague is plain to see today, in the absence of quarantine lines that lately hemmed in a part of the Mexican quarter, and in the gleam of a little gold medal pinned on the breast of Miss Nora Sterry, principal of a school in the once-quarantined district.

Dr. W. M. Dickie, secretary of the state board of health, has pronounced the danger definitely passed, no new cases having developed since a week ago.

The medal, purchased with the pennies of a neighborhood no longer cringing in fear of the Black Death, is a symbol of gratitude. For it was Nora Sterry who, forbidden by the quarantine from entering the school and neighborhood where for twelve years she had taught and mothered the Mexican children, nevertheless insisted on risking her life in the plague-infested area.

She got by the lines somehow, raised the Stars and Stripes on the roof of her school and made that school the center of new hope for 1500 Mexicans who had suddenly been shut off from the rest of the city, with death in their midst, and who were naturally panic-stricken. She went about among them, comforted them, cheered them and convinced them that health authorities would stamp out the plague. She established a cookery in the school and prepared food for those left stranded in the quarantine area without supplies. A band of Mexican musicians was organized and each afternoon a concert in the school yard flung a merry note in the face of gloom.

Yesterday Miss Sterry returned to her home in another quarter of the city, but not until a procession of several hundred Mexicans had marched to the school house bearing [illegible] flowers and laid them at her feet; the little Mexican orchestra played happy music; some one attempted a speech, and they pinned on the medal.

College President Found Dead in Bed

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

APPLETON, Wis., Nov. 14.—Dr. Samuel Plantz, president of Lawrence College since 1894, was found dead in bed at Sturgeon Bay last night. The annual homecoming celebration, which was to have been marked by a football game with Hamline University of St. Paul, Saturday, has been cancelled. Dr. Plantz has built up the college until it is credited with being the largest Methodist Episcopal college in the United States, with an enrollment of 1300 students.

Brookhart's Final Majority About 750

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

DES MOINES, Nov. 14.—Senator Smith W. Brookhart's final majority over Daniel F. Steck, his Democratic opponent in the recent election for the United States Senate, will be approximately 750 votes, it was indicated today by the official and unofficial reports on the county canvass which was nearing completion.

Hiccoughing Wave Follows Dry Spell

MERIDEN, Conn., Nov. 14.—Ten authentic cases of hiccoughing have been reported by physicians here with unofficial reports of many additional victims. The attacks last two or three days. The cause of the epidemic is a mystery. The only theory advanced is that the unusually long spell of dry weather may be responsible.

Because they prey on salmon, about 150 tons of bald eagles have been killed in Alaska during the past six years.

Denials Fail to Faze Author of War Book

BY UNITED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Both Georges Clemenceau and David Lloyd George today declared there was no truth in Wickham Steed's account of how the two ex-premiers nearly fought a duel in the days of Versailles.

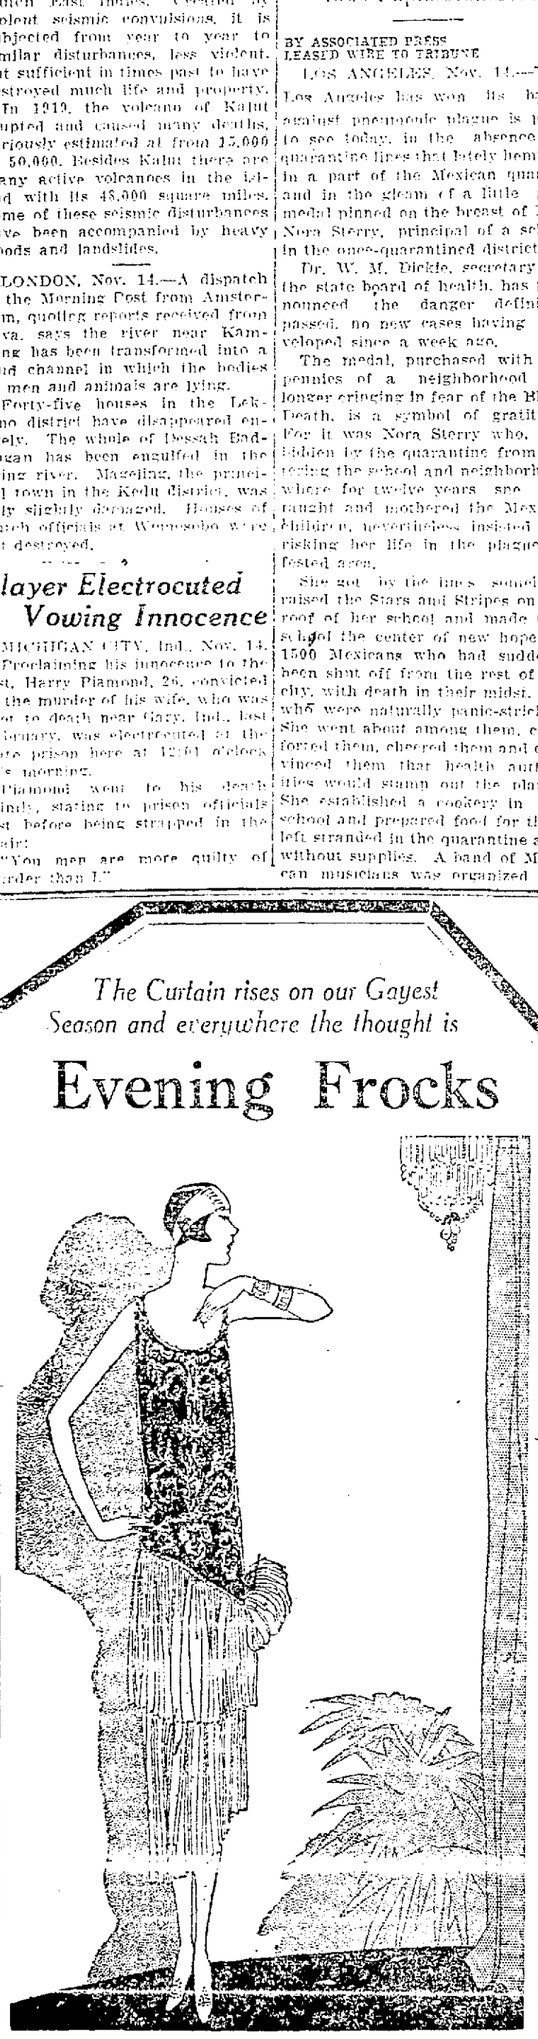

The former editor of the Times was not disturbed by their denials. "Naturally, I should not have written what I did were I not sure of my facts," Steed said.

His book, "Over Thirty Years," besides describing an alleged row between Lloyd George and Clemenceau, says the Welshman had the "Tiger" by the collar and Woodrow Wilson intervened, the author in a casual way tells of giving advice to cabinet officers and kings.

These have been rightly named "the bags of the season," for they are exceedingly smart and popular. The picture here shows one of them on the extreme right-hand side. They are perfectly flat when closed, and when opened, the hinged gate top frame opens out so that there is plenty of room to find what one wants inside.

Of black moire, lined with silk or leather, with plain frame, $3.95 to $12.50. Of genuine patent calf, alligator calf, lizard, etc. $3.50 to $12.50

The M & R Marcel Waver

An Entirely New Discovery

Will Save Time and Money

Marcel Your Own Hair at Home

The M. & R. Marcel Waver consists of an electric curling iron and a pair of combs which fit down over the iron after the hair is clamped, and these combs pull the hair against the iron, using the same principle the marsel artist uses when she combs your hair first one side, then the other, of her iron. It is oval shaped, giving a broad, flat wave, spaced perfectly even. Attach the Waver to any light socket or plug, and when used at 110 to 120 voltage, it WILL NOT BURN THE HAIR.

Special Demonstration of Iron

Come into our Notion Department, where these irons are on sale, and we will demonstrate to you the use of these excellent irons. Then you may use them expertly.

Simple to Operate

The M & R Waver weighs only one pound and is thus light and easy to handle. The longer you hold the wave and the tighter you clamp the hair, the longer the wave will stay in. Arrange mirrors so you can see the back of your head until you get used to the waver.

A Year's Guarantee

There is nothing about this Marcel Waver to get out of order. The electric element has been thoroughly tested and should last for several years. A guarantee goes with each iron, stating we will replace a defective element in one year if the iron is untampered with.

Cannot Injure the Hair

These irons are so arranged and constructed that they will not burn the hair.

What Does This Iron Mean to You?

It means doing away with both the cost of having a marcel and the going downtown every time to get one. The iron will pay for itself in a very short time.

You will not have to wear a cap at night to keep in your marcel, for you may replace it yourself at any time with no expense. The iron is well worth its cost.

Stanislaus "Y" to Have Fund Drive

MODESTO, Nov. 14.—The Stanislaus County Y. M. C. A. is planning a drive to raise money for its support. The drive will start December 1 and run for six days.

Clarence Pfaffenberger, finance chairman, and R. F. Wools of Turlock, chairman of the county committee, are in charge of arrangements for the campaign, which has no fixed sum for its goal.

Paper Man's Estate Valued at $125,571

SANTA CRUZ, Nov. 14.—The estate of Frank O'Neil, who died some months ago in Oakland, has been appraised at $125,571.76.

He was for many years a paper manufacturer with mills in Albany, Oregon and Soquel.

Joker "Tags" Lodi Girl for "Parking"

LODI, Nov. 14.—"Call at the city hall. You are arrested for parking wrong. City Marshal," read a note Miss Elsie Tardell found in her car on returning from shopping.

She drove to the offices of Justice of the Peace J. H. Solkmore, who knew nothing about it, and then over to see City Recorder H. J.Skopkins, who was equally in ignorance.

City Marshal P. Christeson said he didn't leave the note. Then it dawned on Miss Tardell that a practical joker was at work.

SEWAGE PLAN ORDERED.

SANTA CRUZ, Nov. 14.—The city council yesterday ordered the city engineer to proceed with a survey and plans for an adequate sewage system for this city.

Lodi Men Deposit Million in Month

LODI, Nov. 14.—Lodi banks are fairly bursting with coin. Reports show that within the last month deposits increased over $1,000,000. This is due to payments to grape growers coming in from the east.

Huge additional payments will reach vineyardists within a short time.

The grape season has closed and all growers made handsome profits. It is estimated the grape and fruit crops mean $18,000,000 to the growers.

Two Kennel Clubs Take Same Name

SANTA CRUZ, Nov. 14.—As a result of a dispute over control of the local kennel club, a second society also known as the Santa Cruz County Kennel club, also has filed articles of incorporation.

Highway Is Urged Into Little Basin

SANTA CRUZ, Nov. 14.—The Bonnie Doon Farm Bureau has started a movement to open up a road from the Locatelli ranch on Ben Lomond mountain to the Little Basin.

This road would open up a scenic section of the country and lessen the distance to the bay by way of the Little Basin, Big Basin and the Skyline boulevard.

ARGENTINE PLANS VAST SYSTEM OF STATE RAILROADS

Bill Provides Expenditure of 424 Millions to Extend Lines.

By CLAUDE O. PIKE.
(Special Correspondent of The Oakland TRIBUNE.)

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Nov. 5.—The expenditure of $424,000,000, national currency, for the expansion of the Argentine state railway system is contemplated in an executive measure laid before congress. The bill would authorize the executive department to defray the cost of the railway program as the work progresses through the issue of bonds at the rate of $50,000,000 annually, the bonds to be sold at prices fixed by the president and to bear interest at 6 per cent. Amortization would be at the rate of 1 per cent accumulative.

For the creation of townships authority would be given to the president to appropriate 2500 hectares (a hectare is 2.47 acres) of land around every station already built or to be constructed. An expenditure of $7,000,000 is contemplated under this head.

The state railways administration already has on its hands a funded debt of $53,349,795. This, however, is considerably less than half of the floating debt of the railroad administration, which now exceeds $130,000,000. The financing of this debt has become a matter of great concern.

GOVERNMENT CARRYING HUGE DEBTS.

In spite of the fact that the finances of the nation make it necessary to carry huge debts the committee on communications and transports expects this bill to pass at this session. It wants to negotiate the first issue of $50,000,000 bonds and begin the construction program.

Accompanying the bill is a provision for the spending of $7,000,000 for the construction of irrigation works in the provinces of Catamarca, La Rioja, San Juan and San Luis.

The extension of the "rent law" by Congress gives tenants the right to pay the same rent during next year that they have been paying since 1920. In that year, the demand for living quarters became acute because of the absence of building operations during the World War and because of the rapid growth of the city. Landlords boosted rents out of all proportion to values. Unrest grew among the people and public demonstrations stirred Congress into the hurried passing of the rent law without serious study of the problem from an economic standpoint.

(Copyright, 1924, San Francisco Daily News.)

It is estimated that $2,675,000 are spent yearly in the United States for sand for railroads.

Russ Immigrants All Dressed Up, No Place to Go

CHERBOURG, France, Nov. 14.—(By Associated Press).—Russian emigrants to the number of 235, who have been housed and fed at the Atlantic Hotel for nearly a year by the White Star Line, which contracted to transport them to the United States, but which cannot get them to that country under the immigration quota, declared a hunger strike today, much to the delight of the hotel, because the White Star Line gave them notice to leave.

The company offered to carry the emigrants to South America or to continue to try to get them work in New York if they would obligate themselves to pay their year's board bill. The emigrants, however, contend that they were brought from their homes under a promise to be landed in New York and without being warned of quota difficulties. The French authorities are endeavoring to induce the Russians to eat and to have the company moderate its proposals to the emigrants. One complication in the situation is that some of the Russians are working and the White Star Line is of the opinion that they should pay their own board bills.

LAND SALE AUTHORIZED.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. — Secretary Work today authorized the sale at public auction on December 16, of ten blocks of land in the townsite of Heyburn, Idaho, located within the Minedoka reclamation project.

EPISCOPALS ADOPT SPIRITUAL HEALING

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., Nov. 14.—The receipts of the Episcopal church have been set aside by a commission on Christian healing, composed of 18 delegates from the province of the Pacific, in session at All-Saints-by-the-Sea, Montecito, which outlined plans to incorporate spiritual healing in the work of all Pacific parishes. It is the first official step by a modern Protestant church to enter the field of spiritual healing now dominated by independent organizations, according to Dean George Francis Weld, rector of All Saints parish in chairman of the commission. The announced purpose of the conference is to determine the simplest and most effective form in which this new teaching may be presented to members of the churches—a form which will not savor of the miraculous but which will develop the spiritual power in a physical as well as a moral sense.

Turkeys Plentiful In Oakdale Area

OAKDALE, Nov. 14.—Turkeys in the Oakdale district are plentiful this year and of good quality and many of them will be ready for the Thanksgiving market. In many sections of the state such is not the case and the growers are expecting to receive a splendid price for their birds. Some have contracted at thirty cents, others at thirty-five cents a pound, while some think that they will secure even a better price by waiting.

An abandoned railway in Maine has a small motor car with flanged wheels to carry passengers.

Ranches at Oakdale Leased for Cotton

OAKDALE, Nov. 14.—The efforts of the Oakdale chamber of commerce to have cotton growing tried out in the Oakdale district will soon bear fruit if plans now under way materialize.

J. W. Gilstrap and W. A. Beatty of Kern county have been here this week interesting local land owners in leasing their land to men who have been engaged in the growing of cotton near Tipton. They desire to secure about 5000 acres in this county and believe that 2000 of the amount can be had in the Oakdale section. J. D. Johnson of Modesto has agreed to build a cotton gin at that point if the necessary amount of acreage is secured.

Oakdale Ready in Drive of Red Cross

OAKDALE, Nov. 14.—Plans are about complete for the annual Red Cross drive which will be started as soon as the teams can be assigned to the various territories the drive will begin. Attorney L. A. Dreisbach will be in charge of the work and he will soon announce the names of his assistants. The selection of Dreisbach was made at a meeting at which representatives of all organizations and churches of the city were represented.

INSANITY CHARGE FOLLOWS FIGHT IN DIVORCE CASE

Mrs. Lillian Johnston Arrested. Threats Against Mrs. Pomeroy Alleged.

Threats against the life of the woman she accuses of breaking up her home are the basis for a charge of insanity on which Mrs. Lillian Johnston, 33, was taken into custody at the Hotel Whitecotton, Berkeley, today. She was arrested by the Berkeley police on a warrant issued by Deputy District Attorney William M. Maxfield and on complaint of Mrs. Lillian F. Pomeroy of 3301 Elston avenue.

The complaint charges that Mrs. Johnston had threatened to kill Mrs. Pomeroy, that she had accused Mrs. Pomeroy of breaking up her home, and that she had made damaging remarks about Mrs. Pomeroy's character. The insanity charge against Mrs. Johnston will be heard tomorrow morning at the Oakland emergency hospital, with Judge Fred V. Wood presiding.

The case is an outgrowth of the Johnston divorce case in connection with which Mrs. Pomeroy's name was mentioned.

Suit for divorce was first instituted by the husband, Carter H. Johnston, 1214 Josephine street, Berkeley, on September 15. Johnston charged his wife with extreme cruelty. One of the specific charges was to the effet that Mrs. Johnston had entered Johnston's apartments on First avenue, where he had gone after their separation on September 2, and that she had in the presence of Mrs. Pomeroy and Mrs. Pomeroy's small daughter, "cursed and reviled him, and wrongfully accused her (Mrs. Pomeroy) of intimate relations with him." The complaint continued to the effect that Mrs. Johnston, in the presence of others had declared that she had found Mrs. Pomeroy in Johnston's apartment.

Mrs. Johnston entered a cross complaint and an interlocutory decree was granted her on October 8 by Judge T. W. Harris. In her cross complaint she charged that Johnston often returned home intoxicated, that he displayed an ugly disposition and that he had struck her on one occasion. She also charged him with staying away from home. No mention of Mrs. Pomeroy, or any other woman, was made in her divorce complaint.

Wife Claims Mate Fled With Legacy To Dodge Alimony

Since coming into a fortune of [illegible], Maitland L. Haskell, an electrician, has gone to Reno to get a divorce and for the fraudulent purpose of escaping a court order decreeing that he pay his wife $150 a month for the maintenance of herself and child, Mrs. Belle Haskell, 2141 petition filed in superior court.

The petition asks that a receiver be appointed to prevent Haskell from disposing of his inheritance and that he be forced to carry out the terms of the court decree of December 6, 1922.

Haskell has further violated the court decree, the petition declares, by incumbering the home with a mortgage of $2500 though she was to have occupancy of the home free of rent.

Wife Accused of Being Too Nice to Husband's Friends

If a wife drinks and is nice to her husband's political friends at his solicitation can her actions be adjudged cruelty in a divorce suit?

After Mrs. Martin had charged her husband with becoming intoxicated and striking her, Martin replied with a cross-complaint in which he averred that his wife had hugged and kissed other men in their home and had become intoxicated.

Mrs. Martin then filed an answer in which she denies the hugging and kissing "except that when he entertained his political friends at election time he forced her to be nice to them for political reasons." She declares also that her husband forced her to drink though it made her ill.

CAMPAIGN OPENS TO RID CHICAGO OF GANGSTERS

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Mayor Dever's dictum that Chicago must be rid of gunmen was followed today by an order issued by Morgan A. Collins, superintendent of police, that all persons carrying weapons must be arrested.

The mayor's order resulted from the assassination of Dion O'Banion, whose rise to the reputed premiership of gangland was accompanied by political power.

But the mayor was particularly moved to action by the declaration of Louis Altier, O'Banion's closest friend, that he would be willing to "shoot it out" with O'Banion's slayers.

"It must be determined now whether organized outlaws shall continue to shoot and rob without punishment, or whether law and order shall prevail, the mayor had said.

Conductors Involved In Ticket Resales

BOSTON, Nov. 14. — Investigation into the plot by which tickets on the Boston & Maine railroad have been resold by conductors instead of being cancelled during the past two years was being made here today. A statement from the office of President James H. Hustis of the railroad said it appeared the railroad's losses had been "substantial," and that "several conductors of long service are involved."

The loss has been estimated at Portland to be $100,000. Patrick J. Connors, keeper of a novelty store there, and Abraham Shutsky, a labor agent, are under arrest at Portland, charged with larceny.

BULGARIAN WATER SHORTAGE CAUSES UNUSUAL UPROAR OVER BOBBING OF HAIR

By CONSTANTINE STEPHANOFF
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Dame Nature may save Bulgarian school girls the liberty of bobbed hair.

The Tsankoff government this autumn issued a decree that only girls with long hair would be allowed to enter the gymnasia. By some mysterious method many girls who were bobbed and shingled in mid-summer appear at school with long hair. Now comes a water shortage, which has even limited the public health authorities are debating whether they can afford to permit water to be used for shampooing, or whether the public health wouldn't be better served by permitting bobbed hair among the girlhood of the nation. The girls are anxious that the water shortage continue.

Curiously enough, the anti-bobbed hair movement by the Tsankoff government is quite in line with many of the reforms put into effect by the late Stambolisky agrarian government. Though Tsankoff is a bourgeois professor and a bitter foe of the agrarians he has not seen fit to lift many of the restrictions laid down by the agrarian government.

Stambolisky decreed compulsory labor, partly because he thought it would please him to see spoiled aristocratic sons toiling under overbearing bosses. Yet Tsankoff has not repealed this decree.

'Bulgaria's Sodom and Gomorrah' was the epithet applied to Sofia by Stambolisky and he ordered all cafes and saloons closed at 8 p. m.

Bulgarian women have had to suffer under dress regulations Stambolisky laid down. He set rules regarding the height of waists and skirts. His government collected goodly sums from women who insisted upon wearing decollette gowns and short skirts. Beyond this it is charged that women rulers administered physical punishment to some women transgressors of those laws. Some of these laws were lifted after the death of Stambolisky.

One hundred thousand girls were affected by the decree issued this autumn against bobbed hair. There were long and loud protests when the order was issued, but there was general compliance for the memory of Stambolisky's women guards with long whips remained fresh. Now that the water shortage has come the girls are harassing the officials for permits for large quantities of water for shampooing their hair, maintaining that it takes far more water to shampoon long hair than bobbed hair. The authorities are giving the question weighty consideration.

According to estimates of one railroad four tons of sand are required for every mile of road in the United States.

W. C. T. U. WOMEN WILL FIGHT FOR VOLSTEAD LAW

Veterans Who Inaugurated War For Prohibition Intend to Keep Up Battle.

BY UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—The remnants of the little band of intrepid women, who fifty years ago knelt in prayer in front of saloons in the long fight for prohibition, today promised an equally tenacious fight to prevent breakdown of the Volstead act. The little group of white-haired women is attending the national convention here of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Mrs. Ella Dayton Blair, Los Angeles, formerly of Ohio, who as a young girl took part in the 'praying-singing' campaign, declared she would inaugurate the same tactics today if necessary to maintain the Volstead law which she believes was given a sharp blow by the Hill test case in Baltimore.

Mrs. Anna Gordon, president of the W. C. T. U. said she felt people misinterpreted the Hill verdict. The verdict she holds does not lift the restrictions on making home brew with a 'kick.'

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—World prohibition, world purity and world peace are objectives of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Miss Anna M. Gordon, world and national president of the organization declared before the golden jubilee convention here today.

"The work of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union is just beginning," said Miss Gordon. "The electorate of the United States needs to know the truth about the benefits of prohibition and we must persistently circulate the confirming evidence. Many good friends of the Eighteenth amendment, because uninformed, fail to treat it fairly.

"Crowd out the anti-pocket flask with the truth about alcohol as already known through experience and experiment," Miss Gordon urged. "There must be a new and vigorous campaign for total abstinence," she declared. "Alcohol is not the stimulant needed by automobile drivers and industrial workers. Safety first requires total abstinence."

The importance of the ballot in this new campaign is stressed by Miss Gordon who said: "Civic indifference often means election disaster. Many officials . . . advocates of the return of wine and beer, have been nominated or virtually elected by the dry stay-at-homes."

The National Woman's Christian Temperance Union registers its disapproval of child labor, Miss Gordon said. "The nation should seek through the congress by ratifying the 20th amendment and enacting suitable federal legislation to protect and conserve the nation's chief asset, the child," she declared.

Recommendations made by Miss Gordon included a series of border conferences to aid in preventing bootlegging and rum running. August 15, the birthday of the first president of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Mrs. Annie Wittenmyer, should be made a red letter day and on this day special gifts be sent to the soldiers in hospitals, Miss Gordon asserted.

BY UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Wets will open a new drive in Congress for modification of the Volstead act as a result of the judicial precedents established by judge and jury in the Hill 'home brew case.'

Representative John Philip Hill of Maryland, who was acquitted by a Baltimore jury which found that home made wine containing 11.69 per cent alcohol did not come under the prohibition law, announced today he would press his bill legalizing manufacture of 2.75 beer.

Prohibition Commissioner Haynes declared prosecutions against home brewers will continue unabated and unaffected by the acquittal of Hill.

100-Day Sentence Follows Cutting

MARTINEZ, Nov. 14.—William Sidalos of Richmond pleaded guilty to assaulting Sam Campouris and was sentenced to a term of 100 days in the county jail by Justice of the Peace Frank Glass. Sidalos has been held in jail since August 24 on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. He pleaded guilty to the reduced charge of simple assault. Sidalos was accused of cutting Campouris with a knife in a dispute that occurred at the home of the latter's brother Pete.

TRAFFIC POLICE WOULD HAVE TRAP ALLOWED BY LAW

Convention's Legislative Program Asks Elimination of Cutouts and Spot Lights.

If highway patrolmen had their way the motor vehicle act would witness the return of the speed trap, the abolition of cut-outs, compression whistles and spot lights, the examination of operators, and the elimination of the five-day notice clause for arrests under the motor vehicle act. These are just a few of the recommendations embodied in the legislative program of the fifth annual convention of the California Association of Highway Patrolmen, which adjourned last night after a deliberation of two days.

Les Manning, Oakland patrolman, was elected president of the association. Other new officers of the organization are Clarence Taylor, Berkeley, first vice-president; Fred Lotsey, San Francisco, second vice-president; F. A. Leber, Richmond, third vice-president; E. McCluskey, Madera, secretary; F. A. Meek, Fresno, treasurer; Al Morrison, Modesto, sergeant-at-arms.

The clause in the motor vehicle act requiring a five day notice for the arrest of offenders against the traffic laws was condemned as a boon to criminals. Recommendations were made that the provision be amended or stricken entirely from the act.

Other resolutions in brief were as follows:

That the requirement that Patrolmen wear uniforms and be in plain view on the highway in order to testify against offenders hampers and defeats the vehicle act as a whole.

That the age minimum for operators be 17 for private vehicles and 18 for licensed chauffeurs.

That a fee be charged sufficient to cover the expense of examining applicants for licenses.

That driving while intoxicated be made a misdemeanor because of the difficulty of convicting offenders as felons.

That courts be required to note on the back of operators' cards convictions for serious violation of the vehicle laws in order to mark reckless drivers for special attention.

DURANT CREDITED WITH MAKING BIG PROFIT IN STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Behind the sensational advance in the stock of Cast Iron Pipe on the New York stock exchange, which is selling at 700 per cent more than its low of last year, Wall Street sees another step in the remarkable financial "comeback" of William C. Durant, who only a few years ago was deposed from the leadership of the General Motors Corporation with a loss estimated at $100,000,000.

Durant's activities in the stock market in the last two years have been of the character to put him in high place in the list of Wall Street's sensational operators. After his ejection from General Motors, his friends placed at his disposal $7,000,000 with which he organized Durant Motors and later the Durant Corporation, for the purpose of distributing stock to its employees.

FRACTIONAL LOTS.

Next Durant conceived the idea of buying blocks of stock in the market, splitting it up into fractional lots and selling certificates of ownership far and wide. He was roundly criticized for this exploit, that stood firmly behind his promotion and to take back stock which showed a loss.

Early in 1922, Durant came back to the stock market as a professional trader for his own account. He was credited with having accumulated 50,000 shares of Studebaker at $50 a share and selling it out above par and thus taking a profit of more than $4,000,000. He then turned his attention to Southern Railway, which was easily the leader in the upward movement of railroad stocks in 1923. His profits were even larger than in Studebaker, it was reported.

CAST IRON PIPE.

Last year when the stock of Cast Iron Pipe was being pushed around the market at $20 a share, many shrewd operators, including Durant, were attracted to it, principally because of the new developments of the business of the company, its valuable patents and the bright prospects for future earnings. As stock was accumulated, the price began to rise.

Early this year it reached 94. Since the total outstanding stock of the company is only 120,000 shares, it was comparatively easy for Durant to accumulate about 60,000 shares, which cost him in the vicinity of $55 a share. Then, when the bears started to sell short they were simply selling themselves into a trap and the more they tried to extricate themselves, the tighter the cords were drawn. Cast Iron Pipe soared this week to 139, a gain of 20 points over last week's low, and of 30 points over the price Durant paid for the stock. If sold at that price, Durant has another $5,000,000 to add to his trophy chest.

SHORTS UNEASY.

The question is being raised in Wall Street, will Cast Iron Pipe be another Stutz Motor? "Very little stock for sale," say specialists in the stock; a "free and open market," say the stock exchange authorities unofficially. Meanwhile the shorts are said to be uneasy and Durant is sitting tight.

BROKER OBTAINS $200,000 OPTIONS ON RICHMOND LOT

RICHMOND, Nov. 14.—A real estate boom in Richmond is anticipated following the announcement that John Weist, Seattle real estate broker, has obtained options to buy within 48 hours almost every important building site in the business district, and proposes to begin extensive building operations within 60 days.

More than $150,000 worth of the most valuable business property, including one building now under construction, has been tied up by Weist, while it was learned that the options to buy or lease property in his possession aggregated about $200,000.

Weist, who was in Richmond today, declined to disclose the identity of those who are behind his activities other than to say that he represented a syndicate comprising outside capital.

Among the lands on which he has taken options are:

Northeast corner of Macdonald avenue and Tenth street, occupied by the Standard Oil Company, valued at $32,000. Southwest corner of Macdonald avenue and Tenth street, owned by E. M. Tilden and valued at $50,000. The Crow property, with a frontage of 50 feet on the south side of Macdonald avenue, between Tenth and Eleventh streets, value $16,000. Northeast corner of MacDonald avenue and Eleventh street, with building under construction, owned by Leo Persico, value $45,000. Three lots at the corner of Tenth street and Nevin avenue.

PRINCE ERNST IS WINNER OF OLD SAXON CASTLE

Now Resides in Moritzburg Famous as Seat of Saxony Kings.

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—Prince Ernst Heinrich of Saxony, youngest son of the former Saxon king, and his family, are now becoming settled in the famous Moritzburg castle, near Dresden which in the settlement of the Saxonian state, was recently awarded to the family of its former royal ruler, King Frederick Augustus.

Prince Ernst, who was one of the officers of the German army that the Allies demanded be extradited from Germany in February, 1920, married Princess Sophie of Luxemburg, fourth sister of Grand Duchess Charlotte Adelgonde of Luxembure, May 13, 1921, and their union has been blessed by two beautiful children Prince Albert, born March 9, 1922, and Prince Georges December 2, 1923.

After the marriage of the prince and princess, which was attended by former Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria and his bride, the former Grand Duke and Duchess of Baden and former King Frederick Augustus and many other distinguished personages, they lived for a time in Munich, but when Saxony recognized Moritzburg castle as the property of the former royal family their love of suburban life drew the young folks there.

Morrison principal of the Alvarado Grammar school, was appointed chairman of the committee. H. M. Springer, H. M. Bartlett and O. J. Emory, interested men of the city, were also present at the organization meeting.

Hayward Scouts to Build Bird Houses

HAYWARD, Nov. 14.—Thirty members of the Hayward Boy Scout Troop No. 1, of which Jacob Harder is the master, will busy themselves with the construction of bird houses at a meeting in the manual training headquarters of the B-street grammar school tonight. The finished products will be sent in to the county headquarters at Oakland for entry in the contest under way for scout efficiency.

Baby Tortured Day and Night by Eczema

Resinol Stopped Itching and Healed Sick Skin

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 10.—"I thought it might interest you to know how much Resinol has done for my baby. Her face was covered with scabs and the itching was so severe I had to keep stockings on her hands to keep her from scratching. I had to be up at night as it bothered her so she could not sleep. Two doctors, one of them a skin specialist, told me she had eczema. I tried several remedies, but nothing helped, so when I read in the paper about Resinol, I thought I would give it a trial. I can't praise it enough, for it has done wonders for the baby's skin and she sleeps all through the night now. I would advise anyone with a similar case to try Resinol Ointment." The variety is about the first to bloom in this district, and is demanding comparatively large prices in the bay district markets.

Because of the advance season, the stems of the flower are very short, detracting somewhat from the market value, although the general quality is excellent, it is agreed.

CURRY TO DECIDE ON CHANGING OF CHAIRMANSHIP

Question of Retaining Territories Assignment or Heading Flood Control.

By LEO A. McCLATCHY.
SPECIAL BY WIRE TO THE TRIBUNE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. — Whether to continue at the head of the house committee on territories, or whether to accept the chairmanship of the flood control committee, is a question Representative Charles F. Curry of Sacramento will be called upon to decide when the sixty-ninth congress is organized.

Curry now is chairman of territories. He also is the ranging Republican on flood control, the chairmanship of which will be relinquished at the close of the sixty-eighth congress by Representative Thomas D. Schall, who will replace Magnus Johnson as senator from Minnesota.

Curry was called upon to make the same decision in the present congress, and decided to hold on to the territories assignment, permitting Schall to take the helm at flood control.

Because of his familiarity with the problems of Alaska and Hawaii, the Californian is being urged by friends and residents of those two territories to retain his present post. On the other hand, some of his California constituents feel that he could best serve their interests as chairman of flood control. This committee passes upon flood control legislation affecting the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers, both of which are in Curry's district.

Governor Wallace R. Farrington of Hawaii is in Washington, and plans to confer with Curry, who is expected here within a few days. Farrington will urge him not to make the change.

In the event Curry should decide to accept the flood control chairmanship, his place on territories probably would go to Representative James G. Strong of Kansas.

Divorces in Butte County Increase

GRIDLEY, November 14 — According to records of the county clerk's office in Oroville, the number of divorces applied for during the 30-day period ending November first were 15 against 13 for the same month last year. Whereas last year during the same month all but one of those starring suits for separation were women, three men were among the complainants during October, 1924.

NEWS and GOSSIP
FROM STAFF WRITERS AT HOME AND ABROAD

By HARRY R. FLORY,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Having had the opportunity of watching several exhibition games between the New York Giants and the Chicago White Sox, English sporting critics have reached the almost unanimous conclusion that baseball won't do as an English sport.

Baseball is a jumble of "beauty and ugliness," and altogether monotonous, was the verdict.

"An innings by the dullest professional cricketer who ever dawdled through leaden hours has infinite variety compared with the thwackings of a baseball star," declared one writer. "It is never likely to become a national pastime, because it is better to watch than to play."

Only one writer had the audacity to say that "baseball made cricket look anaemic."

The charge of monotony as compared with cricket is hard to understand, except that in cricket the spectator may vary the program by making several trips to handy booths for tea and other liquid refreshments and each time on returning to his place in the stands may be practically certain to see the same player still at bat.

"Attaboy," is the American national slogan, some of those who listened to the chatter of the players on the field and the Americans in the bleachers decided. Cricketers, they say, who never hear any other expression of encouragement than "well played, sir," were pained by the levity of both players and spectators.

"Can you imagine Jack Hobbs (England's most famous cricketer) taking up his position at the wicket and being asked by the stumper whether he knew if his mother was out?" was one query. The comments of baseline coachers, it was concluded, were nothing but "outrageous propaganda."

Baseball players' uniforms came in for an excessive amount of kidding. The "flannelled jerseys, plus-three trousers and Steve Donoghue caps" weren't so bad, it was decided, although they did conceal the grace of the perfect athletes, but the allocation of "arm up" to catchers and umpires was considered very amusing.

"The catcher is in a coat of mail and the umpire had triple wadding round his breast, proving that umpires must be a valuable race in the U. S. A.," commented one writer.

What struck the spectators most was that the batsman was not protected at all, although he had the ball thrown at him as violently as possible."

Unprejudiced commentators admitted the pitchers were able to control the ball in an uncanny way, that the fielders were almost perfect in their play and that the catchers were not far short of miracle men and exceedingly brave.

But what was truly amazing was that the batter was ever able to hit the ball at all.

"He has only a thinnish kind of a club and the pitcher is entitled to throw the ball as fast as he can and with any kind of bodily contortion that may hinder the batsman's view."

"Gee, you gotta hand it out to those boys," wrote one critic, who believed he had absorved a bit of the atmosphere and slang of the game. But he spoiled it all by adding tthat he had learned a real American yell, "Rah, rah, rah, rah, White Sawks, Yah."

Most writers were not quite sure whether or not Babe Ruth was among those present. One even made the suggestion that George Bernard Shaw attended the first game solely to see the famous Home Run King, about whom Shaw is reported once to have made the famous statement: "Whose baby is Routh?"

But the "Babe" wasn't there and there was no home runs, for the proximity of the bleachers made a two-base ground rule necessary.

ROTARY CLUB TO AID CITY'S POOR ON THANKSGIVING

Plans for Giving One Hundred Baskets of Food Laid at Luncheon.

Plans for distribution to 100 Oakland families of Thanksgiving baskets were discussed at the regular meeting of the Oakland Rotary Club at the Hotel Oakland yesterday noon. District Governor Harry Mason attended the meeting and gave a short talk on the history and growth of the Rotary movement.

According to Mason, this district is the largest in International Rotary. There are 86 clubs in the district, 81 of them in California, three in Nevada and two in the Hawaiian Islands. Mason outlined the growth of the organization from the founding of the first club in Chicago in 1905 to the present day, when Rotary clubs are established in tweny-eight countries.

ROVING GYPSIES DEPLETED BY WAR

BUDAPEST, Nov. 14. — The gypsies of the world are said to be dying out. This is especially true of the nomadic tribes which have roamed about Europe since the beginning of the fourteenth century. They have not been able to kee pace with modern civilization.

While definite figures are lacking, it has been estimated that today, in all countries, there are less than 600,000 gypsies, while 25 years ago there were more than a million scattered about the earth's surface. Hungary and Rumania have today over half the gypsy population of the world of these approximately 100,000 speak only the gypsy language.

There are gypsy settlements in both Hungary and Rumania, as well as other European countries, where the gypsy has settled down, entering trade in the villages, tilling the soil or serving as musicians and singers. But there are still many thousands wandering over the continent and eking out an existence by fortune telling, giving musical concerts or making minor repairs for the housewife encountered on the way.

The war is responsible for the decrease in number of nomadic gypsies in Europe, it is declared. During the years that the armies fought across the country after another the wandering gypsy was driven from his favorite fields of travel, and he has never "come back" in numbers anything like those which existed prior to 1914.

German Business Seeks Entry to Dutch Colonies

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 14.—Now that Germany is deprived of her pre-war colonies, German business interests are seeking in many ways to gain a footing in Holland's eastern and western possessions.

A request to the government of the Dutch East Indies by Duke Adolf Friedrich of Mecklenburg for a concession to exploit the natural resources of Dutch New Guinea has been refused. The duke proposed a 75 years monopoly which seemed excessive to the Dutch authorities, and there were other difficulties in connection with native labor and control by white men.

Another German group, according to the Telegraaf, has made overtures in connection with a big scheme of planting and refining sugar in Dutch Guiana.

Greenland Eskimos Declared Superior

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 14.—After an absence of three years while mapping the archipelago between Greenland and America, during which he was the first white man to cross Baffinland, the Danish explorer, Peder Freuchen, returned to Copenhagen to publish the maps and books concerning his discoveries. Freuchen brought with him a unique botanical and zoological collection.

The Greenland Eskimo is far superior in hunting, courage and economy to the American Eskimo, he said in an interview.

Mirrors Strange to South Sea Natives

BERKELEY, Nov. 14.—Dr. William R. Herms, professor of parasitology at the University of California, returned recently from the South Seas with the description of natives on the Fanning group of islands who were shown their first mirrors when his party arrived. When photographs of them were taken, he explained, they often failed to recognize themselves. [illegible] ently were strange to them.

He found these natives fond of adornment and very primitive in their habits. They were friendly.

Dr. Herms said there was evidence that the islands had been occupied in ancient times by Polynesians. There were indications, too, that stamps of the Malay and the American Indian apparently had been contributed to the native race. He saw no point of contact with the African negroes, however.

ARCHERY IN FRANCE.

PARIS, Nov. 12.—Shooting with bows and arrows is far from being extinct as a sport in France. A competition for a national prize recently received 2896 entries.

Incorporation of Aptos Ranch Filed

SANTA CRUZ, Nov. 14.—Articles of incorporation of the Aptos company, with a capital stock of a million dollars, were filed yesterday with the county clerk. The company is handling the former Aptos rancho property, once owned by the late Claus Spreckels.

The directors are DeForrest M. Neice, Herbert W. Packard, Alfred Grundy and John L. Semple of [illegible] Karl W. Jenter of Huntington Park.

In view of these facts the committee [illegible] no conclusive figures could be established regarding rates of consumption but it recommended that the governments should furnish all the information at their disposal regarding the number of opium smokers [illegible].

Immigrant Girl, 24, Wins $13,500 Prize With First Novel

By FRANK GETTY,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14—The soil, which called to Knut Hamsun and other Scandinavians, wouldn't let little Martha Ostenso rest until she had translated it into a language foreign to her, but which she used to such effect that she stands today the winner of a $13,500 prize for a first novel offered by Dodd, Mead & Co. and the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation.

Martha was two or so when her parents brought her to this country from Norway. Now she is 24 and her first novel promises to be the sensation of the winter books.

The novel is called "The Passionate [illegible]" but it has nothing to do with the popular modern [illegible] Miss Ostenso said today. Instead it is the story of a struggle of a family to rise above the soil to things of the spirit.

A little almost blonde, bobhaired girl with thin, sharp, not unattractive features and the keen blue eye of the Northland, Miss Ostenso has been a school teacher for a while in Minnesota.

Then the folks moved to Manitoba. Here was the soil and the struggle for existence and the [illegible] of faces that has caught the fancy and enchanted the pen of more than one Scandinavian author.

Saturday is Opening Day—a day upon which Renod's will formally dedicate their new shop. You are cordially invited to visit Renod's tomorrow. For our Initial Showing, we have gathered from the world's style centers a delightful and alluring array of feminine apparel. Our buyers have sent from those recognized centers of fashion . . . Frocks with the subtle lure of Paris in their slim lines—in their gracious draperies—in the tantalizing sparkle of dew-like bead work or in metal cloth like a slim streak of silver moonlight. Frocks with the trimness, with the dash and verve of the Parisienne herself behind their correct simplicity. —and the Coats! The leading successes of great designers hold sway. The materials, of course, the newest—the soft woolens and suede-finish cloths—the pile fabrics. The fur trimmings are used lavishly. All the desired furs—prominent is the fashionable muskrat. The shades cover an almost endless range.

Renod's Initial Showing tomorrow, will undoubtedly be a brilliant event. We would indeed esteem it an honor to have you as a visitor during the course of the day. 75 TO TAKE RITES AT PLEASANTON

PLEASANTON, Nov. 14.—Archbishop Edward J. Hanna will confirm at St. Augustine's church on next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. About seventy-five children and adults to be confirmed have been in preparation for the past few months with Father McGrattan, pastor of the local Catholic church. This week some of the sisters from St. Michaels' convent of Livermore have been assisting.

It has been four years since a class was confirmed here. Assisting in the services on Sunday will be clergymen from the various parishes in this end of the county. Plans have been made for enlarging the seating capacity of the church.

One of the most important local real estate transactions of recent weeks was the sale of the Giraud property on Rose avenue and the Christensen property on Angelita street to Fiorio and Vizzolini. This firm has been conducting business in the Giraud building for the past ten years and recently decided to acquire the place in order to enlarge their store.

Mrs. Rose S. Bairos, who died at her home on Rose avenue Monday evening, was buried Wednesday from her late residence. A mass was said at St. Augustine's church by Father Patrick MacGrattan, followed by interment in the family plot at the local Catholic cemetery. She leaves a husband, three daughters and three sons to mourn her.

PSYCHIC SOCIETY FORMED.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 14.—The "Aquarian Institute of Progressive Thought," formed to "teach psychology and its application to daily life," has filed articles of incorporation with Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan. The organization, which is headed by Fred H. Lynds of Oakland, also plans to "develop the psychic powers of the mind."

Martinez Lauded on Citizenship Classes

MARTINEZ, Nov. 14.—Compliment was paid the Americanization classes conducted at Alhambra high school by Mrs. Ann Godfrey, naturalization representative of the Department of Labor, when she told Contra Costa clubwomen at the county federation meeting at Pittsburg yesterday that candidates for naturalization from Martinez were the best prepared of any in the state. Mrs. Godfrey's statement was made on observations at naturalization examinations throughout California.

Surveys have shown, Mrs. Godfrey declared, that there are 95,000 persons in California eligible to citizenship. Of this number she declared 10,0000 are illiterates.

Child hygiene was the topic of an address by Dr. Ellen Stadtmuller of the State Board of Health. She discussed the Shepard-Towner bill and characterized the aid it extended to mothers in rural districts as one of the greatest blessings that could be conferred on them.

The sessions of the federation were held in the Pittsburg city hall. At noon ladies of the Pittsburg Woman's Club were hostesses at luncheon at Hotel Los Medanos.

MURDER CHARGES LAID TO GANG PLOT

By O. L. SCOTT.
BY CONSOLIDATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Nov. 14—The last feeble flareback of a broken vice ring, once all powerful—that's the explanation most readily found here for the issuance of warrants on the complaint of convicted slayers, charging four of Rock Island's most prominent citizens with conspiring to commit murder.

Running through the move is seen the hand of John Looney Sr., for years a directing power in the underworld forces, whose son, John Jr., the four men are charged with having conspired to kill. These men are John W. Potter, publisher of the Rock Island Argus; John M. Colligan, Potter's managing editor; Thomas Haege, clothier and former Republican county committee chairman, and Jake Ramser, prominent jeweler. The complainants, A. W. Billburg, former leader in the vice clique, and George Holsapple, his henchman, have been convicted and sentenced for the killing of young John Looney, slain October 6, 1922.

The whole story of vice rule and corruption that held this river city in its grip for nearly 30 years, under the domination of Looney and his Rock Island News, a weekly newspaper alleged to have been devoted exclusively to blackmail and questionable scandal, was outlined to the writer today by those who broke his power. They see in the warrants a flimsy last attempt to frighten the better element.

There is little thought by the better element that the case will go beyond Monday's preliminary hearing on the murder warrants.

But the charges have brought an echo of old times when Looney rode roughshod over all who opposed him in his domination of city affairs through gang control. Those were times of murder, with nine persons killed here in 1922 alone. Rock Island was a wide open town in every sense of the word, a river front settlement as tough as they are made.

This man had come to Rock Island 30 years ago, starting his Rock Island News. Through its influence as a scandal publication he gained prestige among the operators of illicit enterprises. Soon he was controlling vice patronage, which included toll in 1922, according to a state investigation, from over 100 resorts.

In 1911 the citizens, outraged at conditions, had stormed the city jail and an order of the mayor had shot into it killing three persons. In 1921, Looney's newspaper plant was dynamited.

About that time two of his editors were sentenced to prison for a year for criminal libel. Looney was against the wall. Then came the big 1922 flare-up. The government sent federal men here to investigate. Bill Gabel, one of the lords of the underworld, opened up to the inspectors. He was killed.

The Rock Island Argus opened an attack on Looney. Later Looney and his son were attacked while in their automobile in front of a local hotel. The son was shot and killed while the elder Looney escaped to his 20,000-acre ranch in New Mexico.

CHINA CIVIL WAR DUE TO QUARREL OF OLD FRIENDS

Chang Tso-lin and Wu Pei-fu Outstanding Figures in Controversy.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14. — "What's it all about?" This question is asked by the average newspaper reader who glances casually at an occasional front page account of the civil war in China. For the benefit of those who are not students of Far Eastern affairs, the following explanatory digest, as gleaned from the various news reports of the Chinese situation, is given:

China, with its more than 400,000,000 population, has been in a more or less chaotic state since the overthrow of the Manchu dynasty in 1911 and the formation of the Chinese Republic. Chinese presidents have come and gone, the country has been divided into warring factions headed by "tuchuns," or military provincial governors, and a large percentage of the population has been constantly under arms.

OLD FRIENDS NOW FOES.

General Chang Tso-lin and General Wu Pei-fu, former friends but now bitter enemies, are the two outstanding figures in the current controversy. These two leaders joined forces in 1920 to overthrow the famous Anfu club, a monarchist organization which threatened the new government. With Tsao Kun, the last Chinese president, then inspector-general of Chihli, General Chang became the controlling power of Peking.

General Wu permitted things to continue until 1922, when, declaring Chang was establishing a military dictatorship in the capital, he drove the latter back to Manchuria. Chang began at once to build up an army, manufacture munitions and have his officers trained in modern military tactics. For two years China has expected a renewal of hostilities between the two militarists.

ATTACKS WU'S FORCES.

Two somewhat inconspicuous tuchuns "started the fireworks." In the latter part of last August, General Chi Shih-yuan, military governor of Kiangsu, apparently with the approval of Tsao Kun, attacked the forces of General Lu Yung-Hsiang, the Chegiang military governor in control of Shanghai, and, with the aid of General Wu Pei-fu's forces, finally took that city.

In the meantime, General Wu decided it was time to eliminate Chang Tso-lin and thus bring about a reunification of China. General Chang, the Manchurian "war-lord," decided at about the same time that General Wu should be eliminated. So Chang declared war against the Peking forces and charted his army toward Chihli. He met Wu's troops outside the Great Wall and fighting continued for several weeks over a front of many miles. The most sanguinary battles took place not far from Shanhaikwan, near the eastern border of Chihli.

Oesterreich Murder Trial Again Delayed

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—The notorious Oesterreich "closet" murder here two years ago, in which Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich was charged with killing her husband, Fred, in their palatial Los Angeles home, will not go to trial this year. Mrs. Oesterreich pleading ill health, one of her attorneys succeeded in obtaining the tenth postponement of the case today. The trial was originally set for August, 1922.

Says---Now Stiff Joints Must Go!

New Discovery Limbers 'Em Up and Even the Creaking Ceases.

Yes: it's true—the world progresses.

All you have to do nowadays to limber up that stiff, rusty knee joint is to squeeze a half inch of miracle working substance from a tube.

Then rub it on the offending part for about a quarter of a minute or until it soaks through the skin and disappears on its errand of mercy.

Then read the evening newspapers and go to bed.

The chances are that your misbehaving knee joint will lose its "creak" while you are dreaming about the high fences you used to leap when you were a youngster.

"And in the morning," says one who has tried the new discovery, "you'll feel so happy that you'll want to jump into your sportiest clothes and walk briskly down the [illegible] that you are not as old as they think you are."

Joint-Ease they call this wonder working substance, for the reason that when ordinary remedies fail to limber up the stiff, inflamed rheumatic joint, or reduce the swelling, Joint-Ease succeeds.

It's a good name for a good, clean, penetrating prescription that in just a few months has proven to a multitude of people that lame, swollen, distorted joints can speedily have the kinks taken out of them and work as smoothly as ever.

But Joint-Ease is for bothersome joints, whether in knee, ankle, hip, shoulder, spine or finger, and for that purpose its sale is immense.

All druggists have a big supply of it and druggists everywhere report a big demand.

Every rheumatic sufferer ought to send today for free book, "The Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism" (just out). Address H. P. Clearwater, box 800, Hallowell, Maine.—Advertisement.

RIVAL IN CABINET GRATIFIES ASTOR

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Viscountess Astor today denied that she was chagrined that the Duchess of Atholl received the only ministerial appointment a woman won in the new Baldwin cabinet. She outranks the duchess in seniority in parliament.

"I am gratified that the Duchess of Atholl was included in the government," she said, answering reports that she was "peeved."

"That's not my work. My job is to ginger up the government."

Air Cab Service to Form Between Large Cities of Country.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Within a year, residents of leading cities and suburbs may hail an air taxi via radio, puff a cigar in a wind-protected cabin and complacently listen to a radio program while the taxi-meter ticks out twenty cents a mile.

Fleets of flying super-jitneys are planned for Chicago, Boston, New York, Detroit, Baltimore, Washington, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus, Dayton, Ann Arbor, Toledo, Buffalo, St. Louis, Kansas City, Milwaukee, St. Paul, Battle Creek and Los Angeles, according to Colonel H. E. Hartney, American flying ace, who heads a company created to build and distribute the air cabs. Eventually the system will be extended southward and to other points, Colonel Hartney told International News Service in an exclusive interview today.

The air cabs are to be painted yellow and will have a cruising radius of 250 miles, he said. The machines will have a maximum speed of 100 miles an hour and be able to land comfortably in a four-acre patch.

SAFETY FEATURES

One of the safety features of these air cabs will be the Bellama wing or "fish life" wing which prevents a "skid-off in the wings," the cause of 95 per cent of aviation accidents, according to Hartney. An aid to the strength of the plane is given in biting braces which do away with struts and wires, he said. The model plane has been under experiment for the past two and one-half years, Hartney said, in which time it has never had an accident.

"The airplane assembles the best features of a variety of airplanes," said Hartney. "It cost $35,000 to build but the duplicate machines we will begin shortly to manufacture in Dayton, Ohio, will cost only $3000. When we apply the Ford system of production we hope to lower the cost to $1000 a plane. We figure we need but 1000 flights at 60 miles each to pay for a machine."

Colonel Hartney said the air cab company expected to cash in heavily on the "joy riding propensity of American youth—including flappers." He said additional income would be derived from messenger service, advertising and light express service.

CREATE "AIR SPIRIT."

"This project will be the salvaging of commercial air navigation in America," said Colonel Hartney. "We led the world in air mail service and hold all the aviation records but so far it has done us no good. In aviation power we rank tenth, with France first and Japan second.

"The use of air cabs will get the American people into the 'air spirit,' it will increase the number of landing fields and probably induce the passage of "flying laws" by Congress. At present anybody and everybody can fly a plane regardless of their competence."

Colonel Hartney commanded the first pursuit squadron of the A. E. F., in which Quentin Roosevelt and Eddie Rickenbacker served. He was shot down four times and his citations include the D. S. C., French Legion of Honor, Croix de Guerre and Italian silver medal for valor.

Fisherman, Fined, Accuses 3 Others

GRIDLEY, Nov. 14. — After pleading guilty to the charge of spearing a salmon within 150 feet of the Sutter Butte Canal Company dam and paying a $100 fine, A. H. Kunde, of Yuba City, swore to a warrant charging Andy Wilson and two others with disturbing the peace by using insulting language in presence of Kunde's wife and sister. Kunde was arrested by Deputy Game Warden George Thompson of Gridley.

Funeral Held For Spreckles Farmer

SALINAS, Nov. 14.—The funeral of Richard T. Harkins, beet farmer of Spreckels, dead here at the age of 40, was held today. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Ann Harkins, by two sisters, Mrs. Mamie Dontanville of Los Angeles and Mrs. Chester Litt of Dunsmuir, and one brother, John Harkins of Watsonville. Requiem mass was read at 9:30 at Sacred Heart church.

Domestic Heroines in Our Homes

Women who lead a domestic life seem to listen to every call of duty excepting the supreme one that tells them to guard their health. As long as they can drag themselves around women continue to work. Necessity to keep on their feet all day when overtired, or sitting in cramped positions day in and day out often brings on ailments from which women suffer tortures. For fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been strengthening women and overcoming such ailments. Sickness and pain vanish under its influence and thousands of women have been benefited by it.—Advertisement.

Men of 50 Urged To Use Cosmetics To Rival Youths

International News Service Staff Correspondent.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Old age is a crime in the world of business, according to Neal R. Andrews of New York, in an address here.

"Men fifty years old," said Andrews, "are classed as second-hand men. They have depreciated in value. Their minds may be as alert as ever. But physically they no longer have their former energy, initiative and enthusiasm. Business men do not want them. They are human used cars.

"This is a young man's day. Vocational education is turning out experts for every job. Young men are eager, alert, full of ideas and physical energy. It is young men that employers welcome.

"If a man at fifty has accumulated a competence or has a permanent job, his future is safe. If he has neither money nor a job he is flotsome drifting inevitably toward dependency or the poor house. Jobless at fifty, a man's case is almost hopeless.

"Old age is one of the nation's big problems. It can be solved. Old age can be camouflaged through personal grooming. The day is fast approaching when cosmetics will be commonly used by men as a measure of self-preservation. The jobless old man can find a job only if he makes himself appear young."

Drink Parlor Man Accused of Bribery

SALINAS, Nov. 14.—As the result of an alleged unsuccessful attempt to secure police protection for an oriental gambling joint in Chinatown, Netsua Tagawa, said to be a recent Japanese arrival from San Martin, is being held at the county jail in default of $1500 bonds each on two charges of bribing an officer. The accused is proprietor of a drink parlor at 110 Kake street.

N. H. Rader, a special officer, and Ervin Collins, chief of the traffic squad, are witnesses against Tagawa. According to Rader, the Japanese last week made him several offers of $10 weekly, for the privilege of conducting a percentage poker game, as well as for tips on impending liquor raids.

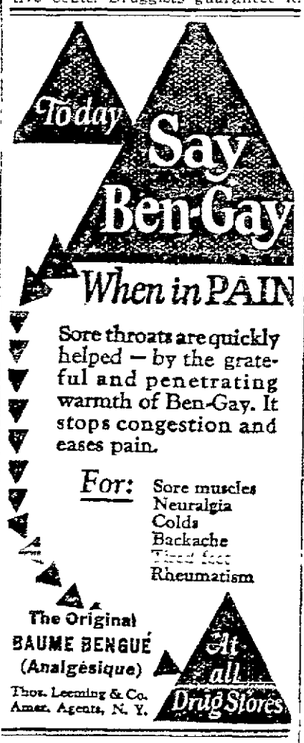

A trap was set for Tagawa and Collins is said to have been a witness to two occasions on which Tagawa gave Rader alleged protection money.

PIMPLES ON FACE AND HANDS

Were Sore and Festered. Cuticura Healed.

"I worked in a boiler room and the dust caused my face and the backs of my hands to break out in pimples. The pimples were a little larger than a pinhead and disfigured my face. They were quite sore and some of them festered and scaled over.

"I tried several remedies but got no good results. A friend told me about Cuticura Soap and Ointment so I purchased some and after using them about six weeks the pimples disappeared. I was healed." (Signed) Howard Mitchell, Spooner, Wis., March 1, 1924.

Central America Looking to U. S. For Engineers

Central America is looking to the United States, and particularly the Pacific coast, for its much needed crop of young engineers to handle the rapid development of the countries above the Panama Canal. This is according to Ivan Casorla, 2825 Gather street, Berkeley, who recently arrived here from San Jose, Costa Rica, and is now a student of the Polytechnic College of Engineering in Oakland. His father is an extensive coffee and sugar planter in Costa Rica.

Young Casorla was given the opportunity to study in this country or in Europe for his engineering career. The young Central American and South American is adopting the viewpoint of the North American of spot cash, and this will mean an ever increasing business for the United States Casorla maintains.

AMERICA RAPIDLY WASTING ITS OIL, EXPERT DECLARES

Alexander Forward Predicts Time When Supply Will Not Equal Demand.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 14.—An appalling waste of America's vital mineral resources, particularly petroleum, which is certain to become the fuel of the future and to furnish the world's heat according to Alexander Forward of New York, [illegible] of the American Gas Association, who is here for the convention of the National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners.

Stating that the nation's future is being built upon its fuel supply, Forward said there is no permanent reliance in oil or in water power and that at present the country would have to depend mainly upon its coal deposits.

"In the year 1923," the speaker declared, "the fuel requirements of our automobiles alone will amount to 250,000,000 barrels of oil annually, or more than the total oil output when the world war began. The railroads are now using 50,000,000 barrels a year as locomotive fuel. Shortly the tide will turn. Perhaps within ten or 15 years, possibly in much less time the supply of oil in any country will be totally insufficient to meet the demand.

"It is equally futile for America to pin her hopes to water power," Mr. Forward declared, "for our industrial plants are now using 60,000,000 horsepower, and at the present rate of increase they will need 100,000,000 horsepower in a dozen years. The most rapid development of water power which public policy will permit cannot save enough coal to even keep up with the increasing demand.

"We must rely on coal," he stated, "and this despite the fact that by the year 1940 we shall in the United States be burning as much coal each year as is now consumed by the entire population of the earth. Furthermore, there is no tangible hope of lower coal prices, and it is practically certain that the cost will [illegible] case."

According to Mr. Forward, the solution to the fuel problem lies in the economical use of coal in the manufacture of gas and such flexibility in gas rates and gas heating standards as will enable the gas companies of the country to give the greatest service in heat for the least money.

"Sure! we'll have it WARM in a minute!"

REFUGEES ADD TO DANGERS OF NEW BALKAN OUTBREAK

Ousted Nationals Suffering Hardships Rouse Old Antagonisms.

By CONSTANTINE STEPHANOVE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SOFIA, Nov. 12.—The problem of refugees is adding daily to the dangers of another Balkan outbreak.

Expulsion of nationals of one Balkan country over the borders into another Balkan country has created a situation which is rapidly growing more serious and is arousing anew the slumbering embers of national hatred.

Bulgaria now harbors no less than half a million refugees, one-tenth of its entire population being refugees. The provisions for these unfortunates are entirely inadequate and they are living in most unsanitary quarters, suffering from unspeakable hardships.

The Angora government is now apparently intent upon expelling another half million Greeks from Asia Minor and Constantinople which will mean another influx of homeless wanderers into the Balkans.

Greece, suffering from economic strictures, faces the problem of caring for nearly 2,000,000 refugees of Grecian nationality. To make room for these she has been forced to clear Thrace and Macedonia of alien population and is settling her Asiatic nationals in those regions. The expulsions to make room for refugees have merely resulted in the creation of more refugees and created ill feeling.

Bulgar nationals in Thrace and Macedonia protest that they are being driven from their homes by the Greeks in a high-handed manner and charge that they are being deprived of their crops and their cattle.

Bulgaria has a Grecian population of about 50,000, but the Bulgarian government doesn't see fit to retaliate.

Meanwhile, the people of the Balkans are losing faith in the League of Nations, because it has failed to act in the face of repeated appeals. Hatred for the Turks grows apace and across the borders of the tiny Balkan countries the flames of inter-racial passion are being fanned high.

Wardens of Nature

LUTHER BURBANK, who watches over the life of new [illegible], but [illegible] his own health, is constantly guarded by Dr. Joseph H. Shaw, his physician and pal.

Wizard Who Guards Plants Is Guarded By M. D. Pal

JULIAN I. MAYAR.

SANTA ROSA, Nov. 14.—Probably no man in California would be kept busier than Luther Burbank if he accepted the invitations of all the cities and organizations which would have him as their guest. Every day's mail—and they [illegible] [illegible]—brings scores of requests for the scientist's presence at meetings.

Most of these [illegible] find their way to the waste basket with no other attention than an acknowledgement of their receipt stating that the plant wizard finds it impossible to attend owing to the stress of other work.

Some of the requests, however, are given more consideration, especially if the affair happens to particularly interest the horticulturist.

And if such is the case, it is to Dr. Joseph H. Shaw that Burbank makes his appeal. And it is on Dr. Shaw too that the decision rests. If it is the belief of the local physician, a close friend of Burbank, the occasion will not overtax the strength of the scientist, and his general health is good, there is strong probability that Burbank will honor the gathering with his presence. But should Dr. Shaw rule to the contrary, [illegible] it, and [illegible] of regret follow.

On Dr. Shaw's shoulders fall the duties of guarding America's most illustrious plant breeder. Dr. Shaw is a visitor daily at the Burbank home and if his friend is menaced with even the most trivial of ills he is there almost constantly until all danger has been removed.

These two are the best of pals.

Never were two men more congenial. The physician finds his most pleasing hours of relaxation in watching the work of the scientist who spends eight hours a day in his laboratories and when the work is over and the two are seated at the fireside it is to medical science that the conversation drifts. Their work is not so far separated after all. One devotes himself to correction of the human ills and the other to that of the ills of the plant world.

Only recently Dr. Shaw accompanied Burbank to Stockton where thousands paid homage to his most widely known creation the Burbank potato which was the incentive for the big celebration in the San Joaquin valley metropolis. The scientist later remarked that it was the most enjoyable visit he had made in years. He was for two days the honored guest of the city and in token of his work was presented with a solid gold potato which he now proudly wears as a watch fob.

The next public appearance of Santa Rosa's noted citizen will be in San Francisco today at a meeting of the Science League, if—Dr. Shaw agrees. Dr. Shaw never gives consent until the last minute.

And if Burbank is present, so will be his physician.

DANCING IN GRAVEYARD.

WORK TO START ON PITTSBURG PLANT

PITTSBURG, Nov. 14.—Ground will be broken in the near future for the new factory of the California Wire & Cable company, it was indicated this week, when the Santa Fe Railroad company put a large crew to work laying spur tracks and switches to the site connecting with the Santa Fe main line.

The five-acre tract recently purchased by the cable company lies immediately south of the Columbia Steel company's new sheet mill. The proposed $1,000,000 factory is for the manufacture of insulated cables for electrical purposes, and will be similar to its plant in Orange.

'TRUE PRAYER' SECT HOLD LIFE, DEATH ILLUSIONS

"Practitioner" Declares This Material World Is But a Dream.

EDINBURGH, Nov 8—The Society for Spreading the Knowledge of True Prayer, which has its headquarters in Edinburgh, is surely the most astounding of all the peculiar religious sects that have sprung up in Britain in recent years. Its chief tenets are:

Birth is an illusion
Life is an illusion
Death is an illusion
Illness does not exist and never did exist.

Miracles are being performed daily as in the time of Christ two thousand years ago

Heaven and hell are here on earth and you can "will" yourself into either of them

The society draws its adherents mostly from women. Its leader, known as "The Practitioner," is Mrs. Agnes Morrison, who conducts her meetings daily in a brightly lighted, tastefully decorated room where there is always a pleasant fire and plenty of comfortable chairs probably as a preparatory "illusion" for entry into heaven

THE WORLD "A DREAM."

'The Practitioner," in an interview, said

'This material world is a dream It is simply an illusion It is purely hypnotic effect on the material senses The only reason we have disease sorrow want, discord, misfortune is because we have thought of them

Evil will only work as long as people support it by believing in it Cease believing in evil, cease thinking of it and that is the end of it The difficulty is to forget the evil

We deny the existence of evil All these things we see—poverty, poorhouses, sickness hospitals prisons—are all an illusion

'Human birth is an illusion death is an illusion All this will stop in short time and we will wake up or apparently wake up perfect beings in a perfect world governed by a perfect spirit, which is love'

'There is no such thing as cancer Mrs Morrison continued Cancer is hypnotism Now they will never cure cancer on that basis There is nothing to cure

WOMAN'S "CURES."

'Before realization of the allness of God you realize there is nothing but good infinite good"

Mrs Morrison told of numerous cases which she stated she had cured, covering a wide field of human ailments She said she had also treated successfully people who were in financial domestic or other difficulties

The fearful kneel in fervent prayer for long periods Then they go home to try to practice the leaders precepts for the cure of all troubles

(1) Think of God and heaven
(2) Deny the existence of evil in heaven
(3) Realize the existence of the opposite
(4) Realize why this is so
(5) Try to form a clear idea of God

INSURANCE POLICY PAYS FOR ITSELF

By CHESTER B. BAHN.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 14.—Believed to be the last life insurance policy containing a clause forbidding the holder to fight a duel, a policy issued by the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance company in 1865 to Orange P. Hyde, of this city, today has been paid to his widow, following his death. The policy was for $2200, and the widow received $2248.71.

While Hyde paid the concern a total of $1515.58 in premiums during the policy period of fifty-nine years, he received from it in dividends the sum of $1565.78, so that the insurance cost him nothing; in fact, paid him $50.20.

Although the present insurance policy is a rather complicated document, that held by Hyde was the acme of simplicity. The brevity of the policy gives no indication, however, of its strictness as regards the requirements laid down for its insurance.

"Provided always that in case the said Orange P. Hyde shall—without consent of the company previously obtained in writing—pass beyond the settled limits of the United States (except into the settled limits of Canada, Nova Scotia or New Brunswick); or visit between the first day of July and the first day of November, the states of Arkansas, Louisiana or Texas, or the states which lie south of the southern line of North Carolina or Tennessee; or enter as seaman, engineer, fireman, conductor or laborer, in any capacity, upon service on any sea, sound, lake, lake, river or railroad, or into any military or naval service whatsoever (the militia not in active service excepted); or in consequence of injury by his own hand or in consequence of a duel, or by reason of incompetence from the use of intoxicating liquors, or by the hand of Justice, or known violation of any law of these United States, or any other country which he may be permitted under this policy to visit or reside in—this policy shall be void, null and of no effect."

Is your home a one room house?

WHEN you leave the one room in your home that has heat, do you have a cold blast of air hit you in the face, sending chills to the marrow of your bones?

This is the situation in many hundreds of homes in the East Bay, and could be easily remedied for a very small outlay of money.

GLEEWOOD GAS FURNACES

offer you so much comfort and pleasure that the many thousands of Gleewood users wonder how they could have put up with such inadequate heating methods that they had struggled along with in many cases for years.

"Just Press the Button"

The operation is so simple that a child can operate without the least danger. The electric control is placed in some convenient place—by the bed, in the hall or living room. Small green lights show instantly the number of burners that are operating and what burners to turn on or off to maintain a certain temperature.

Your home is heated evenly—no smoke, dust or fumes.

No running up and down stairs to operate. No soot or grease.

By EDNA B. KINARD.

To quicken interest in modern literature there has been founded in Oakland a new group which will be known as the Booklovers section. The club which will open its membership to all who may be interested in books and their makers will meet but once a month, giving over the third Thursday to the programs.

Rev. Clarence Reed, minister of the Unitarian church, who follows most carefully the worth while things in literature will lead the discussions. The club will meet in Wendte hall, Fourteenth and Castro streets. The first lecture is announced for Thursday, November 20, at 3 p. m. At this time reviews will be presented of Ossendowski's two widely discussed volumes, "Men, Beasts and Gods" and "Man and Mystery in Asia."

The December program will take up "The Autobiography of Mark Twain" and Pupin's "From Immigrant to Inventor." January will be given to a consideration of Wilder's "Man's Prehistoric Past" and Klaatsch's "The Evolution and Progress of Mankind."

Stanislawsky's "My Life in Art" and Wiener's "The Contemporary Drama of Russia" will inspire the reviews in February. The following month "The New Decalogue of Science," (Wiggam) and "Mankind at the Crossroads" (East) will be commented on. The study programs will close in April with attention given to Mosher's "The Bibelot."

Mrs. E. B. Wastle is chairman of the special committee interesting itself in the booklovers section. Assisting her as members are Mrs. B. C. Eddy, Mrs. Robert Condie, Mrs. H. A. Nugent, Dr. Lolita Day Fenton, Mrs. Sheba.

CHECK PROPOSED ON DUELING CUBS

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 14.—Members of the next Mexican Chamber of Deputies will be asked to check their firearms at the door.

President-elect Calles indicated today that this edict would be one of his first acts after taking office. He will take this means of putting a stop to affrays such as resulted in the death of Deputy Gonzales Guerrero and the wounding of Louis Morones in the fusilade of shots in the chamber Wednesday night. Eighteen others have been wounded in shootings in the Chamber of Deputies in the last two years.

Expulsion will be the penalty for deputies who will not conform to the proposed ruling. The President-elect indicated that he would also impose severe penalties on deputies engaging in duels.

Munich Jails Radio Fan Without License

MUNICH, Nov. 14.—Fourteen days in jail was the sentence imposed by a local judge on a radio sponger who installed a receiving set in his home without the stipulated government license. Many others who have illegally erected radio apparatus will be hailed into court in the near future, the authorities say.

ACID STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Sufferers From Indigestion Or Stomach Trouble CUT THIS OUT

"Stomach trouble, dyspepsia, indigestion, sourness, gas, heartburn, food fermentation, etc., are caused nine times in ten by chronic acid stomach," says a well known authority.

Burning hydrochloric acid develops in the stomach at an alarming rate. The acid irritates and inflames the delicate stomach lining and often leads to gastritis accompanied by dangerous stomach ulcers. Don't dose an acid stomach with pepsin or artificial digestents that only give temporary relief from pain by driving the sour, fermenting food out of the stomach into the intestines.

Instead, neutralize or sweeten your acid stomach after meals with a little hot water and Bisurated Magnesia and not only will the pain vanish but your meals will digest naturally. There is nothing better than Bisurated Magnesia to sweeten and settle an acid stomach. It sinks into the harmful excess acid much as a sponge or blotting paper might and your stomach acts and feels fine in just a few minutes. Bisurated Magnesia can be obtained from any reliable druggist in either powder or tablet form. It is safe, reliable, easy and pleasant to use, is not a laxative and is not at all expensive.—Advertisement.

CHANG, TALKING PEACE, RETURNS TO BATTLE ZONE

Thousands of Graves and Much Loot Seen Around Changwangtao

By WILLIAM R. GILES,
Special Cable to The Oakland TRIBUNE and the Chicago Daily News.

TIENTSIN, Nov. 14.—Preceded by three troop trains and followed by another, Chang Tso Lin's special train of twenty-two cars left Mukden November 9. The strongest precautions were taken against assaults at each station passed where there was a large outpouring of people. The platforms were lined with thousands of troops with their bayonets pointing outward.

On November 10 Chang Tso Lin visited the scene of the recent fighting and addressed the troops. The City of Shanhaikwan showed little effects of battle. Only the station was slightly damaged. One car which was blown up was still on the station. In this car thirty were killed and wounded. Wu Pei Fu's car was the next and narrowly escaped.

A mile before Changwangtao was reached, thousands of graves could be seen and a number of bodies remained unburied while dead horses were everywhere and being eaten by dogs.

At Chinjow, Wu Pei Fu's former headquarters were stacked all kinds of booty. Near this place the Chihlis abandoned twenty-five airplanes. At Tongshan awful stories were told the writer by foreigners of looting by Wu Pei Fu's troops to compel foreign intervention. Going toward Mukden were thousands of Wu Pei Fu's troops who presented a pitiful spectacle in their thin summer clothing. Chang Tso Lin was sending them to Mukden to clothe them after which they will be free to go home if they desire.

Chang said he would return to Mukden as soon as matters were straightened out. He hoped he could achieve China's permanent peace.

SEES FLYING AGE COMING.

H. G. Fokker, Dutch airplane manufacturer, is visiting the United States. There was a time when his name stood for the airplanes which took the air against those of the Allied armies. Now he is here to inspect one of his branch plants in New Jersey, a factory with a capacity of 200 airplanes a year.

In Holland, Mr. Fokker is making 500 airplanes a year and is shipping them to France, Italy, Spain and countries in Latin America. About ten per cent of the airplanes built in Europe today, he says, are for commercial use and the rest are made for purposes of war.

Another reason for the visit of this man is that the United States has ordered 100 of his machines. They are to be reconnoissance planes of thirty-foot wing expansion and capable of a speed of 170 miles an hour.

"Judging by the progress that already has been made in aviation," this expert says, "I believe that in less than twenty years machines will be built for $500 and then every one will be able to commute to the city in his own machine." And he added that he expected to live to see companies making transatlantic flights in twenty-four hours, carrying passengers and mail.

More flying news is in the papers. The other day a New York man ordered 100 planes for business and commercial uses. Among those who will employ them are department stores which will install airplane delivery to the suburbs. A Wall Street firm will use them to hustle financiers and businessmen from the outskirts to the center of money's activity.

The question of safety is brought up as the most important. It has been answered by the Continental Air Mail Service which reports 97 per cent efficiency in 1923 and prospects for a higher record this year. In Europe it is now possible to travel from almost any large center to another. For the year ending March 31, 1924 the total mileage flown by British planes was 1,004,000 and these were covered in 3012 flights. It is added that 15,013 passengers were carried and with one fatal accident, the first that has occurred since 1920. World wide transport is a prospect of the not far distant future.

THE BLUE CHRYSANTHEMUM.

When the "big game" comes chrysanthemums will bloom in the buttonholes. If there is any blue mixed with the gold of California it will be artificial for the blue chrysanthemum is still a thing of tradition and an object of search. There are many who believe, however, that somewhere there is such a flower. Hidden away in Japan or China it may be blooming even as the testimony of old porcelain and old books say it blossomed of yore.

[illegible] to develop the chrysanthemum as we know it from a single flower. Botanists who know how long a time is required to make a double flower out of a single one may figure the years taken in developing this multiple bloom. Because of the time and the care required the Japanese have guarded their choicest blossoms and it is said that in some parts of the empire there are many varieties quite unknown to the western traveler. So it may be that the blue chrysanthemum which would go well with the gold on big game day and which is shown on old vases and in old books of the Orient, is hidden under a bushel in Japan.

SALINAS OBJECTS.

Salinas has just complaint against the gentlemen who draw in black, gray and white the maps of national prosperity. Figures of the banks, realty exchange and building permits, Salinas believes are accurate indicators of prosperity.

Bank deposits in the city show business to be twice as good as a year ago, building is more active, and other reports bear out the conviction. So Salinas is asking the mapmaker to use his eraser on the gray which means "fair" that the city and surrounding territory may show white and the request is so well backed with facts that there is little doubt of its being heeded.

The hustling city in the Salinas Valley may console itself with this thought: its very com- [illegible] making condition.

OAKLAND VISITS NEIGHBORS.

Oakland went visiting today. A representative group of business and professional men are up in Marin and Sonoma counties opening their eyes with amazement as they learn the lowest facts concerning that section's development.

The city, like the man, makes a mistake when it overestimates its importance. Without the city limits there are as many of the things which go to build up the metropolis as there are within. Every hour of the day the lands and the industry of the farmers behind the cities contribute to the building of the centers. Those who do not recognize the link between the fields and the factories, and between the rising smaller cities and towns and the larger ones, have never traveled their state with eyes open and minds in action.

To be sure the large city serves the country and smaller communities in many ways. Probably it would come nearer to meeting the many obligations if its citizens were better acquainted with the activities, ideals, and men of the surrounding territory. It is for the purpose of acquaintanceship that Oakland goes visiting. The first of the excursions, undertaken in an experimental way, proved of so much value that others followed as a matter of course. The welcome extended to the Oakland party on this trip and the others has demonstrated that throughout northern California there exists a friendly and cooperative spirit that is ready and eager with expression.

VICE-PRESIDENT DAWES.

Before election some good Republicans were not wholly easy about the Honorable Charles G. Dawes. They remembered how he stood out in all groups wherein he had appeared: how he was always distinctive; how he got the credit for settling the German question: how he smokes a curious pipe, and swears on occasion.

But they also took account of the fact that in none of these manifestations has he appeared as Vice-president of the United States, in which capacity he will become the presiding officer of the United States Senate. It probably has occurred to a number of people that a man may be responsible for a number of manifestations and get away with it all right who would not thereby be properly okched for high presiding officer's eminence.

It is quite possible that Vice-president Dawes will not enter upon his duties of presiding over the Senate weighed down with handicaps. There are some millions of good American citizens who hope so at least. There is a considerable distance for honorable and sensible action beyond the points reached in the last Congress, for instance, when the body became practically inoperative.

It is not expected, of course, that any official will lend himself to infraction or avoidance of the rules, but such a man as Charles G. Dawes, an executive officer, can do much to get before the public mind the peculiar manipulation in which the laws are so construed that they shall work only a certain way. It will be great reading if Vice-president Dawes expresses himself characteristically if some things are attempted within the next four years in manner similar to that in which somethings have been done within a year.

Amundsen is reported to have given up the idea of reaching the North Pole by drifting there. Since March his ship, the Maud, has been attempting it, without results that could be considered encouraging. The vessel left Seattle in June, 1922, with the aim to get there by just letting nature take her course, and will probably return to Alaska next summer. The announcement is to the effect that this in- [illegible] in four or five years, but there will probably be no objection to excusing him for not keeping to the extreme limit of time.

This is a season of astonishments truly. In addition to what has resulted on both sides of the Atlantic through the ballot, and events that have occurred variously otherwheres and otherwise, it is now reported from Lick Observatory that Dr. Baade's recently discovered planet was in sight there Monday night. In news items it is not expected that scientific particulars will be given, but it may be allowable in this instance to add that the wandering heavenly body is of tenth magnitude, and planetary in aspect.

The remarkable thing to our mind is not that Mrs. Nettie Taylor Ross was elected Governor of Wyoming, but rather that in accepting the Democratic nomination she used less than 400 words, and in addressing an appeal to the women of the State, less than 300.

It is announced that Pittsburgh will build next year a 52-story "Cathedral of Learning." This will at least make it comparably easy to convert low brows into high brows.

THE CONNING TOWER

Whether these mornings are dull or inspired.
Couplets about them are making me tired.

If You Must Go.

If you must go, go suddenly, like rain
That in the summer leaves its fleeting mark
On the ploughed fields, making them thirst again.
When you are gone I'll wear the friendly dark
Over this tattered dress of shrunken dreams
I wove for you, and none will see how bare
You left me, or how fruitless Beauty seems
To hold again, knowing you are not there.

I will not leave off loving for your sake,
But sweep my hearth and hide my shining gown,
And one who comes in friendship's garb may take
What you had once, and threw so lightly down.
Then, tasting love like daily bread, I'll be
Athirst for wine of your inconstancy.

(From "The Back of the Book," by Margaret Leech.)

She was the sort of woman who was known as "Dadlike." She had earned this reputation partly by her own mention of the fact, partly by her finicking accent and her habit of bowing deeply in greeting or farewell. Her hats were invariably large and black, set on the precarious angle associated with the name of Gainsborough. She was a member of many clubs and liked, laughingly, to speak of herself as "a born leader."

MY HILL TOP.

As I gaze me down from my hill top
Over the city asleep,
Kissed by the first faint flush of dawn
The moon sinks into the deep.

As I gaze me down from my hill top
The city seems to stir,
And smoke streams out of each chimney
And the wheels of progress purr.

As I gaze me down from my hill top
The sun sinks into the west,
And everything turns homeward
As the bird returns to his nest.

And soon the lights will twinkle
In this city at my feet,
And the west wind sing her lullaby

HELEN NORTON.

Former Columnist Repudiates Tax Figures.

Sir: What I am terrorized by is this: going over six months' accumulated letters my attention calls itself to a slipping to the effect that whereas Bob Benchley's income tax was "only $679," mine was $4478. And readers are sort of invited to draw their own conclusions. You know what terrible conclusions do get drawn sometimes. I hadn't been in the house half an hour last night before a salesman at Bay Side was on the wire suggesting that I replace Dame Quickly with a sparkling new sedan.

Some one has done some dirty work with the decimals. The Decimal System ought to be as tenderly dealt with as the Ten Commandments. My income tax for 1923 was not four thousand and seventy-eight but four hundred and seventy eight ($478.78, to be nugatory) and I think it only right that Bob Benchley (as well as the Collector) should know this.

The way the story stands I am put down for almost as fat a tax as Irving Berlin. But in these matters, as the Volkstead said, it's a long, long way to Berlin. Now I must go and unpack my trunk.

CHRISTOPHER MORLEY.

It would seem that giving good news to the Republican party would be carrying diamonds to Peggy Joyce. And yet here is William Jennings Bryan saying he is going to work on the 1928 campaign at once.

If the meek inherit the earth [illegible] problems for them.

THE PORTRAIT.

To live encircled in that lovely frame
Chosen—as well as by the magic name
That made you—for your enchanting grace—
That is a fate for maid three centuries dead
Your lovers would approve—for swift applause
Rises again to your so queenly head,
And no one asks about the moral laws.

Lovely and lawless one, the face is fine
That fails to shield your breast—the hair is sleek
That mounts above a flushing brow and cheek
To crown you where a rose and curl entwine.
I trow that you could drop a hint concisely
To awkward flappers how to do it nicely!

MIMI.

Laugh and Be Obese.

(From the N. Y. American.)

The theaters offering the lighter amusements did the biggest business in their history, but the houses with the serious plays, the shows that are supposed to make people thin, were not sold out by any means. That is New York's way.

SEEING MARIN AND SONOMA COUNTIES

THE NATIONAL PRESS

Galveston News: "Under the present transportation law the railroads are regulated rationally since a moderate return on the investment is permitted and private enterprise is given a fair chance. The bitter attacks on that act are based on a principle of regulation that is totally incompatible with private ownership. If the critics of the transportation law had their way in Congress and in the White House, the railroads would be subjected to forms of regulation and control that would drive investors out of the field of railroad investment and condemn the carriers to starvation and eventual insolvency. Americans who believe in wise regulation of public utilities should make sure that all proposed changes in the transportation act are of the kind that encourage the best and efficient private enterprise and are not of the crippling, destructive kind."

Seattle Times: "Slowly already is feeling the stimulating effects of ordered peace. Foreign trade is improving and industries are making satisfactory gains. If Mexico is given a fair chance by its turbulent citizens it will not be long before the country will enjoy unprecedented prosperity. Last year the United States bought 50 per cent of Mexico's exports and supplied that country with 72 per cent of its imports. From this it will be seen that there is every reason why the United States and Mexico should get along in peace and amity. The United States is Mexico's best customer. Last year we bought goods valued at $156,277,- [illegible] and sold that country goods valued at $129,627,628."

Seattle Times: "The Persian [illegible] has imposed the extreme penalty on the ringleaders of the mob that murdered Vice Consul Robert Imbrie at Teheran, July 5. Not only have the Persian authorities acted vigorously in punishing the guilty, but they will pay an indemnity of $60,000 to Major Imbrie's widow and a similar sum for the expenses of bringing the body home to America. In demanding complete satisfaction of the Persian government for the outrage, the American Department of State has acted with commendable firmness."

New Orleans News: "The power of anticipation, in a practical degree, what is ahead, is the power on which all business men depend considerably for the success of their enterprises, according to Luther Burbank, who has stated that his business has been built largely upon his faculty to anticipate. He says: 'An observer sees only the finished product in the form of a fruit or flower. What he does not see is that a successful fruit, as an instance, is built upon practical anticipation of what will meet the future needs of the public.'"

Boston Transcript: "The Kentucky representative who is under a two-year sentence for violating the liquor law has been reelected. Will Congress now provide system of absent voting?"

Seattle Times: "It was a severe defeat and we must begin at once on the campaign for 1928," remarks William Jennings Bryan. That word 'we' is a bit puzzling."

Detroit Free Press: "Co-eds of the University of California have a right to get real angry. 'The shingle bob,' says the university's daily, 'probably got its name because it is no near wood.'"

Boston Transcript: "Chicago University is planning a dictionary of American English. Attaboy! It's gotta be a fine and dandy little old book, we'll tell the world."

Boston Transcript: "The only George that they are letting do it in England now is the king. And they let him do it because he doesn't do it."

EDDIT of the STATE PRESS

Argentine and Brazil have been the special countries of South America towards which European emigration has turned. They have proved welcomed immigrants, having such vast areas of land needing development. From the purely economic view heavy immigration was much to be desired. We have had that argument in support of unlimited immigration in this country, and it is still to be heard. But Argentine is beginning to learn the lesson that has been ground into us. This lesson is that immigration is less a matter of economics than it is social. Every immigrant may be worth $1000 to the United States in a pure muscle and energy, but he may be worth more than that much minus in the effect he may have upon our body politic, upon our institutions and upon the great trend of the national thought and acts. We are building a nation, not running a food producing factory.—Turlock Journal.

The Kings County Chamber of [illegible] famous Corcoran cow of the Helm farm to the Pacific Slope Dairy show at Oakland where bossy will be given high honors in an especially prepared booth. Helm Woodcrest Veeman is the cow that made the world record for milk production, and she has won some fame for our county dairymen in the bargain. At the big Oakland show she will attract attention and prove that Kings county is in favor of purebred stock.—Hanford Sentinel.

One naturally would have expected Mrs. John W. Davis to vote for her husband for president, and that she didn't do so is one of the most flagrant cases of disloyalty we have heard of since the days of Hiram Johnson and Jim Reed. When Mrs. Davis emerged from the polling booth last Tuesday she told a bunch of reporters that she "voted for the next president of the United States." Mr. Coolidge should send her an extra telegram of appreciation.—Red Bluff News.

The cross word puzzle is an education in words of the English language. It sends its devotees to a dictionary and a book of synonyms. It makes them nimble-witted. Besides, it is a very pleasant diversion. Anything we set out to do we want to do right, and there is a lot of satisfaction, apparently, when the puzzle has been solved. Judging by the beatific expression in the face of those who are seen folding up their paper and putting the pencil away. — Watsonville Register.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE SQUIRREL.

The little brown squirrel is wise in his way,
At gathering acorns he puts in his day,
In October the squirrel has no time to play.

There are billions of acorns strewn over the ground,
In couples and sinkles these treasures are found,

A mountain of acorns and hides them indoors,
To eat when the blizzard of winter time roars.

He doesn't end that there are plenty and more!
I'm a rich little squirrel with wealth at my door,
These acorns will last till my life-time is o'er!"

He doesn't grow reckless and toss them away,
There's never an acorn he wastes through the day,
He gathers his harvest and saves while he may.

He doesn't grow lazy or foolish or fast,
Or think himself master of snow-storm and blast,
Or fancy his fortune in acorns will last.

In the days of his plenty he saves all he can,
He orders his life to a sensible plan,

MILLIONS FOR FARM CHEMISTRY.

Herman Frasch, inventor of sulphur mining with steam, many years a resident of Cleveland, and a friend and sometimes an associate of John D. Rockefeller, is in Wurtenberg. He left about $5,000,000, which has been increased to some $10,000,000 by increased value of stocks. His widow is dead and will have her last resting place beside him in the old country, though she was a native of Cleveland. The widow's will makes the cause of American research in agricultural chemistry the residuary legatee of the fortune she inherited. Several millions will be used to this end by institutions already incorporated.

Very small as compared with what the Rockefeller Foundation is able to spend for research to prevent disease, this amount is a really important contribution to work on which the future of America largely depends, the increasing of the volume of farm products from any given area, by proper treatment of the soil, the overcoming of insect pests, the harmonizing of farming with modern science.

We think private endowments in this field have been too few. State departments are doing something. Agricultural colleges are doing more. National departments are doing most on these lines. In the aggregate, large sums are being spent every year, but the duplication of efforts is wasteful and there is much inefficiency. The Frasch bequest should start a movement for articulation of farm chemistry research in the United States. If it does, it will be a vast boon to the adopted country of the German who accumulated his fortune under the American flag.—Brooklyn Daily Eagle.

PERSONAL HEALTH SERVICE

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

WHEN THE BOY HAS ENTERED COLLEGE.

Dear Pete:

Your dad dropped in to read a part of your last letter to me this morning and I promised him I would write to you. He is not quite certain whether he has told you enough of the things you need to know, and between you and me, Pete, I believe you still have something coming to you in the way of inside information, though I am sure your dad has acquitted himself much better than most of them do in this respect.

If you haven't already discovered it you surely will learn very soon that there are two standards of morals doing service in the world today. First is the standard your mother expects you to follow, simply that you will always respect all womanhood for your mother's honor. There can't be anything the matter with such a standard, can there? The other standard will be urged by some of your college associates, and they will endeavor to justify it by every possible argument; under this standard a fellow may break the moral law if or when he so desires since there are some women without virtue.

I hope this doesn't sound too crude, Pete. It is just what I would say to you if we were having a little talk together. You will inevitably feel sooner or later the pulling power of the undertow, the ingenious arguments, taunts and other influences brought to bear by those who would corrupt and seduce the callow youth. Why they delight to do this is a mystery. Perhaps it is because misery likes company. But whatever the incentive which makes those who have transgressed desire to lead others astray, certain it is that such unwholesome influence plays a part in the ruination of many a boy of your age, Pete. Now I want to be sure that you shall be armed with a factor of strength against that very influence, for you'll need it for self-defense.

During our preparation for the great war the athletic, health and medical authorities of the country, perhaps recognizing the dangers which beset many lads leaving home to receive their military training, frankly and forcefully assured the young manhood of the country that absolute purity and continence is not only compatible with but essential for athletic or physical efficiency and the highest degree of health. Of course, we have always known this, but the object the authorities sought in voicing the fact anew was to prevent the unsophisticated youth from being dragged down by the undertow.

If I remember correctly, you gave your mother a pledge against smoking while you are in college. That was a mighty good thing. By keeping that pledge you develop self control, and that's the sign of a man, after all.

I hope to hear from you occasionally, Pete, and don't forget, when there is any little thing you want to know, I'm here and always glad to hear from you.

Sincerely yours,
OLE SAWBONES.

DIPLOMACY.

At the grave of the departed, an old darky pastor stood, hat in hand, looking into the abyss, he delivered himself of the funeral oration: "Samuel Johns'n," he said sorrowfully, "you is gone. An' we hope you is gone where we 'spects you ain't."—Stockton Record.

PROGRESS ON WATER PLAN IS REPORTED

Chief Engineer Davis Tells of Field Surveys and Preparation to Develop Project; Communities Co-operate

The progress made already made toward the construction of the Mokelumne project for the Eastbay's water supply is described in a statement issued today by Arthur P. Davis, chief engineer and general manager of the Eastbay Municipal Utility District. According to Davis, the engineers for the water district have been engaged for the past week upon the field surveys and office work necessary for the preparations of the plans.

The directors of the district have been busy during this same period in arranging for the necessary cooperation with communities between here and the Mokelumne region, which are likely to be affected by the Eastbay project.

REORGANIZIGN DIRECTORATE

Organization of the directorate is also being carried rapidly forward, it was announced today. Alfred Latham, who was vice-president of the temporary board, has been re-elected to the same office in the permanent organization. The president of the board is to be selected at the next meeting, to be held next Thursday evening. The three four-year terms on the board have been awarded to Directors Boyer, Miller and Latham, who received the largest votes, respectively at the recent election.

In speaking of the work already done by the board in bringing the plans of the district into harmony with the interests of the various communities outside the district, Davis, in his statement, said, in part:

"On Saturday morning, November 8, four members of the board, the manager, and the attorney, attended, by invitation, a meeting at San Andreas of the representatives of Amador, Calaveras and Tuolumne counties. The plans were explained to the representatives, who appeared to be well pleased with the attitude of the board and the plans for a water supply.

MEETINGS ARE HELD.

"A visit was paid on the same day to the city of Lodi, where a meeting was held in the evening attended by people from various parts of San Joaquin county. The addresses delivered by local people indicated an appreciation of the benefit which this project will be to local development.

"On November 11 the manager addressed a meeting of the chamber of commerce of Walnut Creek. A resolution was passed by this meeting endorsing the Mokelumne project and expressing a desire to secure a portion of its benefits."

In retiring from the office of director of the district, Louis Bartlett last night congratulated the people of the Eastbay cities upon the passage of the $39,000,000 bond issue for the Mokelumne project and pledged his future cooperation with the new board of directors.

Community Body to Study Snow Museum Project

Plans for the construction and financing of the new Oakland Museum, to house the famous $2,000,000 Snow African collection, were to be laid before a meeting of the Oakland Community Council which was scheduled for 4 o'clock today at the Chamber of Commerce headquarters, Hotel Oakland.

The meeting of the Community Council, consisting of representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, Merchants' Exchange, service clubs and other civic organizations, follows a resolution passed by the city council yesterday approving the immediate construction of such a museum.

UNIT PLAN FAVORED.

The plan that has received the most support from civic leaders is the one adopted by the city council at a meeting on November 6. This provides for the construction of the museum in units, a unit of $50,000 or $60,000 to be built each year until the whole plan is completed. Funds for the museum under this scheme are to be provided by the city, and it will not be necessary to secure private subscriptions.

The Oakland Real Estate Board and the Oakland Teachers' Association have both gone on record expressing their desire for the immediate construction of a new museum and their willingness to aid in a suitable plan for its erection.

Herbert Fleishhacker, San Francisco park commissioner, and other San Francisco officials declare that they are making no effort to have H. A. Snow transfer the Snow African exhibit from Oakland to San Francisco.

EXPLORED FOR MUSEUM.

At the time Snow left for his African expedition in 1919 he received $5000 from the city of Oakland and the privilege of using the name of the Oakland museum on his trip. The latter was necessary to the success of the expedition because of British government regulations which prohibit hunting trips in certain portions of the Dark Continent unless made under the auspices of a city or for a museum. Because he was representing the Oakland museum Snow also secured reductions in the duties on trophies brought back to America.

Because of these considerations, agreements entered into with the city of Oakland and statements made by Snow before the city council, it is believed that any attempt by Snow to move the exhibit would cause legal action that might take the courts years to decide.

Record Catches of Salmon Reported

OAKDALE, Nov. 14.—Salmon are running in great numbers in the Stanislaus river and some great catches are being made by local fishermen. The recent rains brought up the river to a point where fishing was impossible for a few days but permitted many fish to go further up the river than formerly.

SANTA ROSA, Nov. 14.—One hundred forty new members is the aim of the nine teams of the chamber of commerce, which today launched a membership drive here. The present membership of the organization is 410 and it is hoped to bring this number up to 550 by next Tuesday evening. The new members will be introduced at the annual chamber meeting and will be welcomed by President Frank P. Doyle.

Baby Elephants Seek Breakfast, Wreck Kitchen

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14.—Three baby elephants, part of a vaudeville act at a local theater, scored such a smashing hit in private life that their owner, Don Darrah of New York, was held in $200 bail pending repairs to certain parts of the northwest section of Philadelphia. The trio, confined at night in a garage, took offense early today at sounds from a balky motor car. They snapped their chains and sallied forth with the car owner leading the procession at a hot pace.

Fragrant whiffs of breakfast being prepared by Mrs. Anna Dammore in her kitchen halted the elephant section of the parade, and one of the trio uprooted the Dammore fence. Mrs. Dammore glanced out her window and then, with three young Dammores, sought the roof. The elephants entered through the back door, taking it with them.

"Babe," one of the runaways, burned his trunk on the stove, seized that article by its underpining and upset it. The other elephant wrecked the icebox and splintered the furniture. "Babe" then headed an exodus from the Dammore home.

LABOR PLEASED BY VOTE RESULT, GOMPERS AVERS

"Reaction, Drunk With Victory," Not to Boss Congress, He Declares.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

EL PASO, Nov. 14.—Labor fared "almost phenomenally well" in the general elections, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, said today in a public statement commenting upon the result of the November 4 balloting.

"In the face of the tremendous Coolidge landslide, there were elected to the new House of Representatives more members having Labor's endorsement than are to be found in the present House," Gompers asserted. "In the present House there are 170 such members.

NO FEAR OF CONGRESS.

"The new Congress is not likely to pass any measure greatly detrimental to the interests of the workers and our people generally," the statement continued. "Those who fondly hope to rule the new Congress in favor of reactionary interests will find themselves facing a larger group which will not permit the passage of time-serving legislation. Reaction, seemingly drunk with victory, may soon find itself intoxicated on imaginary wine."

The election comment was combined with an outline of the forty-fourth annual convention officially beginning Monday.

TO STUDY BUILDING.

Cooperative action by sixteen international labor unions affiliated with the building trades department to obtain periodic information on labor conditions in the country was planned today by the executive council of the department, as a step in a program seeking to minimize seasonal unemployment in the industry.

Under a resolution approved yesterday, officers began today to set in motion machinery for collecting information concerning labor supply and demand in various localities, wages, hours and conditions, living costs, and other factors bearing upon employment.

At its inception, it is planned, national surveys will be made every three months. Later monthly appraisals will be available. The data will be distributed through every local union.

BY UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

EL PASO, Nov. 14.—President Samuel Gompers, in session today with his executive council, indicated the Federation's stand against a separate labor political party movement.

The delegates will also be asked to approve the executive council's action in endorsing the La Follette-Wheeler ticket in the recent election. Some opposition is expected to arise from delegates who favored supporting the Democratic nominees.

Defendant Will Seek Vindication, Not Life

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 14. — Because he realizes his life span is drawing to a close, regardless of whether or not the state demands it in expiration of alleged crime, James Martin, 71-year-old cattleman, declared today as his trial on a murder charge entered its third day that he is fighting more for vindication than escape from the gallows.

The aged stock man, after a year in jail awaiting trial, considers the court proceedings a welcome relief from the monotony of endless days in a narrow cell.

Martin's self-defense plea was made the subject of attack today by witnesses for the prosecution, testimony being introduced in an effort to prove that John Mayhan, also a cattleman, was unarmed at the time of the shooting.

U.S.C. of C. President Pledges War on Reds

CLEVELAND, Nov. 14.—"Thanks to La Follette, we've had a census of unrest in this country," Richard H. Grant, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, told a group of Cornell and [illegible] alumni here last night.

"The group is composed of no'er-do-wells, foreign population we can never assimilate and a large bunch of Americans educated at public expense to whom education is an acquisition but not a useful thing.

"We even find these radicals creeping into our colleges. I know some of them at Yale and as far as I'm concerned, I am going to start feeding the bird seed out of

Theater's Plan to Dodge Tax Foiled

LONDON, Nov. 14.—A London theater's plan to avoid payment of the admission tax by selling chocolates and giving away seats has been abandoned owing to legal obstacles. Instead the theater management which originated the scheme will sell seats and give away the chocolates Monday. It is understood that the London county council, as ground landlords of the theater, threatened to revoke the theater lease if the chocolate plan was put into effect. The theater management abandoned its scheme.

COOLIDGE WARNS FARM BOARD OF EXISTENT CRISIS

Problem of Market Must Be Met to Relieve New Conditions, He Says.

BY UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The commission appointed by President Coolidge to advise him on agricultural policies will make a study going far beyond the problem of temporary relief.

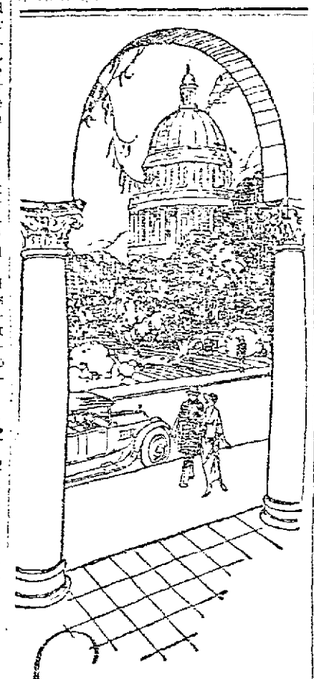

President Coolidge has instructed the commission to be prepared to report to him measures which may become fundamental factors in a permanent governmental policy toward agriculture.

The President disclosed in his speech to the Land Grant College meeting last night that he is convinced an era of tremendous change is approaching in American farming. He believes that "within a very few years" the United States will become one of the greatest buyers of farm products instead of one of the greatest sellers.

With this fundamental revolution imminent in the American farming world, Coolidge believes the government should be prepared with an adequate policy toward agriculture. In a general way, measures should be taken to assure the American farmer the most scientific means of production and distribution.

"If we permit our farming population to fall to the level of a mere agricultural peasantry they will carry down with them the general social and economic level," he pointed out.

The President did not indicate in his speech last night what the scope of the new farm policy might be. He will deliver another address November 17 before the agricultural commission which is expected to outline his plans more definitely.

FORGERY CHARGED TO ACTOR-WRITER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Neil McConlogue, writer and actor, is in jail here, charged with attempting to defraud the government through a forged check. Bond has been fixed at $20,000.

His offense, it is charged, was committed last March in Cleveland where he presented a $10,000 check to the postmaster signed with the name of George Hackathorne, a Hollywood motion picture actor. He was arrested in Texas and escaped en route here, but later was apprehended at Dallas. There, authorities assert, he was living a life of luxury, posing as Hackathorne and being feted by movie fans and theater managers.

The art of making paste jewels has been brought to a state of perfection in recent years, although it was known to early Egyptians and Romans.

Louvre Antiques Declared Fakes By Paris Expert

By CONSTANTINE BROWN.

PARIS, Nov. 14.—A large proportion of the antiques appresent in American museums or in the hands of art collectors are fakes, declares Jean Vignaux. For years Vignaux managed the New York branch of the late Joseph Demotte, antique dealer, and is now being sued by the estate of his former employer for embezzlement of funds.

It is not only Americans who are taken in by clever art fakers, however, but also such institutions as the Louvre Museum. Workmen employed by Demotte, when cross-examined, admitted that only the heads of the Kings of the Pantheon, the pride of the French museum, are genuine. The rest of these famous statues are made in dealers' workshops, while of the renowned Lasquentes du Barrois only the calves are genuine and the trunks and heads were manufactured in the same workshop.

ROMANCE OF WAR ENDS IN DIVORCE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—Married in 1919 as a result of a war romance, Dr. Edgar L. Gilcreest, member of the medical faculty of the University of California, and Mrs. Dorothy Baldwin Gilcreest, New York heiress, are divorced today as a result of an alleged affair of the high Sierra.

James W. Walsh, Jr., Long Island bachelor and multi-millionaire, was Mrs. Gilcreest's partner in the mountain idyl, according to affidavits filed with the superior court by Dr. Gilcreest.

Dr. Gilcreest and the young woman met in France while he was a major in the American medical corps in France, and she was a Red Cross nurse. Mrs. Gilcreest is a daughter of William E. Baldwin, New York manufacturer, whose fortune is estimated at $50,000,000, and a niece of Mrs. Lloyd M. Robbins, 2203 Sacramento street, San Francisco.

The divorce decree was granted by Superior Judge Griffin.

Even if the husband is a high school football hero, a couple who are only 18 and 16 respectively are too young to marry, in the opinion of both sets of parents of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh James McDonald. Because of this opinion, the marriage of the two, which took place on an elopement to Marin county last July, has been annulled.

McDonald is a son of J. A. A. McDonald, construction engineer, and his ex-wife is a daughter of Philip Hurwitz, insurance broker. The annulment was granted by Superior Judge T. I. Fitzpatrick in spite of the protests of the young husband and wife.

Baby Eats Yellow Paint; Will Recover

Archie Uhlig, 2, found aquantity of yellow ochre in a garage adjacent to his home at 1341 One Hundred and Fourth avenue late yesterday and, following the well known child method of testing everything by eating it, consumed a large quantity of it. A few hours later his mother noticed that he was ill and had him taken to the emergency hospital. The baby is in a critical condition but is expected to recover.

Those entitled to the refund may receive their checks by calling at or writing to the customs house office of the internal revenue department in San Francisco.

EX-REBELS' PLEA GRANTED.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 14.—Hipolito Villa and Rosalio Hernandez, the last rebel chieftains submitting to the government, have been granted permission to reside in Chiapas and Durango, respectively, instead of in the north, where both have hosts of enemies.

GIRL STABS WITH SHEARS IN FIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—That the female is more deadly than the male was effectively demonstrated here last night when Maude Langley, 743 Polk street, protected herself with a pair of scissors after Harry Pileston, her sweetheart, had attempted to use cave-man methods on her.

Miss Langley and Pileston, according to the police, quarreled in a cafe earlier in the evening and continued the argument all the way home. Arriving there, the arguement grew more heated and Pileston hit the girl on the head with a chair, she claims.

She retaliated with a pair of scissors, according to the police, and inflicted a deep stab wound in Pileston's back. Although seriously injured he will recover.

This is the second violent end to this couple's quarrels, the police say. Miss Langley was arrested last May after having drawn a revolver on Pileston in an apartment on Pine street, the police records show.

RUSS ASK FRANCE TO GIVE UP SHIPS

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

PARIS, Nov. 14.—Since the recognition of the Russian Soviet regime by France, the Soviet authorities have repeated with particular insistence the demands made previously that the French government turn over the Russian fleet which took refuge in the port of Biserta, Tunis, after the defeat of General Wrangel's army in its anti-Bolshevik campaign in the Crimea and the advance of the Bolshevik forces to Sebastopol. The fleet consists of two battleships ten years old, one superannuated cruiser, seven destroyers, three torpedo boats, one auxiliary cruiser and four modern submarines.

Information reaching the authorities here that the Moscow government had appointed a commission to visit the fleet has brought the question to a crisis. The French government is considerably embarrassed because of the impression the restoration of the fleet might have on Rumania and other neighbors of Russia to whom the possession of such a naval force by the Soviet regime might cause anxiety.

French technical men say the fleet has real value as a fighting force, the battleships being modern submarines and efficient. The fleet has served as a refuge for Russian exiles.

The life of an air pilot during the Great War was vividly protrayed in a skit entitled "Nerves," presented by a cast composed of members of the McClymonds R. O. T. C. unit at a student assemblage held in memory of Armistice Day, at the McClymonds high school auditorium today.

Miss Lulu G. Merchant, vocal instructor at the school, led the student body in singing war songs and the National Anthem.

C. OF C. ENVOYS VISIT CITIES OF MARIN, SONOMA

Oakland Boosters Welcomed by Business Leaders in Two Counties.

Nearly two hundred Oakland business men, including city and county officials and heads of a score of manufacturing enterprises in the Eastbay left San Francisco today on the 8 15 o'clock ferry for Sausalito, where a special train waited to take them for a one day trade extension trip to San Rafael, Petaluma, Healdsburg and Santa Rosa under the direction of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce.

The band of the McClymonds high school accompanied the Oakland delegation.

At Sausalito J. C. Cantwell, director of the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce, welcomed the Oaklanders to "the Geneva of America" and invited them to return at some future date for a longer visit. Walter H. Nagle, secretary of the Sausalito chamber, also extended a welcome to the visitors. Joseph J. Rosborough, former postmaster of Oakland, responded on behalf of Oakland.

The delegation was welcomed to San Rafael by Mayor E. D. Bowman, who promised that a return visit would be made to Oakland by the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce. Robert E. Jones, dairy expert of San Francisco and vice-president of the Pacific Slope Dairy Show, invited Marin county, through San Rafael, to the dairy show which will be held in Oakland December 10 to 16.

PETALUMA WELCOMES OAKLAND VISITORS.

PETALUMA, Nov 14.—Oakland visitors, under the leadership of chamber of commerce leaders, arrived here this morning and were welcomed by Mayor W. L. Sales, also C. A. Miller, secretary of the Petaluma Chamber of Commerce, and other local businessmen. Miss Marjorie Munson, assistant secretary, led a bevy of pretty girls in distributing flowers, whose center was a baby chick, typical of the poultry industry that has made Petaluma world famous.

Trips through Petaluma's suburbs proved to the visitors that although Petaluma is entitled to great credit for its enterprise in developing the poultry industry, yet it has also taken giant strides this year in enrolling other industries. The inspection by the visitors showed that aside from the poultry industry, which brings into Petaluma annually $7,300,000 in chickens alone and $1,000,000 dozen eggs, Petaluma is also finishing the harvesting of large fruit and produce crops. The dairy industry also brought in during 1924 an estimated valuation of $8,000,000.

Luncheon was enjoyed here at Hotel Petaluma, where a series of addresses were heard. The visitors stressed in their talks the urgency of Central California communities in getting together for the uplift of the district as a whole. Local speakers said that Sonoma and Marin counties are concluding one of the best years in their history, and that they will be there at roll call in line with advances that today appear to be monumental.

BOOSTERS' TRAIN MET AT HEALDSBURG.

HEALDSBURG, Nov. 14—Healdsburg businessmen met at the Oakland boosters special train today, assigned the visitors to automobiles and spent a couple of hours in a series of intensive inspection showing Healdsburg's back-country.

Oakland vistors found that Healdsburg has been exceedingly fortunate this year in having 13 inches of rainfall. This, with other favorable conditions, matured a banner crop, the harvests being especially heavy in prunes, berries and hops, products that are bringing high market prices. Healdsburg's production this year runs into many millions without low prices. The Oakland delegation many of whom have not had the opportunity to visit Healdsburg this season, was astonished at the growth of the progressive little city, which has grown to have a population of 2800, an increase of 33 per cent within a very few years.

After the automobile tours the Oakland party assembled upon the Healdsburg plaza, listened to a band concert by the visitors' band and heard a series of addresses by both the local leaders and the visiting businessmen. Among the Healdsburg businessmen who headed the automobile trips to the suburban points were: George P. Sanborn, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce; B. I. Beeson, George Imrie, Edward Quinn, John Hillhmer, City Clerk Fred J. Kinley, John T. Fisher, Charles Comstock, Judge J. T. Cliffman, A. W. Garrett and A. D. Starbuck.

DELEGATION ENTERTAINED BY SANTA ROSA FOLK.

SANTA ROSA, Nov. 14.—Visiting Oakland Chamber of Commerce boosters arrived here today from Healdsburg on their mission of spreading the doctrine of community unity. They were greeted by civic leaders who carried out an elaborate program of entertainment. Upon their arrival the Oakland party was ushered into automobiles, taken through Luther Burbank's gardens and greenhouses shown the Sebastopol district and other surrounding suburbs.

The annual community dinner had been postponed until this evening in honor of the visit of the Oakland party. It will be given in the Occidental hotel. Fred Rosenburg, chairman of the merchants' department, will talk upon the ideals of his association. Frank P. Doyle, president of the Santa Rosa Chamber of Commerce, now in his third term, is expected to preside. The Oakland delegation will also be expected to furnish speakers for the banquet.

Santa Rosa turned out a large number of businessmen to greet the coming of the special train. There were more than sufficient automobiles to carry the 150 visitors and it is expected that the dinner tonight will be productive of a better understanding between the Santa Rosa community and the nearby cities, including Oakland which will be a tendency toward a better unity. The object of the Oakland body is to weld a chain of friendship and community interests between the bay communities.

WOMAN SOUGHT IN MURDER QUIZ; HUSBAND IS HELD

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—Efforts to solve the mysterious murder of Harry I. Katz, musician and diamond broker, shot and killed in his bachelor home here Monday night, were further blocked today when ponce failed to locate Dorothy Carroll, alabaster blond, self-admitted "last sweetheart" of the slain man.

Mrs. Carroll has been missing for three days, following a brief visit to police headquarters, where she told a story of having been threatened by a "killer," acting as an agent for a Los Angeles business man she charged with responsibility for Katz' death.

Police sought the young woman as the result of the arrest of Chase Carroll, her husband, known as "the barber sheik," and Earl H. Bridges, Carroll's roommate.

Carroll and Bridges were ordered held as material witnesses in the murder investigation when they made conflicting statements.

When Carroll was questioned he admitted he shot a man named Hughes in Bakersfield two years ago with a .32-caliber automatic pistol after he discovered Hughes with Mrs. Carroll on what he termed a "wild party." According to ponce, Katz was killed with a bullet from a .32-caliber automatic and a gun of that description was found in Carroll's room. Carroll said Bridges owned the revolver and Bridges said it was owned by Carroll.

Three months ago Mrs. Carroll sued for divorce and charged Carroll always carried a revolver and had threatened her life.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Arthur Medianski, wholesale jeweler, charged with implication in a diamond-smuggling conspiracy, has appeared before treasury officials, asserting he had no intention of fleeing to foreign lands and protested his innocence in the so-called plot.

Victor House, special assistant to the United States Attorney, yesterday issued a statement saying Medianski had been here all this year, reports from Washington being erroneous.

Medianski's connection with the Mors case was as an expert on gems and antiques. He says the jewelry purchased by Mrs. Mors was valued at about $30,000, characterizing charges by the Treasury Department of an enormous smuggling plot as ridiculous.

BUY YOUR HOME IN MERRIEWOOD

Merriewood has been chosen by many people as their home during the past few weeks. You will like it too. It lies just north of Piedmont, covering the beautiful hills that face the Bay. Directly toward it the city is growing and homes will soon be built over this entire district. It now has excellent transportation.

In Merriewood you can get a 3-room house, complete with bath, hot water, electricity, sanitary plumbing, Lig closet, everything—for only $200 down. The total price for one of these cozy little homes on a big lot with a fine grove of trees is as low as $1975, and on the very best level lots the total price does not exceed $2975. The balance is paid in small monthly payments.

Probably never before in this part of California has there been made such a generous offer to home buyers. Here you can actually get your home for less than the price of rent, a home that will constantly grow in value.

To get to Merriewood take the "A" car to Fortieth and Piedmont and transfer to the bus which runs from there to Merriewood, or you can stop at the office of the Realty Syndicate Co. at 4058 Piedmont Avenue. If you drive your own car, go out Piedmont Avenue to Pleasant Valley Avenue and then into Moraga Avenue. Drive out Moraga to Thorn Road which runs directly into Merriewood.—Advertisement.

Woman Hit by Stray Bullet in Fusillade Fired by Fleeing Robbers.

SPECIAL BY WIRE TO THE TRIBUNE

LODI, Nov. 14.—Shot in the back as she sat in her kitchen by bandits who were holding a rifle and shot-gun battle with her husband, Mrs. K. Urakami, wife of a Japanese grape-picker on the Henry Sharpe ranch, three miles west of here, was killed last night. The bandits escaped in an automobile traveling in a southerly direction and no trace has been secured of them.

The four white men in an automobile appeared at the Japanese quarters of the Sharpe ranch at 7:30 o'clock last night a few hours after the seven Japanese laborers there had been paid off. They held up the occupants of two houses and secured $315 in cash. [illegible] As they were leaving Urakami opened fire on them with a shot-gun. The bandits responded with a fusillade from rifles. One of the bullets entered the house and killed Mrs. Urakami who was seated on a bench in the kitchen. Coroner O. K. Wells of Lodi took charge of the body today.

TWO RECREATION CENTERS FOR ONE PARK PROMISED

Dual Arrangement Looms on Controversy Over Edwards' Appointment.

Under the Park department plans for the stimulation of public recreation the future may see two recreation centers in the same public park, one under the direction of a $225-a-month employee of the park department and the other under a higher salaried director of the recreation department, E. H. Sanborn, park director, disclosed today.

This information came in an interview of Sanborn and Marston Campbell, president of the park board, concerning their attitude toward the protested appointment of Willis Edwards to the park position. The Civil Service commission has refused to recognize this appointment, charging that the position is "ridiculous, purely political and entirely unnecessary."

FOR PARK IMPROVEMENTS.

The park directors, however, said the park funds are entirely without the scope of the recreation department, and that to stimulate public interest in the parks it was necessary to assign a director to this particular task. Consequently bowling greens, archery lanes, tennis courts and putting greens are being installed in the parks, and plans are under way to create interest in the mountain park at Redwood Peak. All of these things are to be handled by the newly-appointed director of recreational activities.

But, Sanborn admitted, in some places where recreation facilities are to be installed there are already facilities belonging to the recreation department. This presents the situation of two playgrounds in the same park and operated under separate departments.

EXPLAINED BY DIRECTORS.

The park directors explained that they had found it impractical to place their facilities under the care of the recreation department, and had determined that they would have to direct park recreation themselves.

Edwards, a former deputy county auditor, is properly qualified to act a director of recreational activities, they said, and they have adequate reasons for not placing the position under civil service. One of these reasons, they said, was that they might want to abolish it later.

She Denies Blackmail

MISS MURIEL BUELL, California beauty who was arrested in New York yesterday on the complaint of "Jeff" Livingston that she tried to blackmail him.

MILLIONAIRE, 60, JAILS BEAUTY, 28

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Jefferson Livingston, "ketchup king" and millionaire sportsman, today caused the arrest of Miss Muriel Buell of San Francisco, Los Angeles and Mamaroneck, New York, who recently sued him for breach of promise and asked $1750 a month for life.

Livingston, who is 60 years old and was formerly head of the Snyder Catsup Company of Cincinnati, accused Miss Buell of creating a disturbance in his Wall street office, the climax, he alleged, of numerous demands for money and pilfering of his private papers.

Miss Buell, who is 28, when arraigned in Tombs court, indignantly denied that she had attempted blackmail. Her chauffeur, she said, drove her to Livingston's office in the $16,000 car he had given her and when ordered out she refused to go. Livingston locked the doors, she asserted, and called detectives.

Muriel Buell is the daughter of the late Dr. William E. Buell, murdered by a fanatic during the war at the hospital of the Union Iron Works in San Francisco, where he was chief physician. Her elopement with William J. Caples, scion of a wealthy Texas family, created a sensation in 1915.

She was a school girl at the time and met Caples at a reception aboard the cruiser Denver in the San Francisco bay. They were married in Los Angeles and divorced a year later.

"I had skin trouble for a good many years. It started in with real small pimples which later grew larger and festered, and affected my face and neck. They itched a great deal and I lost some sleep on account of the irritation. My face was badly disfigured.

"I tried several other remedies but they all failed. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they helped me, and after using four cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Ethel Maxwell, Manville, Wyo., April 11, 1924.

CHILDREN'S HOME ORDERED TO CUT RISK FROM FIRE

MODESTO, Nov. 14. — Acting through George Wallace, fire chief of Modesto, the state fire marshal has ordered the Faith Home for Children at Keyes to remove fire hazards and install protective apparatus that will safeguard 18 children there.

Chief Wallace reported to the city council last night on his inspection of the home and declared that, as the building now stands, it is a fire trap.

The building, said Wallace, is a large two-story frame house with a stairway up the center. The children sleep upstairs, and, according to Wallace, the stairway offers their only means of escape in case of fire. He said a fire might make the stairway a mass of flames, shutting off escape.

No fire drills have been practiced and the only fire fighting apparatus there was one fire extinguisher, he said.

Fire Chief Wallace instructed the management to install a fire pump, put in fire escapes, install three standpipes with 1½-inch connections for hose, install a pump so that adequate pressure of water may be available at all times and to practice fire drills both day and night so that the children and those in charge of them may know just what to do at any time in case of fire.

The inspection was ordered, it is understood, as a part of the state's policy to insure safety for wards of both public and private institutions.

Wallace will return to the Faith Home soon to see that his recommendations have been followed out.

GANGLAND TRUCE HONORS GUNMAN

LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE BY UNITED PRESS

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Gangland called a truce today to do honor to Dean O'Banion, suave gentleman-crook, who died with his boots on in a fiery flash of the sporadic warfare between rival gangs of beer runners. From the alley slipped the slug-jawed and furtive-eyed, while from the Wilson avenue district and the Loop hotels and "soft drink parlors" came prosperous appearing, click-hatted, thick-joyled men of the bootlegging and other prosperous enterprises.

The huge piece of thousands of roses labeled "from his pals" was too large to find space within and it was carted to the cemetery. Fully $25,000 was spent in flowers, it was estimated.

The chieftain's body is encased in a beautiful coffin prepared in the east at a cost of $10,000.

So far police have been unable to find a trace of the three men who shot O'Banion to death in his florist shop, maintained as a mask of respectability.

Some 300 gangsters stood with heads bent and jaws gripped hard while the widow wept as the Chicago Symphony Orchestra softly played "Ave Maria" and "Face to Face." No prayer was offered for the repose of O'Banion's soul, as he was not in good standing with the church.

Six bandit pals carried the casket through a huge crowd to the hearse. Approximately 150 limousines, packed with gangstersand their friends and men and women in shabby attire, recipients of O'Banion's charity, were in the funeral procession.

German Marks of Old No Good, C.C. Informs Holders

BERLIN, Nov. 14.—A great many Americans, who possess German paper marks bought at bargain rates in the days of inflation still cling to the hope that the mark will come into its own, judging by the number of letters received by the American Chamber of Commerce in Germany from various parts of the United States.

Many of the writers are women, who inquire how much longer they must hold the notes before they are redeemed by the German government.

The paper mark went out of business a year ago this week, when the rentenmark came into use. There was then so much of it on hand that in numerous instances banks and other institutions turned the marks over to junk dealers by the ton.

Most of these notes, which toward the end of the inflation period, were not worth the paper used in their manufacture, have been destroyed or made into pasteboard boxes and the like.

Bankers here declare there are probably more of the old German marks scattered about the United States than exist today in all Germany itself.

Davis' Popular Vote More Than Million Behind Cox

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Revised and virtually complete figures on the presidential election of 1924 today destroyed some of the popular illusions that were held by political observers prior to the national march to the polls on November 4.

For one thing, the popular vote, as now compiled, falls considerably short of the thirty-million mark estimated by the various campaign managers, and in the final analysis will barely exceed the 26,000,000 mark established in the Harding-Cox fight four years ago.

These figures show that, despite the strenuous and in many instances, non-partisan efforts to get out the vote, there are still millions of "vote slackers" who refuse to allow a presidential contest to interfere with their pleasure or routine of life.

Official returns from all states are still lacking, but the vote today had been sufficiently tabulated to reveal some interesting facts anent the epochal the election of 1924, which will be studied and pored over by the political historian of the future.

DAVIS RUNS MILLION VOTES BEHIND COX.

Comparisons between the races run by Davis and Cox against Coolidge and Harding, respectively, are difficult to make, although history will record both of them as badly defeated. Davis carried one more state than Cox did, twelve against eleven, yet Davis ran more than a million votes behind Cox in the popular vote. On the basis of the La Follette complication, some observers believe that Davis ran proportionately stronger against Coolidge than Cox did against Harding.

Unofficial but fairly accurate totals for the 1924 election are: Coolidge, 14,100,000; Davis, 8,000,000; La Follette, 4,200,000.

The vote for minority tickets, such as Prohibition, Single Tax, Socialist, Labor, American, etc., will be necessary to bring the 1924 popular vote ahead of the 1920 figures.

On this basis of virtually complete tabulations, which all parties agree is probably accurate, it is shown that President Coolidge ran ahead of Harding in 17 states, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Wyoming, Florida and South Carolina.

HARDING FIGURES LEAD IN 31 STATES.

Coolidge ran behind Harding in 31 states. Arizona, Delaware, Georgia, Idaho, Iowa, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Alabama, Arkansas, North Carolina, Virginia and New Mexico.

Davis ran ahead of Cox in 19 states: Georgia, Illinois, Iowa, Massachusetts, Michigan, Mississippi, Nebraska, New Jersey, New York, Oklahoma, Rhode Island, Texas, Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, North and South Carolina, Virginia and Utah.

LA FOLLETTE LEADS COOLIDGE IN ONE STATE.

La Follette ran ahead of Coolidge in but one state—Wisconsin. He ran ahead of Davis in eleven states—California, Idaho, Minnesota, Montana, Nevada, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota, Washington, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

In most of these states, the combined total for La Follette and Davis exceeded the Coolidge vote.

There are many indications that La Follette cut far more deeply into Davis than into Coolidge. This is particularly true of the border states and the western states. In the border states like Kentucky and West Virginia and Maryland, La Follette took enough away from Davis to allow Coolidge to "squeeze through."

State	Coolidge	Davis	La Follette	Harding	Cox

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Trains to Stop West Side of Grand Avenue

Following a request by Commissioners William J. Baccus and William J. Moorehead and officers of the Oakland Apartment House Association, W. R. Alberger, manager of the Key System Transit company, today announced that the traction company would hereafter stop all eastbound Key System trains on the west side of Grand avenue at Harrison street in order that passengers discharged on the park side of Harrison boulevard will not have to cross that street through heavy traffic.

District to Refuse to Pay in Bond Theft

OAKDALE, Nov. 14.—The directors of the Oakdale Irrigation District have definitely decided that they will not pay for coupons clipped from $10,000.00 worth of Oakdale Irrigation District bonds, and stolen on December 27, 1923, in a bank robbery at Anaheim. Hartford Insurance Co., which made good the loss, has asked that it be reimbursed by filing a bond. Attorney P. H. Griffin for the district states that if the original coupons turn up they must be paid by whoever should be treasurer in the future and the bond given the present treasurer, T. M. Maxwell, would not then hold.

$6,000,000 State Surplus Is Assured Riley Reports

In the trail of talk that the State of California would face a deficit, and out of the gloomy predictions at the last session of the legislature that nothing short of an extraordinary transfering of funds and, possibly, new taxes, would keep the commonwealth "out of the red," has emerged State Controller Ray L. Riley with a report showing that the fiscal year 1924-25 will close with a surplus of at least $6,000,000.

And, as if this were not enough, Riley shows that if the legislature takes the necessary action to transfer some of the money received by special funds over to the general fund, the surplus will be between eleven and twelve millions of dollars.

BALANCE STRUCK.

The Riley report is remarkable in that for the first time in the history of the state a balance has been struck showing the actual condition of the general fund. Hereafter, at any time, such a balance may be struck upon two hours notice.

Those who have followed the business of the legislature, discussions of tax bills, etc., and who have listened to opposing political arguments which place the state budget at varying amounts from $75,000,000 to $115,000,000 will realize that this means a system of bookkeeping has been adopted which will remove the opportunity to choose a figure to suit the ends. And the main reason for this is that the old system of clattering transfers from one fund to another, sale of bonds, etc., as both receipts and expenditures, is discontinued. The state's books today, for the first time, show actual conditions.

SURPLUS MAY MOUNT.

The state will close the biennium with a surplus of close to $6,000,000, to be made close to $12,000,000 subject to action of the legislature in the transference of special funds to the general fund.

The figures do not include the gasoline tax or other special taxes not reckoned in costs of government.

Inheritance taxes have brought in $1,300,000 more than the estimate.

The returns from public service corporations have netted more than $5,000,000 over the estimate.

Whereas the normal rate of increased revenue to the state in these items is two and a quarter millions of dollars, for the last fiscal year it was ten millions.

Politicians as well as statisticians will find interesting items in the state balance sheet. It is shown that the governor's estimate of revenue for the biennium as presented to the legislature in 1923 in the famous budget was $80,037,000, whereas the receipts were actually $92,389,352. Had it not been for the unexpected increase in state revenue there would have been a positive deficit of $6,000,000 instead of the surplus in that amount.

Th first balance sheet showing the resources and liabilities of the state is taken from the new general fund control ledger established at the close of the last session of the legislature. The controller is now prepared to make similar statements to the legislature and the public at frequent intervals and upon short notice.

The necessity for some system that would permit of this result was apparent at the last session of the legislature. It was found, even by the controller himself, to be almost impossible to reach an accurate balance of the state's affairs because of a system of accounting that had grown up and been adhered to without reference to a changing system of state finance. When it became apparent that accounting systems had not been changed to meet the changes in the systems of state finance, the state controller immediately set about correcting existing shortcomings and the "general fund control ledger" was the result.

HERE'S RECORD OF STATE PROSPERITY.

The following is the first balance sheet ever struck and is made of approximately November 1:

Assets.
Cash on hand July 1, 1923		$ 4,247,423.23
Bonds in which the general fund surplus had been invested, on hand July 1, 1923		4,463,569.00
Estimated receipts 75th and 76th fiscal years based upon actual receipts for fifteen months to Oct. 1, 1924		92,389,352.50
Special funds that will relieve entire appropriations of self supporting agencies		7,796,451.00
Special funds that will partly relieve appropriations of partly self supporting agencies		4,961,683.62
LIABILITIES.
Total authorized expenditures, actual and estimated as of July 1, 1923. (This includes all appropriations made by the Legislature of 1923, all fixed charges and all recurrent appropriations. The figures of these three classes of expenditures are actual and fixed. The only "estimates" are in such cases as schools and orphans' aids where the amounts paid vary with school attendance and the number of orphans added)	$107,665,241.07
Net increase in various estimates as between the original estimate set up in the General Fund Control Ledger on July 1, 1923, and the revised estimate of October 1, 1924	125,205.97
SURPLUS, POSSIBLE.
Frozen balances, subject to Legislative action and which may be turned back to the general Fund (minimum estimate)	$ 4,408,949.06
Probable surplus shown above	6,067,973.31
Possible surplus dependent upon the action of the legislature	$10,476,922.33
GENERAL FUND RECEIPTS, Actual and Estimated.
Estimated revenue for the Biennium [illegible] mendations and Estimated Revenue" presented to the Legislature of 1923	$80,037,000.00
Controller's estimates as of July 1, 1923	$1,591,846.25
Actual income for the fifteen months July 1, 1923 to October 1, 1924	62,800,056.86
Controller's revised estimate as of October 1, 1924 (which see above in "Assets")	92,389,352.50

The item of "Frozen Surpluses subject to Legislature Action" consists of balances in special funds which can not be used out of those funds and which can be turned back into the general fund by the legislature. This figure will also vary during the balance of the biennium and is placed at a minimum of $4,408,949.06. It may even reach $5,000,000 so that, should this sum be turned back into the general fund by the legislature, the state would close with a surplus of between $11,000,000 and $12,000,000.

None of these figures include the money impounded in the litigation over the rates of the King Tax bill, which sum has reached approximately $11,000,000 and which will revert to the general fund in case of a decision from the United States Supreme court is favorable to the state.

Regulars Will Start For California Against Nevada; Warner Announces Intention of Using Second String at Kickoff Against Montana.

By DOUG. MONTELL.

Last night Andy Smith stood before 15,000 Californians in the Greek Theatre at the annual Pajamarino rally and for five minutes put all of this aside and told of the accomplishments of the California football team this season, and even went so far as to tell what he believed it would do in the future.

"They all had us licked, not once, but several times, at the start of the season," said Andy, "and it looked as though we might be licked. The one thing that has made California the team it is today is the California spirit displayed by the red-blooded Californians on the team."

Andy didn't stop here but went on to explain exactly how and what he meant by it all.

"Before we met U. S. C. and Washington, teams pointed at us. It was evident that man for man both teams were superior to California. But there was a certain 'something' which both U. S. C. and Washington feared. And it was that certain 'something' which enabled us to win from them just as I believe it will enable us to win from Stanford. That 'something' is the spirit of the team and the support given it."

Andy Satisfied With the Outlook.

If one were to judge by Andy Smith's words last night he is not only satisfied with what his team has done but is satisfied that they will accomplish the feat of beating Stanford.

Not that Smith or any other coach would be likely to come straight out and say "Yes, we will win," for that never happens, no matter how easy the game appears. But Andy Smith appears satisfied, which, in itself is a good omen for Californians who hope to see the Bears continue their unbroken winning streak.

Captain "Babe" Horrell was also among the speakers of the evening and, with characteristic modesty, attributed the success to the great work of his little playmates. No one is deserving of as large a share of credit for California's work thus far as is this same Horrell, easily the best center California has produced in years and an outstanding candidate for an all-coast, if not all-American berth.

Regulars to Start For Blue and Gold.

Tomorrow the Bears tackle Nevada, while Stanford entertains Montana. The situations at the two universities are direct opposites. Andy Smith, in announcing tomorrow's starting line-up, indicated that his regular team would start, with the exception of Thatcher, who will be replaced by Huber.

It is entirely probable that Couper will be in Rau's place at the kickoff, while Brown may be given the office to start at halfback instead of Imlay. Minor ailments may keep Thatcher, Rau and Imlay out of action, for there will be no chances taken a week before the big game.

At Stanford, Glenn Warner announced this morning that Ernie Nevers will be the only regular to start the game against Montana. Whether this is a strategic move, Warner intending to shove in the regulars at an opportune moment to start a drive after the subs have worn down the defense of the Grizzlies, remains to be seen.

Bears and Cards Should Win Games Tomorrow.

Both California and Stanford should win tomorrow with little trouble, the only problem being to come through their respective games without suffering any serious injuries.

From this point of view Warner's plan may be the test, for if he finds that the subs can beat Montana, he will be able to keep his regulars on edge by a couple of scrimmages the early part of the week, although scrimmage more often than not takes a heavier toll of casualties than a game.

Tomorrow will show whether Nevers can reach his true form or not. If the big fullback hits his real stride against Montana the Cardinal stock, which has been below par this past week, will soar a bit and bring the odds up to even.

Failure of Stanford to show as well as expected in the last two starts has given the Cardinal supporters a bad case of back sliding from early season confidence and latest quotations find the Sons of the Red asking 10 to 7 odds on the outcome of the annual big tilt, which, be it said, a fair comparison of the strength of the two teams does not appear to warrant.

Advance Sale For St. Mary's-S. C. Game On

SEAT sale for the St. Mary's-Santa Clara game, to be held at Ewing Field in San Francisco November 27, has opened to the public, according to an announcement made by Graduate Manager Louis Le Fevre of St. Mary's College this morning.

According to Le Fevre, the public is being given an opportunity to secure any and all seats, with the exception of those reserved for the rival rooting sections.

A heavy last-minute demand last year caused Le Fevre to start the sale earlier and tickets may now be obtained at St. Mary's College or at A. G. Spalding & Bros., Oakland.

At the end of the 4th quarter the score was 22 to 22, an extra 5 minutes play being necessary. Christie Hague and Nankin starred for the winners and Figerold for the losers. All 130 or 110-lb. teams wishing games call Lake. 500 between 9 and 5:30. W. B. Stickel, coach.

HE'S A BACKFIELD BY HIMSELF

Meet AL YOUNG, Andy Smith's fullback sensation, who bids fair to rank with the best plungers on the Coast when the season's performances are totaled up. Against the University of Washington last Saturday on a wet field, Young made more yardage than the entire Washington backfield combined. Smith is expecting great things of Young against Stanford, and many believe that the great Ernie Nevers will actually be outplunged by the Blue and Gold star.

Warner's Plan For Grizzlies A Bit Different

Record of Montana None Too Impressive But Cards Will Take No Chances.

By DAVID MEIKLEJOHN

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 14. — Tailender will meet leader here tomorrow when the Stanford varsity clashes with the University of Montana football eleven at 3 o'clock.

Montana is at present trailing the Pacific coast, having lost two conference games, one to Washington, 52 to 7, and another to Idaho, 40 to 13. These scores seem to indicate that Stanford will have a decided edge over the invader.

The Grizzlies have proved to be a woefully weak defensive eleven, and Warner's improved backfield should have little difficulty in piling up a comfortable lead.

HARD FIRST YEAR.

This is Montana's first year in the Pacific Coast conference and the Grizzlies have been having quite a little trouble getting accustomed to the weather.

Warner should have little trouble in dousing the northern team under a heavy score. The game will mean quite a bit to the Stanford eleven.

Warner has been preparing more for the big game this year than for the coming Montana contest. Secret practice this week has consisted chiefly in working off the rough spots, getting the backfield to handle with greater precision, and with a great deal of emphasis on the passing.

There are still a great many rough places in the Card backfield. The backs are still too prone to let the ball slip through their fingers. A break for California in the Big Game might give the Bears all the advantage.

ENDS SATISFACTORY.

The stellar work of the Cardinal ends against Montana leaves many of the Stanford supporters breathing with an easier grace. When Thomas was injured there was some conjecture as to the man who would fill his place respectfully.

Middleton was chosen but failed to fill all the requirements. Ted Shipkey has proven conclusively that he is the man for the position. While a little light, Shipkey has all the punch and enthusiasm so requisite of a good wing man.

With Nevers in the backfield and Lawson and Shipkey playing ends Warner figures on using the passing game to gain most of his yardage.

It would not be at all surprising to see Warner uncork a passing offensive against Montana tomorrow, more or less as a test.

Ernie Nevers is slated to start at fullback again tomorrow. Last night Nevers was limping slightly, so it is improbable that he will play during the entire game.

Nevers got along all right in the Utah game aside from a tendency to fumble the ball occasionally. He has been practicing passing and kicking during the last week and has proved to be just as adept at both as he ever was.

DUE FOR VACATION.

The regular halfbacks are evidently due for a vacation tomorrow. Warner is starting Jim Kelley and Bill Walker at the positions. The rest of the squad is also suffering from a great many changes, proving that Warner is not take the Montana game any too seriously.

The team that lines up against Montana, then, will be a much weaker one than the regular varsity and anything might happen before "Pop" could call in the regulars.

Montana might easily come down with an idea of winning at least one conference game and give the Cards considerable of a struggle.

Kelly, quarterback on the Grizzlie eleven, has a fair reputation as an all around player and especially as an open filed runner. He has impressed several audiences with spectacular runs this season and is among the leaders in touchdowns scored during the season.

By W. D. McNICOLL

A team of seven players captained by Mrs. C. H. Terry, defeated a similar number of women golfers captained by Miss Cynthia Pike by a score of 13 to 7 points yesterday at Berkeley. All matches were played on a handicap basis, strokes at holes and points were scored on the Nassau system. Miss Pike scored a three point victory over her opponent, Mrs. Terry, who has not yet found her putting touch.

Mrs. C. B. Joeckel emulated her captain's feat and gained a three point victory over Mrs. W. S. Hatch, giving her side a six point lead. Mrs. Grover S. Johnson playing for Mrs. Terry's side, gained a three point win over Mrs. Otto Stiegler, who failed to score over either nine.

Mrs. W. M. Demming evened the scores when she won all three ways from Mrs. E. O. Edgerton for the maximum points. Mrs. C. L. Parmenter and Mrs. E. E. Jamison staged the closing contested match of the day, Mrs. Parmenter gaining a lead over the out holes, but Mrs. Jamison same right back and evened the match over the in holes, neither were able to secure the extra hole to capture the match and gain the extra point.

Miss Myrtle Stiegler gave Mrs. Terry's side the lead when she won her match and both nines from Mrs. W. D. Mason. Mrs. W. M. McMillan added three more points to the winner's score when she won rather easily from Mrs. Ben Dixon, who failed to play up to her regular game.

Yale Team Given Rousing Send-off

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 14.—Yale gave her football hopefuls a rip-roaring sendoff as the team with coaches and attendants started for the lair of the Tiger today. Accompanied to the station by a goodly proportion of the student body the Yale players boarded a special train which will carry them direct to Princeton.

California Reserves Vs. Cards Tomorrow

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 14.—Stanford and California reserves will meet here tomorrow afternoon in the annual championship clash at 1 o'clock.

California reserves are favored to win if comparative scores are any indications, however, the Stanford team has some strong material and might spring a surprise.

Tigers Picked To Defeat Yale On Gridiron

By LAWRENCE PERRY.

SPECIAL BY WIRE TO THE TRIBUNE

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—While the Nebraska-Notre Dame game at South Bend, the Cornell-Dartmouth game in New York and the Pennsylvania-Penn State tussle at Franklin Field rank high in point of interest among Saturday's games, the Princeton-Yale battle in Princeton stands out in traditional flavor and in the promise it holds of a thrilling contest.

Both elevens in preliminary games have been developing toward that point where they may be said to have found themselves. Princeton found herself in the game against Harvard last Saturday and since they have a genius at Princeton for working football players to the peak of physical condition and holding them there over the Harvard and Yale games, it is altogether likely that the Tigers will be as fit and as eager to play football as they were at Cambridge.

TIGERS SHOULD WIN.

But on form as shown to date, and allowing for a rather decided improvement on Yale's part, it would seem that Princeton should win by a small margin after a tough game. One can say no less than this in view of what the Tigers showed at Cambridge and what Yale has shown thus far. Breaks of various sorts might upset all this, but one has to assume that breaks will not occur—even though so often they do.

Cornell has been making rapid strides ahead in the past two weeks and while Dartmouth is a fine team and has made a good record this season, it would seem that Gil Dobie has the genius to bring the Ithacan through to victory.

Michigan, on all canons of form should beat Ohio State and now that Penn State has solved her early problems she is likely to score more prominently than the Quakers. Georgia Tech should beat Vanderbilt. Georgia should vanquish Auburn and Alabama will probably smother Centre. Iowa probably has the power to defeat the uninspired Wisconsin eleven and Illinois will probably prevail over Minnesota.

The Notre Dame team has been pointing for the Nebraska game and Knute Rockne, the coach, is determined to break the two year jinx. But the cornhuskers have also been pointing for Notre Dame and Fred Dawson the coach, believes he has discovered exponents that will make a lot of trouble for the South Benders. We shall see. Not knowing what these exponents are or how effective they will be, there is no alternative to selecting the Indiana eleven as the winner.

The Brown-Harvard game looks like a toss up. Brown was held against Haskell Indians last week and Harvard was held against Princeton.

BERKELEY AND ALAMEDA GRID TEAMS MEET TOMORROW

Tennis Champions Are to Give Exhibition at the Courts of the Berkeley Tennis Club Tomorrow Afternoon

A. C. A. L. Grid Teams to Meet For the Title

The Alameda County Athletic League title will be at stake tomorrow when Berkeley and Alameda high schools clash at 10 o'clock on Berkeley's field. Although the Yellowjackets under Coach Jimmy Hole, are favorites to win the title, the Alameda team has proven its ability by its unbroken string of victories this season. Some of the best teams of the central part of the state are among the victims of Rittler's team.

Oakland, Centerville, Alhambra, the Stanford Freshmen goofs and Piedmont have all gone home with the losing ends of the scores after encounters with the Yellow and Gray team.

The Yellowjackets will have a big advantage in weight as Alameda averages 160 while the College city team will weight over 178 pounds to the man. Berkeley's line with Doyle, West and Koch, is heavy enough to stop any high school team in the state.

Two members of the Berkeley team are on the injured list but as Hole has a supply of reserve strength, he is not losing any sleep. Brown Zarley and Jack Murphy, both halfbacks, are the men on the shelf. Zarley, who scored two of the touchdowns to defeat Piedmont last week, is out with an injured ankle and Murphy has been out for two weeks with internal injuries. Jack is the brother to Mike Murphy on the Stanford Freshman team.

WEST COMES BACK.

The Berkeleyans will be somewhat compensated for the loss of these two backs, when Leland "Fat" West will return to his tackle position tomorrow. He was unable to get into action against Piedmont because of a chipped shoulder blade.

Russel Wilson and Lud Frentrup will fill the positions of the two injured players, according to announcement from the Berkeley coach. These two played considerable football and will not weaken the lineup to any great extent. Frentrup scored a touchdown against Piedmont Friday.

Rittler has had his Alameda gridmen working out for two weeks as the Hayward game was called off. The lay-off has given all the players a good chance to get into condition so the strongest available lineup will take the field tomorrow.

BERKELEY FAVORITE.

Comparative scores show that Berkeley should win by at least two touchdowns as they defeated Piedmont 20 to 0 while Alameda won 21 to 12 with the aid of a fumble to score one of the touchdowns. Last year Alameda was defeated 30 to 0, but a closer contest is looked for this season.

Berkeley's line has demonstrated its holding powe, to such an extent, that it is believed that Rittler will use a passing game.

Playing Conditions Bit Rough at Best

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 14.—An asphalt burner borrowed from the city will be used by students of Gonzaga university today in an attempt to melt the ice and snow which has covered the Gonzaga stadium field the last two days and caused considerable worry to Gonzaga managers because of the game with the Whitman football team Saturday.

The big asphalt melter will be towed across the field by the freshmen students. They hope to melt the ice and then dry the gridiron. If these plans are successful they have announced they will cover the field with straw to protect it from the weather until just before the game.

Spalla's Challenge No Cause for Worry

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Erminio Spalla, who has challenged Jack Mempsey to a world's title match, holds the European heavyweight championship. He has twice invaded this country, the last trip being made last summer after a stop over in the Argentine, where he was knocked out in 14 rounds by Luis Firpo.

He challenged Dempsey while in this country, but neither promoters nor Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, displayed any interest in prospects of such a match.

Illinois Willing To Tackle Penn U.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—A home-and-home game with the leading eastern football team next fall and in 1926 will be scheduled by Coach Robert Zuppke of the University of Illinois eleven, it was learned here last night when the Illini entrained for Minneapolis to meet Minnesota Saturday.

As the probable winner of the 1924 western conference championship, Illinois has been considered as a likely opponent by several eastern teams for a game in 1925 and it is said overtures have been made by the University of Pennsylvania, which stands alone undefeated among the eastern teams this year.

Cozy Dolan Fades From the Picture

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The sudden departure of Cozy Dolan from New York, [illegible] ure of his attorney, William J. Fallon, to file papers in the threatened damage suit against Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis, has led to reports that plans for court action has been abandoned.

Dolan has given up his apartment on Washington Heights, and moved all his furniture, but his destination is not known. Fallon would not comment on reports that suit would not be filed.

Teddy O'Hara vs. Young Dudley.

American Game Makes Hit With Kids in Paris

PARIS, Nov. 14.—It remained for the children of Paris to appreciate the American national game of baseball, when their elders had failed miserably to do so. Lustily lunged crowds of French war orphans—boys and girls—yesterday cheered the New York Giants and the Chicago White Sox as they played their final game in Paris, and many of them were keen enough to see the fine points of the play.

There was whistling and applause from the youngsters in the second inning when the Giants tallied four runs, and still more of the same kind of bedlam when the White Sox, during their time at bat, made seven tallies. Again pandemonium broke out in the seventh when the Giants, who scored a run in the fifth, brought in two more runs and tied up the game, 7 to 7, and when the Sox immediately afterwards scored again [illegible] proved to be the winning run, making the score 8-7.

The heroes of the day were Bentley and Stengel, each of whom made three hits. The crowd, reminiscent of his wartime record, acclaimed "Hank" Gowdy every time the Giant catcher came to bat.

The players will leave here Saturday for Rome, after which their trip will be purely a sightseeing one. Most of the men, except Heinie Groh and Frankie Frisch, who are planning to go to Germany.

Leads Point Scorers; Has No Touchdowns

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—L. L. Jones, Massachusetts Aggie football star, has booted himself into a position among the leading eastern scorers.

Jones leads all rivals in the eastern sector in kicking goals for the extra point after touchdown. He has twenty-one to his credit, which with five field goals gives him a total of 36 points. He has not tallied a single touchdown.

Oaks May Not Be Sold, Says Geo. E. Howard

Vice-President of Club Returns From the P.C.L. Meeting.

George E. "Del" Howard, business manager of the Oakland Baseball Association, returned home yesterday from Seattle, and President Cal Ewing is expected here today. Howard denied that Ewing ever stated at the meeting of the Coast League directors that the club was "virtually sold," and that the sale of the local club was at no time discussed. Del believes that the story originated when Ewing put through a resolution that prevented San Francisco from having Coast League games while Oakland was at home, as it would give him a better chance to dispose of his franchise if he ever cared to do so.

REFUSE DONATION.

When asked if he thought the Oaks would be sold before the opening of the 1925 season, Howard said, "I do not think so." However, Del said that with the arrival of Ewing in Oakland today, he expected there would be a meeting with George M. Weiss and Walter Johnson, if the latter arrived from Los Angeles.

Weiss, New Haven club owner, has been around here for the last couple of days, waiting for Howard and Ewing to return and get their answer. At the Coast League meeting the directors turned down the suggestion that the league contribute a certain sum toward the purchase of the Oakland franchise for Walter Johnson. The Sacramento, Vernon and San Francisco clubs are reported to have voted in favor of the donation. Those in favor of backing a proposition to put Johnson in the league, felt that the entire league would benefit financially in the long run by having Johnson in it.

ENGEL AFTER JOHNSON.

Weiss has appointments with several people in Oakland during the next few days and he will also call on Ewing and Howard. He and Johnson hope to get a final answer soon.

Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, called Scout Joe Engel up the other evening and asked him to remain here. Joe has a hunting party planned with Johnson and he feels that in negotiations for the Oakland club drag long enough and he can get the big pitcher on the trip, he will slip a big fat Washington contract under his eyes for next season.

Del Howard is planning to attend the meeting of major and minor leagues to be held at Hartford December 2. Cal Ewing will also make the trip as he was appointed to represent the league at the National Board of Arbitration meeting. Ewing is a member of that board so the league is saving a little money. Howard said that if the Oaks are not sold to Johnson and Weiss arrangements will be made to make some deals at the meeting in view of strengthening the local club.

Last Night's fight results

PASADENA, Nov. 14.—Georgie Marks, featherweight boxer, last night won a technical knockout over Kid Chill of Los Angeles in the third round of a scheduled 4 round fight.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Sid Terris of New York knocked out Mel Coogan of Brooklyn in the sixth round of a 12-round bout here last night.

SAN PEDRO, Nov. 14.—Buck Curtis, Long Beach lightweight, easily won a decision over Kid Lurmay in the 4-round main event at the Chief Petty Officers' club here last night.

SAN JOSE, Nov. 14.—Mason Griffin was given the decision over "Young" Carpentier in the main event of the boxing program here last night.

Jim Minnick was given the decision over Billy Springfield, Eddie Kelly lost to Frankie Reagan, Eddie Dampher lost by a technical knockout in the third round to Dick Ellis. Battling Kelly was given decision over Billy La Flora. Jackie White was given decision over "Kid" Brown. Young Jimmy Schaeffer was given decision over Ricardo Ortega.

SAN PEDRO, Nov. 14.—Alky Akol of the U. S. S. Nevada, all-navy flyweight boxing champion, last night won a seven-round decision over Roque Navarro of the U. S. S. Pennsylvania in the first of a series of boxing and wrestling matches between crews of the Nevada and Pennsylvania.

Drake Team on Way To Tackle Aggies

DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 14.—The Drake university football squad, composed of 23 men, Coach Ossie Solem, Athletic Director Wilson and the trainer left last night for Kansas City, where they will stop off today en route to Manhattan, Kansas, where they play the Kansas Aggies Saturday.

Although the team is not in the best of condition, it was said last night that all the regulars would be in the lineup Saturday.

Reynolds Elected Piedmont Hi Captain

The election of Merrill Reynolds as captain of the 1925 Piedmont High football team was announced yesterday.

The diminutive quarterback will play his fourth year of football for the school season next year. He played at halfback for two seasons and called the numbers this year.

Bill Tilden Will Appear In Exhibition

William T. Tilden, holder of the national tennis championship, arrived in the bay region yesterday and will make his first appearance on the courts of the Berkeley Tennis Club tomorrow afternoon in the feature match of an excellent program of tennis in which many of the leading stars of this section will participate.

Tilden will face Ray Casey in the match at Berkeley tomorrow, and while Casey is not calculated to give the champion sufficient of a workout to force him to extend himself, the resulting play should be fast and Tilden, always going at full speed, will demonstrate the ability which has carried him to the top of his class as national champion.

Another national champion will be seen in action tomorrow when Miss Helen Wills, busy with the work at college since her return from the east, will make her appearance in two exhibitions.

Miss Wills will face Cranston Holman in a one-set match and will follow by meeting Ed Woodall in another one-set exhibition.

As the concluding feature of the afternoon William Tilden, paired with Vincent Richards, will meet John Strachan and C. J. Griffin in doubles competition.

The appearance of Tilden and Richards at Berkeley tomorrow is the first on the courts since coming west on the present trip. The two stars will also participate in an exhibition in San Francisco Sunday at the dedication of the new San Francisco [illegible].

The matches Sunday will be a repetition of those scheduled for tomorrow, with the exception that Bill Jonston will face Tilden in the feature match and Casey will take Griffin's place on the doubles team.

Upon his arrival yesterday Tilden had little to say about himself, refusing to discuss the writer-player situation in which he is the central figure. He intimated, however, that he would play tennis in 1925, a suggestion which would lead to the conclusion that the ruling of the committee was favorable to Tilden.

Tilden expressed regret that Johnston had not been included in the Davis Cup competition, stating that he considered Johnston the most wonderful player in the game today.

Tilden then went out on the courts of the California club and dropped two straight sets to Johnson in an exhibition by scores of 6-3, 6-2, the third set not being finished.

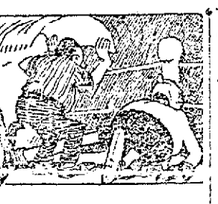

Tilden is a strong booster for the younger coast tennis stars who [illegible] for the first time during the past year.

"Both Cranston Holman and Helen Jacobs should go far in tennis," declared Tilden. Tilden also had a good word for the play of Alan Herrington and Bobbie Sellers, having taken keen interest in the two on his last trip west.

Twilight Tourney Planned in South

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—An eighteen-hole twilight golf tournament will be held at the El Caballero country club November 18, it was announced yesterday. The course will be illuminated by electricity.

Inside Dope on the LITTLE FOLD-DAMERON

By BOB SHAND.

Jack Britton, former welterweight champion of the world, will arrive here Sunday to finish training for his bout with Jimmy Duffy at the Auditorium Wednesday night. Jack's in Los Angeles at present but Teddy Hayes, who is handling him for Dan Morgan writes that the pair will be here Sunday and will work at the West Oakland club. Duffy is already hard at work as he realizes this is one of the most important matches of his career.

Promoter Tommy Simpson wants to thank all the boys who have so generously announced their willingness to build arenas for him, but states that he is perfectly satisfied with the Auditorium. Every day or so someone breaks into the news with plans for a $500,000 fight plant for our city and they are gradually getting closer to the city hall. If the cops don't watch somebody will be building a million dollar pavilion right on the city hall plaza.

Yesterday a stranger from Los Angeles called on the local promoter and asked him how he would like to have a swell new arena. The visitor showed plans which called for something real classy in the way of a fight house and expressed his willingness to stick it up any place the promoter suggested. Simpson did not have to assume any obligations, all the promoter wanted was his word that fights would be held in the place. He was sent back to Chinatown.

If Tony Fuente wants a real try-out Simpson suggests that he accept a match with Brownie Proctor. Brownie made his first appearance in any ring Wednesday night but Simpson declares from what he has heard of the methods used in bringing Fuente to the front that Proctor can lick him.

The blow-up of Luis Angel Firpo does not surprise those who watched the way in which the big fellow was built up for Dempsey. He was pretty well taken care of in his preliminary bouts. Now that he is of no further use to the promoters he is showing his natural form. Having been licked by Harry Wills and Charlie Weinert Luis will probably get wise to the joke the promoters played on him.

Young Carpentier who stopped Harry Scott here Wednesday night was licked by Mason Griffith at San Jose last evening. Carpentier's fights are coming too close together.

Erminio Spalla, who used to play punching bag in a New York gymnasium, is back in his native Italy and has deposited 2000 lire to show his good faith in challenging a gent named Jack Dempsey. Probably wants to pay the funeral expenses in advance. Wishful[illegible] fire?

Marty Farrell, conceded to be one of the cleverest middleweights that ever pulled on a glove, must be slipping fast when boys like Kid Mexico can defeat him. Mexico "took" the flashy Farrell at Wilmington Wednesday night.

Teddy Hayes phoned this morning that the Benny Leonard-Joe Benjamin match will be one of the first ten-rounders at Jack Doyle's Vernon club. Teddy says Billy Gibson, the champion's manager has accepted terms. Benny needs the advertising as he is supposed to be headed west on a theatrical tour.

Five Unbeaten Elevens Swing Down Stretch

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Form received such a pasting last week and the dope was kicked around so freely that most anything can happen on the gridiron tomorrow without qualifying as a shock.

Notre Dame, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Alabama and Stanford go into hard games as the major sectional leaders and unless the figures go wrong again they should emerge the leaders.

Notre Dame has what may be regarded at South Bend as the hardest game of the season against Nebraska. The corn huskers have jinxed the Catholics for two years but it will take more than a jinx to win tomorrow's game. Knute Rockne has his squad in better shape than they were last year and ought to get enough from Stuhldreher, Miller, Crowley and Layden to win. It is quite possible that Notre Dame may try in this game to make a big score.

Pennsylvania, the only undefeated and untied eleven in the east, has a hard opponent in Penn State. There is no outstanding player on the Penn State team like there has been in the past five years, but it has been coming along and should be right for this game.

Pennsylvania has been lucky so far this season. Last week's slim victory over Georgetown should do a lot of good, however, by convincing the players they are not too good. Pennsylvania looks like the choice with the possibility of a tie score.

Illinois goes to Minneapolis for a game with Minnesota. "Red" Grange will be the big attraction again and it is hardly possible that Minnesota can stop him. Grange has to be stopped to beat Illinois and he has not been stopped this season. Illinois ought to win.

Chicago may have trouble with Northwestern. Baker, the Evanston backfield star, is one of the greatest players of the season and Chicago may have as much trouble with him as they had last week against Grange.

Princeton and Yale will provide the most interesting game in the east.

GLORIA SWANSON ADDS NEW TYPE IN AMERICAN FILM

Italian Girl, Pet of Foreign Legion, to Be Played by Actress.

Gloria Swanson adds another nationality to her long list of characterizations in "Wages of Virtue," her newest picture which begins a week's engagement at the American theater tomorrow.

For the first time in her career she plays an Italian girl—a product of the slums of Naples who becomes the pet of the French foreign legion in Algiers. As Carmelita, the dancer, who charms an entire regiment, Gloria has a role that gives full scope to her wide versatility, bringing her even more praise than she received from "The Humming Bird" and "Manhandled."

Allan Dwan, who has guided Gloria in most of her recent pictures, again handled the directorial reins in "Wages of Virtue," having combined the piquant comedy of "Manhandled" and the intense heart appeal of "Her Love Story" with an entirely new element.

Ben Lyon, who will be remembered as College Moore's leading man in "Flaming Youth" and "Painted People," and who appeared with Pola Negri in "Lily of the Dust," is seen opposite Gloria in "Wages of Virtue." Norman Trevor, Ivan Lonow and Joe Moore are included in the Paramount supporting cast.

Tonight's performances of "Forbidden Paradise" mark the close of Pola Negri's engagement at the American.

CURTAIN CALLS
By Wood Soanes

IN the interests of truth it becomes the bounden duty of this column to arise today and make violent and vociferous protest.

Denver, the famous mile-high city, is the object of official wrath and the reason is Denver's announcement that it has achieved a world record which really belongs to Oakland.

"The Wilkes Players," announces the Denver Post, "this week are celebrating their sixth anniversary and are making theatrical history in Denver . . . distinction claimed by the company is that in addition to being America's finest stock company, it is now America's oldest stock company.

"Companies in other cities were started before this one but have had broken and varied careers while the Denham continues year in and year out in presenting the best of the classics, the standard plays and the brand new plays just off the boards of Broadway."

Now it is not the purpose of this department to quarrel with the Denham's claim to artistic distinction, that being a matter of personal viewpoint, but the fact remains that the local stock company was organized on September 15, 1915, thus making it the elder brother of the Wilkes organization.

J. Richard Ryan, being quizzed on the matter, reluctantly admits that he is even now preparing a lengthy screed for potential publication detailing the history of the theater from the time George Ebey took it over from Harry Bishop, said diatribe to be used in connection with the Anniversary Week celebration, which is to take place during Thanksgiving Week this year.

Ed Wynn considers himself a delight kid but he has found one person who can give him as good as he sends. As a result he is seriously considering the elimination of his circus question-bake which he completed with great mental effort and has been using with certain success.

To save time Wynn presents the aspirants to his chorus with a printed slip containing the following queries, which, when they have been answered, supply sufficient information for Wynn's needs. The list reads:

"Why did you go on the stage?

"Do you believe you have stage talent?

"Which do you regard your chief asset—beauty, symmetry, vivacity, voice?

"Are you ambitious to rise in your profession?

"Who is your ideal among feminine stars?

"Who is your ideal among male stars?

TWENTY SEASONS AGO TODAY

FORTY SEASONS AGO TODAY

"The Royal Middy" is at the Tivoli this week.

To all of which a pretty figurante replied as follows:

"The funniest thing in the way of a show I ever saw was 'A Perfect Fool.' The funniest man I ever saw on the stage or off is Ed Wynn. The funniest thing I ever read in my life is your questionnaire. I'll fill yours if you'll answer mine.

"Is that the answer to that one?

"What have you got against composers that you 'roll your own'; against librettists that you 'dope your own'; against stage wheeze manufacturers that you 'wheeze your own'?

"If a chorus girl couldn't maintain herself on the salary you pay would Santa Claus give her the balance?

"Is asking me whether I'm married or engaged, a proposal?"

Members of both organizations expressed themselves as heartily in favor of an extensive county-wide advertising program after listening to a report by E. B. Bull of Richmond, president of the realty association, on advertising stunts and booklets distributed by the Contra Costa delegation at the recent state convention of realtors at Pasadena.

Two Thousand Lovers---

Some women would be content with one ardent suitor. But Gloria Swanson has two thousand of them, making love to her daily—that is, of course, in her latest picture, "WAGES OF VIRTUE," in which she is cast as the pet of a regiment of the famous French Foreign Legion, that colorful band of adventurers.

She Chooses But One---

There were men from every one of the world's nations in this famous organization, but it took an American to win her. It is one of the most delightful of all Miss Swanson's picture successes, with its story laid in enchanting Algiers—and the ingenious Allan Dwan as its director.

SHIP INAUGURATES REGULAR SERVICE TO INNER HARBOR

Freighter William Perkins of Garland Line Unloads 1000 Tons Here.

The William Perkins, first of the line of freighters of the Garland Steamship Corporation to make the inner harbor on a regular schedule, came into the Lawrence Terminal and started the discharge of approximately a 1000 tons of general freight into the sheds of the new Municipal wharf. The steamer arrived from Baltimore and will proceed to Puget Sound to collect a return east coast cargo.

The William Perkins is one of a fleet of seven freight carriers operated on the intercoastal service by the Garland line. These vessels average 8000 tons register. General cargo will be handled, and all of the vessels of the fleet will make Oakland a regular port of call. Other vessels of the line include the Edgar Bowling, Norlina, William Campion and Albert Jeffress. The General Steamship Corporation is the Pacific coast agent.

A 1000 feet of poles were delivered at the Southern Pacific lumber wharf by the steamer W. H. Baxter yesterday afternoon. These were loaded in Portland.

Starts New Service Auspiciously

The freighter WILLIAM PERKINS of the Garland Steamship Corporation arrived at the Lawrence Terminal yesterday to start a new inner harbor service. The vessel had approximately a thousand tons of eastern cargo for Oakland delivery.

Outgoing Cargo Larger Than in-Bound Freight

ASTORIA, Nov. 14.—Nine vessels called at the local terminals during the week ending November 9, according to a report issued today by the port of Astoria. A total of 2221 tons of cargo was loaded and 464 tons discharged. Car receipts numbered 75, including 55 cars of wheat.

The tanker Lebec passed up river today to discharge oil at Portland.

The British tramp freighter Ashworth brought the corn around the Horn, and the rate charged was $6.75 a ton for the 8000-mile sea voyage. The duty paid was $5.40 a ton, making the total cost, in addition to the price paid in Argentina, $12.15 a ton. The rate on corn from Iowa is 71 cents per cwt., or $14.20 a ton.

Whale Ships Have Radio Finders

ALL STATE CROPS MUCH BENEFITED BY RECENT RAINS

Grass for Pasture Has Been Brought Up and Ground Ready for Plough.

Climatic conditions have been of great benefit to crops during the last month, according to a report today by the California Crop Reporting Service. The rice harvest and bean threshing were delayed to some extent by the rains but no serious damage seems to have resulted. Fruit harvest, with the exception of cleaning up the grape crop, has been completed. The rainfall, especially in the northern part of the state, accompanied by warm weather, brought on a good growth of grass in some localities, improving pasturage for livestock. Rains have also been beneficial in placing the soil in condition for plowing and grain seeding which has progressed rapidly during the latter part of the month. About 30 per cent of the rice crop remains to be harvested.

GRAPE CROP FIGURES.

A forecast of production, based on the present condition, indicates a crop of 300,000 tons of grapes of strictly table varieties produced on 104,000 acres. The 1924 bearing acreage of table grapes was 25 per cent greater than the bearing acreage of 1923. Shipments of all classes of grapes up to November 8 totaled approximately 53,000 cars, compared with the total movement in 1923 of 55,269 cars.

The total producion of grapes of wine varieties is estimated to be 350,000 tons produced on 127,000 acres. This indicates an average yield of 5500 pounds per acre. Last year 425,000 tons were harvested from 121,000 acres.

On the basis of 267,000 acres in bearing, the total production of dried raisins amounts to approximately 150,000 tons, which is much less than the crop produced last year. The tonnage of grapes of raisin varieties shipped this year is estimated to be about 150,000 tons, fresh basis, which is approximately 50,000 tons above the amount disposed of in this manner a year ago. The quality of raisins is very good.

Summing up the production of all three classes of grapes, the 1924 California Grape crop will probably amount to 1,550,000 tons on a fresh basis.

APPLES AND PEARS.

The preliminary estimate on the total production of apples was 67 per cent of a normal, which represents a total crop of 7,370,000 bushels. Approximately 60 per cent of the total crop constitutes the commercial apple crop or that part which is packed for market.

Shipments for this season to November 1 totaled 3525 cars, compared with 5164 cars to November 1, 1923, and a total for last year of 6505.

The commercial apple crop in the western apple producing states Utah, California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Colorado, is about 65 per cent of last year, and in the United States is 79 per cent as large as the crop produced in 1923.

The preliminary estimate on the total production of pears is 117,000 tons, which is the same as recent forecasts. The production last year was 125,000 tons. Shipments out of the state have been 20 per cent less than last year, while it is estimated that a larger tonnage has been utilized by the canneries.

ORANGES, OLIVES, ETC.

The condition of the orange crop is estimated at 82 per cent of a normal, the same as reported on October 1. Recent conditions have been favorable for the development of the fruit, which is sizing up better than was expected earlier in the season.

The condition of Florida oranges was 85 per cent on November 1, compared with 94 last year.

The condition of the lemon crop improved slightly during October and is now estimated to be 80 per cent of a normal, compared with 88 last year and the ten-year average of 82.

Olive harvest is now in progress and the crop proves to be very light as indicated by previous forecasts. The condition on November 1 was only 28 per cent of a normal, compared with 85 last year, and the ten-year average of 71. The 1923 crop was estimated to be 17,000 tons.

FIGS AND NUTS.

The season just passed was unfavorable for the production of figs. The [illegible] the total production of all figs—dried, canned and shipped fresh—is 60 per cent of a normal. Approximately 6000 tons of dried figs were produced compared with 9900 tons a year ago.

It is estimated that California produced 4200 tons of almonds this year, which is 61 per cent of a normal production. This may be compared with 11,000 tons produced in 1923.

The majority of the walnuts have been harvested and the yields obtained are below earlier forecasts. A production estimate based on 72 per cent of a normal production, indicates a crop of 21,500 tons compared with the crop produced a year ago.

POTATO FIGURES.

The preliminary estimate of average yield per acre for the entire potato production of the state is 155 bushels. Based on the total planting of 50,000 acres, a total production of 7,750,000 bushels have been grown. Of the total acreage about 11,000 acres are early potatoes produced in communities where potatoes are extensively grown. The remaining 9000 acres are mid-summer or late potatoes, scattered throughout the state, largely for home consumption, or for market in the localities where grown.

The total production for sweet potatoes for 1924 is estimated at 675,000 bushels as compared with the production of 690,000 bushels in 1923. It might be understood that this figure includes not only those sweet potatoes that reach the main trade channels, but also those important quantities which are grown for home use: sold in small quantities to adjacent markets, and those stored for seed.

Calif. Wine Stock Climbs to 62; U. S. Exports Show Large Gains; Commodity Prices Still Rising; Fall Trade Setting Rapid Pace

By H. S SCOTT.

California Wine common scored a gain of two points on the San Francisco stock market today, selling at 62 just before noon. The general rise in commodities generally includes stocks of wine and other assets which are being gradually liquidated and all of which benefits the stockholders. The oils were the feature of the market again. North America and new stock of Union Oil were the leaders, both being heavily traded in, though with very little advance. North America sold up to $3.20, a gain of 8 cents over the opening. Union remained about stationary. General Petroleum and Pacific were slightly stronger from the close of yesterday. There was nothing doing in the sugars. The utilities were firm.

The United States had a $671,740,000 favorable balance of trade in the ten months ending November 1, the department of commerce announced today.

The same period last year gave only a $126,915,000 excess of exports over imports.

Imports for the ten months amounted to $2,979,000,000 excess of exports over imports.

Imports for the ten months amounted to $2,975,000, against $3,212,000,000 in 1923, while the exports were $3,651,000,000 compared to $3,339,000,000 last year.

Imports of gold in the ten months period were $289,584,000 against $250,317,000 in 1923, while exports were $15,284,000 and $27,185,000 respectively.

Directors of the American Sugar Refining company today authorized the officers to complete the purchase of the National Sugar Refining company in which it already owns a one-fourth interest. Acquisition of the National company, Earl C. Babst, president of the American company, announced would enable the latter to restore its refining position in New York harbor. Both companies, it is understood, will retain the corporate identities. Details of the transaction were not revealed. Properties of the National company, a $15,000,000 corporation, are located at Brooklyn, Yonkers and Long Island City, New York. Its output represents about one-tenth of the refining business of the country.

Commodity prices in general have advanced rather sharply in recent weeks. This movement is the second series of marked advances from the year's low point in the second week of July.

The extreme ease in money rates continues. Slight temporary rises have occurred from time to time, but these have been only fractional, and have disappeared almost at once. With the continued, although reduced, inflow of gold, and the seasonal peak of credit demand reached and passed, there is no immediate prospect for materially higher rates, although it is quite possible that some firmness may develop in response to numerous applications for European loans.

A brisk movement of goods in distributive channels is indicated especially by statistics of railroad freight. In the second week of October, car loadings reached a weekly total only 5512 less than the maximum ever reported, while loadings of merchandise and freight in less than carload lots made the fifth consecutive weekly high record.

Further improvement is reported in the activity of cotton mills, both in New England and in the south. While it must be admitted that the cotton textile industry as a whole is still far from active, the increases are sufficiently numerous to indicate a measure of relief from the oppressive cost situation which has prevailed during the last year.

The price of copper remains low, in spite of the industry's improved statistical position. Although the output in the third quarter of the year was slightly greater than shipments, this is a not uncommon occurrence at this season. Copper is one of the commodities in which material improvement is expected to follow from industrial recovery in Europe, and further relief may be anticipated as a result of quickened foreign demand.

The output of petroleum is again declining. European stocks of refined products are believed to be unusually low, and an increased export demand for kerosene has already become apparent. Further price declines in gasoline have occurred this month. Excessive stocks of crude oil and refined products have been a feature of the petroleum situation for some time, and the marked decline in the rate of output from wells represents a strong corrective influence.

Building operations remain at an extraordinarily high level. The first three-quarters of the year show an advance of 12 per cent over the corresponding period of 1923.

The Wall Street Journal says: "The reasons why the Van Sweringen stocks continue to sell at prices that bear no relationship to their exchange values under the plan are difficult to grasp, but there are material disparities in nearly every case. C. and O. stocks, Pere Marquette issues and Erie issues are all selling below their parities, based on the prices of the [illegible] curb, and the greatest disparity of all is in the price of old Nickel Plate common. In the cases of Pere Marquette and Erie issues, the situation might be explained on the ground of fear that the plan will fail, but the only explanation of this kind that could be offered in connection with C. and C. is that the plan will succeed. It is difficult to accept the argument that two sets of stocks are depressed by one sort of fear and another set by a fear directly opposite thereto. Either from the point of view of assets or income, C. and O. is making the greatest single contribution to the consolidation."

Industrial production as a whole in the United States continues its moderate and irregular expansion, states the current issue of the Guaranty Survey, published by the Guaranty Trust Company of New York. With allowance for merely seasonal factors, definite progress away from the recent slackness is evident.

There have been a number of favorable developments which seem to promise improved conditions when the probable effects of the national election have been appraised, the Survey says. But in many branches of industry the long standing obstacle of disproportionate costs of production still constitutes the chief hindrance to progress. A correction of this situation, more than anything else, would promote an enduring expansion of trade, both domestic and foreign.

Industrial employment is slowly increasing, and wages are generally well maintained. Employment in manufacturing industries increased in September, while per capita earnings and payroll totals gained. All these increases tend to confirm the upturn which was observed in August.

The New York American says: "A stock market battle is said to be going on for control of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois. The sharp race in the Pfd. reflects the desire of three roads to acquire control."

The company has a total debt of $42,696,336 and has outstanding $22,046,100 6 per cent Pfd. par $100 and $23,845,300 $100 par common. The company operates around Chicago and takes in Terre Haute, St. Louis and other principal cities.

TICKER AND TAPE

The speculative following which has been attached to American can in a crusade to new high prices may be disappointed when directors of the company act upon the much heralded recapitalization plan. Today it was reported that there would be only a two for one split up. What the dividend will be on the new stock is a question. American Can directors are said to have given no consideration at their meeting a few days ago to the matter of recapitalization.

Cuba Cane preferred was again the leader of shares representing the Cuban sugar producing companies in Wall Street today. Cuba Cane is estimated to have earned approximately $14 a share on its preferred stock and with this calculation there was revival of reports anticipating early favorable dividend action.

The Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Company has officially notified the New York stock exchange in connection with the listing of $10,000,000 class B stock—200,000 shares of $50 par value—that the proceeds would be used for additional working capital. These new shares bring the authorized listed B stock to $93,923,650, or 1,878,473 shares and with the 1,000,000 shares of class A stock to a total of 2,878,473 shares.

The Simmons Company reports that net profits for the eleven months ended October 31 exceed $3,560,000, indicating profits for the year of more than 40 per cent greater than 1923, which were $2,774,305. Gross sales were $29,785,043, a decrease of 5 per cent under the previous corresponding period.

Net profits of the Underwood Typewriter Company in the first nine months of 1924 declined to $1,721,785 before federal taxes, equal to $3.81 a share, compared with $2,010,026, or $4.54 a share, in the corresponding period of 1923. The regular quarterly dividends on the preferred and common stock were declared.

A total of 45,479 General Motors Corporation cars and trucks were delivered by dealers to ultimate users in October, compared with 49,568 in September and 58,173 in October last year.

A bid of $102,000 for a seat on the New York Stock Exchange recalled the record of $115,000 established at the height of the 1919-1920 boom when optimistic members were predicting $150,000 for floor privileges. Such a price was considered today in financial circles to be within reach should the market hold its present big volume.

Simms Petroleum Corporation earned 22 cents a share in the third quarter and $2.01 a share in nine months, says A. A. Housman & Co.'s wire.

Packard Motor Car Company for the year ended August 31 reports net, after tax, interest and reserves, of $4,905,175, against $7,081,873 in the preceding year.

United States Industrial Alcohol continued its sharp upward movement in response to highly satisfactory accounts of current earnings. These are running at the rate of [illegible] When dividends come, it is thought, they are likely to be larger than has been generally anticipated.

Imports of crude rubber at all ports of the United States during the ten months this year were 261,017 tons, an increase of 2423 tons over the corresponding period last year, the Rubber Association of America reports. October imports jumped to 37,157 tons compared with 29,600 in September and 19,662 in October, 1923.

Steady improvement in the steel industry is realized due to operations in the U. S. Steel Corporation which have increased 3 per cent over a week ago. Mills of subsidiary companies are operating around 65 per cent capacity.

Dry Goods

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Cotton goods markets were strong and active today though no price increases were noted in quoted prices. Print cloths quotations stood at 9¼ cents for 64 to 60 and 10½ cents for 68 by 70. The raw silk market was fairly active with prices unchanged.

CHRISTMAS TOYS.

DULUTH, Nov. 14.—A record cut of Christmas trees is forecast from the number of men being sent into the northern Minnesota woods for this purpose. A strong demand from eastern markets is reported.

Rock Island Chief Denies Merger Talk

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—James E. Gorman, president of the Rock Island lines through associates today said that he had issued no statement or announcement relative to any merger of the Rock Island and the Southern Pacific lines. Gorman on October 10, speaking before the Rock Island Railway club here, said that so far as he knew there was nothing to indicate such a merger in the near future.

Wool Market

BOSTON, Nov. 14.—Buying continued active in the raw wool market today and dealers gradually were pushing prices upward. Territory and delaine wools of the best type are difficult to get and a fair amount of activity has developed in pulled wools. Gray pullen wools have been advanced to 90 cents and $1, while white B supers have sold at 1.20 to 1.25. Lower types have [illegible]. The [illegible] grade is so scarce that the quoted price of 1.60 is largely nominal.

GREATEST BOOM IN HISTORY NEAR IN ALL BUSINESS

By FRANK VANDERLIP.
Written for the United Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—I believe we are beginning an economic period during which practically every total measuring business activity will far surpass former records.

The new record of stock market activity, both in total shares and in the number of issues traded in, is but a forerunner of new high records in many other directions. The business scene is set for a protracted period of record-breaking totals.

We already have satisfactory labor employment at high, effective wages. With few exceptions there is no accumulation of surplus stocks of goods. There is a thoroughly sound banking position and facilities for an almost unlimited extension of credit.

There is an unusual degree of peace between employers and labor. There is a general feeling of confidence which promises to result in courageous undertaking of fresh enterprises.

European conditions are much improved and there is more reason for hopefulness than at any time since the Armistice, but I am confident there is no immediate serious threat that European industrial competition will endanger our own situation.

European governments have paid our government in the last five months $80,000,000 on interest accounts. Europe now owes our private investors $400,000,000 a year in interest. Europe must sell us goods or securities to pay this interest bill.

Indications are that we are likely to be offered European securities on a huge scale. I fear we may lend out of our super-abundant reservoir of credit too freely.

In time we are almost certain to run into a phase of inflation. The memory of 1920 is still too fresh to make such a movement precipitous, but I believe it is inevitable. We have every basis for inflation. Our gold stock has risen in ten years from $1,800,000,000 to $4,500,000,000. Much of that has purposely been made useless for the present by forcing gold certificates into circulation.

Some inflation is now under way. Rapidly increasing bank deposits mean that. Rising index figures of prices indicate it. As commodity prices continue to rise, there will be increased interest on the part of the buyers to cover their future needs and constantly increased stimulation to business.

The time will, of course, come when there will be great need for caution, but the outlook for some months at least is for great, and, on the whole, sound expansion.

FOUR SPECIAL WIRE SERVICES

MOTORS ARE BID UP IN ANOTHER HECTIC STOCK DAY

Studebaker, General Motors and Tire and Accessory Stuff Is Demand.

By STUART P. WEST.
SPECIAL BY WIRE TO THE TRIBUNE

WALL STREET, New York, Nov. 14.—Today on the stock exchange was another season of big trading and generally advancing prices. The price averages again reached new highs for the year and so did a large number of individual shares. The main criticism from a conservative standpoint lay in the character of the stocks selected for leadership. More confidence would have been felt had the rails been in the foreground as they were in the early part of the week or had the seasoned industrials among the steels and the coppers occupied a more prominent place.

As it was the feature of the day was the rapid upbidding one after another of industrials of "pool variety" that is in the set of stocks which ordinarily depend upon artificial support rather than upon genuine buying. In some of these the rise was fairly violent, running to 2, 3 and even 5 points. There was of course little or no news in connection with their movements. It was simply a case where interests connected with these stocks were taking advantage of the general excitement to mark them up.

Among the special movements was the revival of interest in the automobile stocks. Until today the motor group had been behind most other sections of the market. The switch into these stocks proved a popular move. General Motors crossed 60 on buying based on the attractiveness of the yield and upon the latest earnings foreshadowing the surplus of between $7 and $8 on the year. For the first time in a long while aggressive support was extended to Studebaker, pushing the stock well above 40.

Maxwell Motors A ran up swiftly, and so did Jordan Motors while there was a brisk recovery in Chandler.

The buying quickly spread to the shares of motor parts companies and to those of the rubber and tire manufacturers. Fisher Body had a spectacular jump. Stewart Warner went up sharply and Stromberg, Bosch Magneto, Hayes Wheel, U. S. Rubber, Goodyear preferred and Kelly Springfield were all noticeably strong. Buying of Fisk Rubber common which carried the stock across 10 was founded upon reports that bank indebtedness had been all cleared up and that the company was in line to resume preferred dividends.

Advances of two or three points were common in special stocks. Among these were United States Industrial Alcohol, Worthington Pump, Famous Players, U. S. Realty, International Paper which got above 50, Burns Brothers and Radio Corporation.

International Cement sold around its top figures on the report for the September quarter showing $2.66 a share earned against $1.6 the previous three months and $2 per share earned in the third quarter of 1923. International Harvester got above 100 again.

St. Paul Railway Issues Again Under Pressure; Liberties Softer.

SPECIAL BY WIRE TO THE TRIBUNE

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Business quieted down in the bond market today. There was further selling of high-grade securities to switch into something giving a larger return but the movement was not as pronounced as earlier in the week. Libertys which rallied sharply Thursday fell off somewhat again today. The savings bank railroad mortgages were just about steady and there was great irregularity among the bonds just below the best grade.

In the speculative rails the features were the strength and activity in I. G. N. adjustments and the heaviness in all the St. Paul bonds.

Apparently some large blocks of St. Paul issues were pressed for sale on a market not ready to take them. The time is fast approaching when the St. Paul bankers must take up the refunding problem. Meanwhile the best estimates are that earnings for October will be very satisfactory. Elsewhere in the railroad group there was continued strength in the Norfolk Southern refunding 5s and heavy transactions in New York Central debenture 6s, up fractionally. There were a number of points of strength among the industrials. U. S. Rubber 5s were in demand at 85 and above which is less than 3 points below the high of last January and compares with 78½, the low of June. Sugar bonds were higher notably eastern Cuban 7½s and Punta Allegre 7s. Virginia Carolina Chemical 7s maintained the improvement of yesterday and increased it. The copper bonds were firm, but the oils lagged.

Foreign bonds were inclined to react. The German 7s dropped below 95 and then rallied. Operation of the sinking fund is scheduled to begin tomorrow, that is, the first monthly payment on this account will be available for the purchase of bonds up to and including 105. The Austrian 7s also dropped back a little, and then made up the loss. United Kingdom 5½s of 1937 were strong at 106 and above. Hungarian 7½s were firm at 88. French bonds on the other hand failed to gain ground.

Today's new issues included $3,500,000 Louisiana Oil refining 5½ per debentures at serial maturities to yield from 4.75 to 6 per cent.

Sugar and Coffee

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The raw sugar market was quieter this morning with prices unchanged at 5.78 duty paid. No sales were reported but there were further offerings at quoted prices. Raw sugar futures were a shade lower under commission house selling, promoted by the reports of increased offerings in the spot market. Prices at mid-day were 1 to 3 points net lower. Refined sugar was quiet at 7.15 to 7.25 for fine granulated. Refined futures were nominal.

COFFEE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Increased offers of coffee from Brazil, especially from Rio, which was offering coffee here in the cost and freight market at nearly 2 cents a pound under the recent high levels, brought out fairly active liquidation in the local contract market today and prices declined 60 to 70 points. Leading commission houses were on the selling side and the show of weakness in the situation served to discourage buying, leaving the market without substantial support.

Gridley to Oppose School Land Change

GRIDLEY, Nov. 14.—There will be opposition to the proposed change of boundary between Gridley school district and East Gridley school district when the matter comes up for discussion at a meeting to be held next week. It is said by those who oppose it that the concession of the Ord ranch and adjoining lands will mean the loss to Gridley district of 1800 acres of the very best land in the district, the taxable value of which is already high and will become higher as improvements now being made are developed and extended. It is claimed that the transfer of territory to this district from East Gridley will not be adequate compensation for that given up.

LAW ON POLL TAX PUZZLES ASSESSORS

County Officials See Complications in Regard to Proposed Levy and Methods for Collecting It

With the increased revenue, resultant from the passage of the poll tax constitutional amendment on November 4, will come some knotty problems, a chance for the counties to profit, and an increase in the state's general fund.

County assessors and collectors are asking today who is going to collect the money, how the deputies are to be paid, and who is to benefit? There are some queer complications in sight.

The law provides that all who pay real or personal taxes to the amount of $5 a year shall be exempt. Today, on the books of the various counties, are thousands of persons assessed on the basis of $100 personal property. Ordinarily they pay something like $2.60 taxes and, at such an assessment, would be called upon to pay the $5 poll tax in addition.

It is pointed out if the county raise this personal property valuation to $200, or even less, the individual's tax would then be $5 and would all go to the county. In other words, the taxpayer would be assessed $5, which would go to his county, instead of $8.60, which would be divided between state and county.

Another stipulation of the law is that the money to be raised shall go to the schools. But the schools are provided for inspecific amounts under the statutes and draw upon the general fund. If a million dollars is raised by poll taxes, the drain upon the general fund will be lessened by that amount. The schools, in fact, will gain nothing. It is the state's general fund that will gain.

One of the complications causing the largest amount of discussion is that concerning the handling of the work necessary to the collection of the money. The task will be up to the counties and will require extra clerks, but under the present law deputies cannot be added or salaries increased without legislative sanction. It is true that amendment 8, passed at the recent election, offers the remedy, but that amendment has yet to go before the legislature and will not become a law before next July.

Co-eds Participants in University Festival

LOCAL LODGES TO ENTER FLOATS IN INDUSTRIAL SHOW

Fraternal societies and lodges of the Eastbay will be represented by elaborate floats and hundreds of members of the parade which will usher in the Oakland Industrial Exposition Saturday night, it was announced yesterday by the Eastbay Business Men's Association.

The plans of the Red Men and Daughters of Pocahontas for participation are in the hands of Walter Henning and Ruth Martin. Both orders will be present in their picturesque costumes, and will enliven the opening evening with a special war dance in the Exposition tent at Fruitvale avenue and East Fourteenth street.

Elks, Moose, Native Sons and Daughters, Modern Woodmen, Woodmen of the World and the Brotherhood of American Yeomen will also be represented and will have special nights in their honor during the ten days of the show. The parade will begin at 7:30 o'clock at the Southern Pacific station, and after marching east on East Fourteenth street and countermarching, will proceed to the tent and disband.

The policemen's glee club, the chorus of 100 and prominent speakers will be features of the entertainment program Saturday night. The program is to be broadcast from a local radio station.

The business men's body announced that this is the only show of the kind to be held in the Eastbay this year and that it will be completely representative of the industrial and business interests of Alameda county. Radio and automobiles will figure prominently in the exhibits.

Two Convicted of Stealing Vestments

BURLINGTON, Vt., Nov. 14.—A verdict of guilty of petty larceny was returned today by the jury in the cases of William McCreedy and Gordon Wells, alleged Ku Klux Klan probationers, who were tried on charges of grand larceny based on the theft of vestments and other articles from St. Mary's Cathedral August 8.

Seniors Picture Varsity Youths Studiously Tame

BERKELEY, Nov. 14.—A "nice studious boy," who drinks orangeade and says his prayers at night—this was the picture of the University of California students given at last night's pajamarino rally in the Greek theater.

The seniors did the portraying of the "ideal" college student in their class stunt. In contrast they gave the popular conception of the collegian. They showed him as the world-at-large is declared to see him, through the medium of sensational newspaper stories—as a "wild" individual, mixing wine, women and song.

The senior stunt proved the most popular of the evening with the 10,000 or more persons who mingled with pajama-clad students in the twenty-third annual rally of its kind held on the Berkeley campus. A rousing ovation lasting more than five minutes was given the varsity football team as it entered and took reserved seats adjoining those of President and Mrs. William W. Campbell, who rose with the big crowd and joined in the tribute to the gridiron heroes. Captain "Babe" Horrell and Coach "Andy" Smith spoke in behalf of the football team.

JUNIORS TO HOLD ANNUAL FETE AT U. C. TOMORROW

BERKELEY, Nov. 14.—Tomorrow will be Junior Day at the University of California.

Beginning with a theatrical production in the morning and continuing until midnight the junior class will rule the campus. A special section of the stadium has been reserved for them at the California-Nevada football game.

"Lady Bug, Lady Bug," the junior play of the day, will be presented at 9:30 tomorrow morning in the California theater. The farce was written by Brenton L. Metzler and Edwin Duerr. Metzler is one of the junior editors of the Daily Californian. Duerr is also a news editor of the campus daily and writes for the Pelican, student comic magazine. The farce will be presented by a curetin-raiser written by Kenneth Priestly of the Californian staff.

Immediately after the show, a luncheon will be served the junior class in Stephens Union with Miss Grace Hutchinson in charge of the luncheon committee. Following the luncheon the class will attend the football game.

A formal dance, the "Prom," from 9 to 12, will close the festivities in Stephens Union. Both floors will be used and two orchestras have been engaged. Stunts will be presented by members of the class.

The casts of the productions includes Myrtle Wilen, Nellie Hatchell, Madeline Cornell, Luella Rykoff, Barton Yarborough, Arthur Thorsen, Leonard Lathrop and Edward McDonald.

Clubwomen Hold Farewell Dinner In Old Quarters

Oakland Business and Professional Women's clubs celebrated the last dinner in the Broadway quarters last night. Farewells were said to the clubrooms which have housed the organization for more than a year. Early next month the housewarming in the new clubhouse in Webster street will be observed.

Miss Suzanne Chalmers presided at the final roll call. Toasts were given by Mrs. Gladys Barndollar and Mrs. Bessie Wood Gustason, past presidents; Miss Bird Wilson, past president of the holding company; Dr. Lillian Shields, president of the holding company, and Miss Zannetto Potter, chairman of the music committee.

"The Parade of the Furniture," a skit written by Mrs. Bessie Wood Gustason, was produced by [illegible] Mrs. M. B. Guber, Miss Florence B. Bussell, Miss Eva Stromberg, Mrs. A. M. Jessen, Dr. Luella Stone Swauger, Mrs. Lillian Bryant, Miss Mabel Little, Miss Jean De Lair, Mrs. Leona M. Henas, Miss Peg Kirsten, Mrs. Edna Spencer, Mrs. Carrie Hall.

A benefit theater party at the Fulton will be sponsored by the club on Thursday evening, December 4.

DOUBLING OF TAX TO PAY SCHOOL DEBTS IS URGED

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Five hundred and fifty property owners of Homewood, a suburb of Chicago, today petitioned that their taxes be virtually doubled. Their tax is $23,000 a year. They asked that it be made $40,000. They explained that the Board of Education was $50,000 in debt and that unless the revenue was increased the schools would have to be closed.

INDUSTRIAL BODY SEEKS TO COMBAT NEW LEGISLATION

Council Report Says Business Must Prepare to Battle on Five Issues.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

NEW YORK, Nov 14.—Business must gird its loins and prepare to battle next year on five major issues that arise from proposed national and state legislation, says a report submitted today to the National Industrial Council and affiliated organizations in semi-annual session here.

"The principal contests in the field of industrial legislation," said the report, "will be over The Twentieth constitutional amendment; the child labor law; attempts to enact monopolistic state insurance funds, or workmen's compensation; limitation of hours for labor for men in industry, state tax legislation, efforts of labor unions to secure further immunity from state laws."

Although a fairly heavy crops of anti-industrial and anti-business proposals will be introduced before state legislatures having regular sessions in 1925, the report expressed optimism that the list will be only half as long as the record of 12,000 in the states established in 1923. The report continued:

"While organized labor through its national body, the American Federation of Labor has not yet acted on a detailed program of legislation it will strive to have adopted in the states next year, many of the state agricultural bodies, church groups, socialistic and other radical factions already have formulated the major part of their programs.

"Republican victories in many state contests for legislative seats are expected to exert an unfavorable influence upon the class legislation programs of the labor unions, welfare organizations and radical groups. The belief prevails that conservatism will be the keynote of sessions in principal industrial states."

EX-FLYER FIGHTS HIS EXTRADITION

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 14.—William H. Harkins of San Jose, lieutenant in the British air forces during the World War and since then a hospital inmate, insane patient, prison felon and expert forger, began today his battle against extradition to Fort Worth, Texas, where he is wanted for breaking jail. Other authorities at Salt Lake City, Nashville, Tenn., Charleston, W. Va., and Pecos, Texas, have sent telegrams stating that Harkins is also wanted in those cities for various forgery charges.

Harkins was originally arrested in New Orleans where he is said to have forged checks to the amount of $100,000. He was not prosecuted but was sent to the Agnew, Calif., hospital for the insane, from which he had escaped a few months before. En route to the institution again, he leaped from the train near Colton, Calif, and escaped.

He was arrested in Pecos, Texas, and held in jail while sanity experts examined him. He escaped again and had been at liberty seven months when he was captured in a Miami hotel.

Harkins was wounded 74 times during his war service and wears a silver plate in his skull as a result of one of the most serious injuries.

Hutchinson of San Francisco in an answer filed by him to the [illegible] to get a sister, to have him removed as executor.

SENTENCE IS COMMUTED.

BOISE, Ida., Nov. 14. — The sentence of David Hoagland, who was to have been executed at the Idaho State Prison here today for murder, has been commuted to life imprisonment. Hoagland was convicted two years ago of the murder of W. D. Patterson.

The Oakland TRIBUNE is a member of the Association of Newspaper Classified Advertising Managers, which includes leading newspapers throughout the country and has for its aim the elimination of fraudulent and misleading classified advertising. The Oakland TRIBUNE as well as every other member of the association endeavors to print only truthful Want Ads and will appreciate having its attention called to any advertisement not conforming to the highest standards of honesty.

Want Ad Section INDEX

Want Ad classifications appear in numerical order and all related classes are grouped together. For example: All advertising of Rooms to Let is numbered 20 to 29. The numbers appear on the headings so, if you seek room and board, look through the "20's." "Board" is No. 25, and always follows Housekeeping Rooms (24). Note—Every "For Sale" or "To Let" heading has a "Wanted" classification with the same number but followed by the letter "A."

Announcements come before the other Want Ads and follow Fraternal Notices.

TODAYS SHORT STORY
by Ad Schuster

WHEN WORDS FAIL.

WHEN Laura Nelson met the handsome Jason Cramb she was flustered and when Laura was flustered she talked. It seemed to her she could not stop her tongue, that she was saying the most foolish things, and yet the young man regarded her with evident admiration.

"Yes," she heard herself saying, "I have always admired self-possession. I like men and women, who can keep their poise, who are ready in an emergency, and who know what to say and when."

Later in the evening, alone in her room, Laura reviewed the conversation with feeling approaching dismay. She had not given him a chance to talk. Just because she knew she had lost her self-possession she had to speak of it as an all important virtue. Without knowledge that the psychologists might supply an answer she wondered why she had criticized in others so heatedly and at such length a fault she knew to be her own

"Maybe, he's just the kind of man I described and thinks I meant him. I wonder what he does think."

Not long afterward she had the chance to find out. Laura, driving her runabout, approached town on the main highway, deep in thought. Another car came in from a side road. They were abreast and then there was a crash.

The girl's impressions were a tinkle of glass on the paved road, a quivering, shaking car and then a sense of horror as she saw the other machine topple over. She leaped to the ground and ran to the rescue, but the driver emerged before she could reach him. Covered with dirt, for he had been shoved along the pavement, he stood looking at her, silent and accusing. It was Jason Cramb.

"Oh, Jason, I am so sorry!"

Still he looked at her, saying nothing. Could not he accept an apology? And she who had met him but once had called him Jason!

"You see, I am sorry," she stammered, and at his lack of response she stiffened, "although, really, it was a bit of your fault." There was defiance here and a little of appeal. She hoped he was not hurt.

Could the man do nothing but stare? Well, she would see it through but she knew now what sort of man he was.

"Get in my machine and we will drive to a garage for a service car. If you wish to be taken to a doctor, let me know."

As they made their way into town Laura, pale and angry, held herself to keep from screaming. It was almost uncanny, this experience. It was bad enough to bump into the one man who held her thoughts, to injure him perhaps, but to find him a dumb and sullen brute, who would not accept a word of apology or offer a grain of comfort was worse, worse than anything she could imagine. She swung up to a garage. Jason alighted, turned sorrowful eyes upon her and went in. Laura, close to hysterics, took to her room.

"Well, I'm glad I told him I did not like men who failed in an emergency. He knows now what I think of him. Standing there blinking at me and never say-ay-ing a word." She felt better after an hour of tears and after a resolution never to speak to Jason Cramb so long as she lived.

Then the bell rang, insistently demanding an answer. It was Jason, pale and trembling, but wordless. He did not give her time to protest, took her by the arm, and led her inside. There was something masterful and comforting in his action, which belied his failure at verbal expression. They were both speechless now, the girl in amazement, and Jason, well, a note he extended held an explanation.

"Laura," it said, "I can't say anything. You see, I bit my tongue."

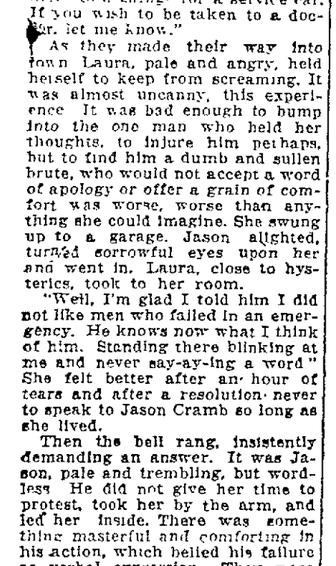

That was all. She understood now the dumb look of appeal.

"You poor boy," she said, all gentleness, "you must go right [illegible] that, after that, you . . ."

He grabbed the note and added, "I will have a lot to say."

ON THE HIGH SEAS.

My cabin was on the lower deck, and there was a nice sheltered nook just outside, beneath my porthole.

Presently I heard him saying: "Well, my dear, you can bet your pretty eyes that George is not moping alone while you are away. Old George is going to have his little thing—and what you don't know won't hurt you. And what he doesn't know won't hurt him."

She laughed amusedly, "my dear Jack, you can't judge George by yourself. And you couldn't shake my faith in George. You see, George is so absolutely square, the pink of good sportsmanship all through. He would no more cheat me than he would cheat at cards or golf. Honor is not a choosey matter with George—it goes clear through and applies to everything."

"Very pretty theory," sneered the man. "But George is just as human as the rest of us. It is mighty nice of you having such sublime faith in him and all that, but my dear, men are all alike—in that matter. I daresay Ethel has the same faith in me," he opined.

"A good deal of a cad, old dear, aren't you?" she gibed. "I should say you have made Ethel very unhappy in your time, but she is probably too game to let on. Now let us take a few brisk turns up and down the deck and say good-night. I tire of you so quickly, Jack, when you are this sort of a silly-billy. Your intellectual charms are so utterly submerged when you get sexey."

I rather liked the sound of that woman—evidently sophicated, by no means ignorant or excessively innocent, and yet apparently untarnished and without cynicism, and evidently in love with and scrupulously loyal to an adsentee husband. I liked the picture of the absent George, too—a man whose honor isn't "choosey," but actually applies to everything, who would no more cheat his wife than he would cheat at cards.

And every time I read one of those horrid comic page jokes about husbands deceiving wives—very po, dar form of humor, this—or go to a vaudeville show, where they dish this brand up every time just as they consistently dished it up ever since there was any vaudeville—or read one of the new he-flapper novels—or get into conversation with the equivalent of the afore-quoted "Jack." I am conscious of a most affectionate and abiding admiration for that wife's absent George. Dear God, what a ghastly world if there wasn't any Georges like that.

But there are—no matter how the sex may strive to traduce themselves and make us believe otherwise. It is curious that men should so often think it smart to assume this form of disloyalty—so much so that the funny dears feel quite insulted to be accused of continence and loyalty sometimes, apparently ashamed of virtue and good sportsmanship when applied to this relation.

Later on the captain made a joke about sailors having sweethearts in every port. "Now, captain," I challenged when I got him alone, "your darling wife and your five fine children, and your two big sons and their wives. Now just confess to me right here—did you have sweethearts in every port."

"By God, no," the old chap shouted. "I married Ellen when I was 22 and I've been absolutely faithful to her ever since, and she's me sweetheart today—thirty-two years married come Christmas."

"Make another kind of a joke next time," I pleaded.

Things they Ask the Tribune
BUREAU OF INFORMATION

The TRIBUNE Information Bureau was asked to publish the population of Oakland at the time of the first census.

The first census of the city of Oakland in 1860 gave the population at that time as 1543 persons.

What is the French "Legion of Honor?"

The Legion of Honor is a French order of merit founded by Napoleon in 1802 and organized two years later. The distinction was awarded for meritorious conduct in military or civil life. The Palace of the Legion of Honor" is one of the most magnificent edifices in Paris.

Is there a mining magazine published in California? If so, what is the name of it?

The Mining and Scientific Press is published at 420 Market street, San Francisco. It is a weekly magazine.

Will you please let me know how many national holidays we have in the United States?

There are no national holidays. Certain days are declared legal holidays but not national.

General Dawes attends the Presbyterian church.

Will Galli-Curci appear in concert in San Francisco or Oakland this season?

At the present time Galli-Curci is not scheduled to appear this season either in San Francisco or Oakland.

I have a very old picture which has some dark stains on it from age. Is there any way of removing these dark stains?

Mere age stains on the white part of engravings or prints can be removed by wetting the stained places and exposing them to the sun to bleach. They should then be allowed to dry naturally. When dry they can be ironed with a warm iron over several folds of linen to take out the creases. This information was obtained from an experienced picture dealer.

If the person wishing suggestions for refreshments to serve at a small party will send in a self-addressed envelope we will send her the information.

The TRIBUNE Information Bureau will answer all questions of a general nature except school or [illegible] debates, trade and [illegible] time of day.

If answers are desired by mail stamps must be enclosed. Quick results can be obtained by telephoning to the bureau. If you have any problems of a general nature to solve, ask The TRIBUNE Information Bureau, Lakeside 6000.

Cry of Geraldine's SHOULDER

Last Sunday I printed a letter from George in which he told of his latest correspondence school course in journalism. It didn't work. His "card" was not acceptable in lieu of cash, and he was a failure in his newest venture. However through his attempt to get "local color" he met a man who promised great opportunities.

This is the second installment of George's experiences. I wonder if there are such get-rich-quick schemes in operation ,and if so are there enough folks foolish enough to invest their hard-earned savings in such a proposition? With George giving us the story of his "fall" perhaps others will find courage to do the same. Publicity of this sort ought to be very poor advertising for bunko artists:

Dear Jerry:—

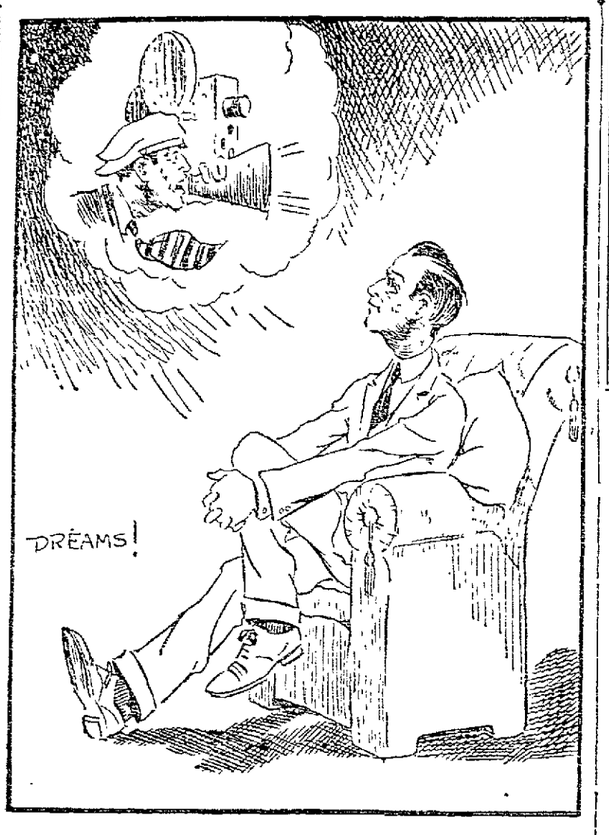

Since I wrote you last I've made a discovery that will bring a complete change in my life and will make you proud that you knew me.

One of these days I'm going to drive into Antioch in a great big striped racing car, with the prettiest girl from Hollywood snuggling against me in the seat and I'm going to park out in front of the pool hall and honk the horn and then when all the fellows come out I'll just give her the gas with the cutout open and without once looking at them leave them there choking down the carbon monoxide.

I've discovered that I have screen personality. Maybe you don't know what that is. We, of the profession, can't expect the laity to understand these technical terms. Screen personality is that quality about you which enables you to do silly things on the screen and make people like it. It is a sort of magnetism, like the fellow with the hypnotic eye that charmed the snakes at the Antioch fair.

Anyway, I've got it. I know you're just dying to know how I found out, so I'll tell you.

Remember the last letter I wrote I said I had escaped being took in by a narrow margin? Well, it was just my imagination. The fellow that I thought was a crook was on the square.

After that luncheon I got to thinking things over and it made me pretty sore. I looked at the card the fellow gave me when I was leaving and on it was INTER-OCEANIC MOTION PICTURES. I went in no mood for trifling. I went to the detective book that I got with the correspondence school course to see what I should do.

It was an inspiration. I called up an Oakland film company and asked about the Inter-Oceanic. They'd never heard of the outfit. Wasn't any such place.

Right then and there I concluded the black-haired fellow was a crook and that was when I wrote you. Later I decided to go to see him and I found he was O. K.

He wouldn't take a cent of my money. He even tried to discourage me from entering the business. But when he found I was determined, then he looked at me through his fingers, got up and walked around me, took my hand and held it and then smiled —"Screen personality," he cried. "You've got it!"

That is how I come to get in on the inside of a proposition that will make Oakland the moving picture capital of the world. And just to show that experience is never wasted even when we think we are swindled, I am to be the detective in the great serial, "Crimson Bloodstains." I am to develop little mannerisms, such as hitting innocent people suddenly on the head with a butt of a revolver, pushing fat women off of piers—subtle touches of humor and pathos. Mr. Aloysius, the director, just gave me a few examples.

"Why, you don't need experience," he cried. "How do you suppose they get animlas to act? They haven't had experience You don't need it. Your screen magnetism will carry you through.

"Did you ever see a horse laugh in the movies?"

I admitted it.

"Well, how do you suppose they make the horse do that?" he continued. "They surround him with a battery of cameras. Then they talk to him until he is fatigued. Presently he yawns and half a dozen cameras catch the grimace from half a dozen angles."

That certainly proves one don't need experience to act in the movies

But I know you're just dying to know how Mr. Aloysius can do this without asking a cent of money from me. I always get suspicious now when anyone wants the coin. But this is different.

The actors and actresses in "Crimson Bloodstains" are to finance the picture. Every actor must by so many feet of film before he is given a part. Because I have a principal role I must buy 500 feet of film at $1 a foot. I think the film will run about 5000 feet, which would make $5000 altogether. I send this money to the Southern Metropolis Film Combination, and they in turn agree to supply all the scenery, cameras, film and other things necessary for making the picture on Lake Merritt and other Oakland locales.

Everything has been arranged for releasing the picture, which can be taken in a month. For every 100 feet of film I bought, I get 1 per cent of the pronts, besides my salary as a star. This seems pretty good

So the next time you hear from me, I will be a film idol and nobody will dare make fun of me. I'm not going to let anyone talk me out of this chance either. The folks think I shouldn't draw my last $500 out of the bank unless I get security for it. But Mr Aloysius says: "If you don't speculate, you can never accumulate," which seems to me a pretty smart saying

Maybe I'll have the laugh on all of you yet. Nobody likes being made a joke, least of all me. Yours,

GEORGE.

What we need in life is a halfway mark where there is adventure and excitement that doesn't collect a toll of sorrow If you've ever been downright LONESOME, you know how this girl feels She is so bored that she can only think in extremes She wouldn't accept the role of "wild woman" if it were presented to her on a solid gold platter, but, Gee! wouldn't a little jazz and music help?

There's a moral to this letter, whether you want to find it or not. If we want to keep young folks happy—and they need music and laughter—we've got to give it to them in a clean manner. If we don't, they'll take it in another way. Not all of them have A. Y.'s "balance."

Dear Jerry:—

In last Friday night's personal I notice to "A H" I guess it applied to me although I signed my letter "A. Y."

I am glad the club is for young people too, but to tell the truth I was a little disappointed because you did not print my letter. I thought someone might see it who would like to go to the club, but I didn't want to go alone. However, I guess I'll have to go alone after all, but maybe I will meet someone over there, who lives my way.

I belong to the O E S., which is supposed to vouch for my character, but there are lots of times when I wish I was one of these wild women and could go on a petting party every night It gets awfully tiresome being good, especially when I don't have a chance to be anything else, but maybe when I make more friends I'll feel different.

I have taken the advice you have given to other "lonesomes" and started to church, though so far only the minister and a few old men have given me the glad hand, and all the young people look as if they were in Junior High school, but I'll keep trying

A. Y.

I wish to make an apology to Oswald for recently printing a letter signed A. Meyer. It made sordid insinuations and I acted the part of a detective agency, for which I am sorry. I am hoping that Oswald accepts my apology.

THE GERTRILONE CLUB

Park Blvd. and Newton Ave.

Dear Gerry and Pals:

The Gertrilone Hallowe'en Party proved to be an exceptional affair and one that will be remembered for some time by all those present.

The evening was so enjoyed that there have been many requests for another affair of a similar nature. This will be given in the form of a barn dance on Tuesday, November 18.

CHAS. FOWLER,
Secretary-Treasurer.

Our CHEERY CHUM

"Hello, is this Grandpa Rollins?" Mildred inquired over the telephone when this is Mildred. Grandpa. How are you? That's good. Listen grandpa, I wonder if I could borrow your long cane. We're going to have a play at school and I have to be little Bo Peep, and I'll need a great big cane—one like yours. Oh, you'll really let me have it? Oh, grandpa, you're simply wonderful—I'll come right over and get it." Mildred hung up the receiver and hugged Betty affectionately. "You come with me and we'll go right over and get it."

"All right," agreed Betty. "Let's hurry."

Grandpa Rollins had the cane ready when the girls arrived, and they stooped long enough to tell him about their Children's Book Week Play.

MY FAVORITE STORIES by IRVIN S COBB

BY APPOINTMENT.

This sounds like a made-up one but is really happened at Dutton's book-shop in New York the other day.

There are, connected with that publishing house two gentlemen, father and son, whom for the sake of anonymity we will call Martin. A caller walked into the outer office and asked for Mr Martin The elder of the two men of that name told his secretary to go out and ask which Mr Martin the man wished to see

"Mr. Martin, senior?" she inquired.

"Not yet," answered the caller, hopefully, "but he said he would."

Our Children By Angelo Patri

THE LOVELY BUMPS.

We were all riding gloomily enough in the surface car. The roadbed was the victim of mistaken economy. The frosts of last winter had heaved up wee mountains and created surprising valleys that the company and the city had decided to leave alone so that the patrons of the road might have a bit of variety in their journeyings and their respective treasuries remain intact.

Bumpity, bumpity, rattle, shackle, bing, bang, we went over the road like a load of old tin cans and discarded plumbers' supplies. The old gentleman in the corner scowled and clasped his hands hard down on the head of his stick. The stout lady opposite grunted, ush, uch, at painful intervals and the rest of us tightened our hold on our bones and wished the road management a pleasant Thanksgiving.

At a corner we stopped with a jerk and a yank and we ruefully felt our necks to make sure nothing too serious had happened. A cheerful looking woman with a very cheerful little girl boarded the car and staggered into seats. Away we went, bumpity, bumpity, up, down and around again. Then a tremendous bump and a series of shakes and rattles that would have done credit to a collision. 'Twas just the roadbed.

But above the grinding and the crashing and the rattling sounded childish laughter. Everybody turned to see what in wonder there was to laugh at. The little girl was lifting her hat off her nose and crowing with joy. "Isn't it nice and bumpsy? Oh I do like it when it's good and bumpsy."

We tried to maintain our grimness and our wrath at the company, but for the life of us we had to let go and the grins began to spread. "Nice and bumpsy."

"I'll tell the whole round world it's the bumpsiest bumpsy ever. But have it your own way and enjoy yourself," said the young salesman with the red necktie.

Each time we struck a good bump after that we rose to the occasion smiling and before the end of the trip, applauding. We all left the car rocking with laughter and feeling at peace with the whole world including the tract on company.

Isn't it queer how they like the bumps? And we work so hard to keep smooth their way lest they stumble and fall, lest they grow weary and afraid. And all the time they are craving for the bumps.

Maybe it would be better to let them have a few now and then. Just a few nice bumpsy ones so they can go up and down and feel the thrill without getting seriously damaged in the descent. Sometimes we take all the life and interest out of the journey by grading it too well. We are cheating the children out of their nice "bumpsies." They like to measure their strength on a problem; they like to feel the opposition of their material; they like to surmount difficulties. Why not remember that in the school room and home? Difficulties grow spiritual muscles and they are much needed.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents or school teachers on education and development of children. Write him in care of the paper, enclosing self-addressed, stamped envelope for reply.

Uncle Wiggily

Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY WRITES A LETTER.

"Please don't bother me for a little while, Nurse Jane," called Uncle Wiggily one afternoon to his muskrat lady housekeeper. "Not that you ever really bother me,' he went on, "but I am now going to sit down and write a letter. And as I'm not very good at writing I shall be glad if you don't shout at me."

"Shout at you! What do you mean?" asked Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy.

"I mean, don't call me to open a window or bring up some coal or turn on the fire or anything like that,' said Mr Longears. "I'll do anything you like now, before I begin writing my letter. But once I have started work with pen and ink I don't want to stop."

"All right," laughed Nurse Jane. "Just put a little coal on the fire and that's all you will have to do for an hour Can you write a letter in an hour?"

"I think so," answered the bunny. "This letter is to the Lady Mouse School Teacher. She asked me to come next Monday and tell the class some stories. So I'm writing to tell her I'll be there."

"All right," squeaked Nurse Jane. So when Uncle Wiggily had put coal on the fire he sat himself down quietly in his room with a pen and a bottle of ink to write the letter. He used a piece of white bark from the birch tree for paper.

If there had been growing any blackberries or red raspberries or huckleberries Uncle Wiggily could have used the juice of them as ink. But this was November, and no berries grow in cold weather.

So Uncle Wiggily had bought himself a bottle of black ink. Really it was the second bottle he had bought, for he poured the first bottle of ink down the throat and on the teeth of the bad Bob Cat, as I told you in the story last night.

"Tra-la-la; Tra-la-la! Tra-la-la!" sang Uncle Wiggily to himself as he began his letter. He wrote "Dear Lady Mouse School Teacher, I shall be glad to come to the Hollow Stump School on Monday.

"Hum! I wonder what else I can say," thought the bunny. He laid the pen down on the table, but the pen rolled off to the floor, and the sharp point stuck in the bunny's foot for he had taken off his shoes, as he had a corn that hurt him

"Ouchie!" cried the rabbit gentleman as the sharp pen point stuck him "Writing letters isn't as easy as it seems." He picked up the pen and dipped the end in the ink Then he was going to write down the names of some of the stories he expected to tell the animal children in school, when, all of a sudden, the door of his room softly opened

"Tut! Tut! Didn't I beg of you not to bother me, Nurse Jane, when I was writing a letter," laughed the bunny. "Please go out and shut the door."

"I'm not Nurse Jane and I'm not going out and shut the door, either, Uncle Wiggily!" growled a voice. "I'm coming in and bite you; that's what I'm going to do."

"Oh, are you?" cried the bunny as he took a firm hold of the pen. "Well, I'll have something to say about that Here, take this!" With that Uncle Wiggily threw the pen as an Indian might throw a spear or shoot an arrow. And the sharp point of the pen stuck in the nose of the Fox, as it had struck in the bunny's foot after bouncing from the floor. Right in the nose of the Fox stuck the pen.

"Wow!" Oh, my nose! What are you doing?" barked the bad chap.

"I'm making believe you're a letter and I'm making a mark on you —I'm giving you a black mark. Ha! Ha!" laughed the bunny as he saw where the pen had plattered the ink on the Fox.

The bad chap pulled the sharp pen from his sore nose and ran away, howling, leaving the bunny laughing. Then Mr. Longears finished his letter in peace and quietness. And if the bad Fox doesn't pop one of the oven and try to play ball with the molasses jug, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the twister.

WITCHES' & PIRATES' STORY DEN

Age 13.

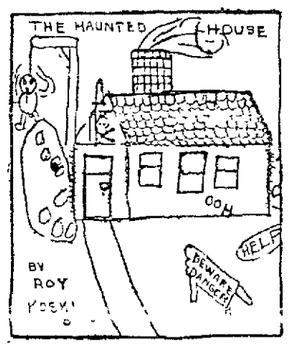

PRIZE WINNER

A STRANGE LAND.

Kennedy, Darrel, Tom and Margaret woke up from a long, long sleep. They had slept an awful long time. They found themselves on a strange beach, with palms swaying to and fro, and a lovely breeze was blowing.

"Oh, what a beautiful island this is," exclaimed Darrel.

"It is very strange," said Margaret, "for when we first went to sleep we were in old Jones' barn on the hay, and now we are on a strange beach."

They wandered through the palms and bushes till they came to a path; they followed this path till they stumbled over some Chinese vases and carvings. These were very strange things to find.

"Chinese must inhabit this island," said Darrel.

They traveled on until they came to a large mansion that looked like a palace. Surrounding the palace was a lawn and a beautiful garden of roses and lilies. In the windows were beautiful silver draping curtains.

"Let's go in," said Tom, "perhaps we can stay here."

"I am hungry," said Margaret.

So they all went up to the house and used the old-fashioned knocker. A Chinese servant came to the door. They asked him if they could stay overnight, because they were lost.

"Yes, you can come in," said the Chinaman.

All four went into the hall, and through the hall into a beautiful room. There sat a very stately looking Chinaman.

"You may stay," said the Chinaman.

He then asked them their names. They told him their names and what had happened. The Chinaman told them he was the emperor of the island of Ke Wong. He told them to explore the palace if they wanted to.

The children looked around this beautiful room. On one side was a large case all made of mahogany. The case was filled with Chinese curios, beautiful vases, funny little figures carved from wood and beautiful beads and trimmings. In the center of the room was a large rug. Seated upon the rug was a little man all dressed in gorgeous colors He was playing on a little harp, and seated beside him was another little man dressed in yellow.

Kennedy wandered into another room, while the rest went on looking at the curios. A long time elapsed and Kennedy had not returned

"Where is Kennedy?" asked Margaret.

"Oh, in the hall, I suppose," said Tom.

Tom and Kennedy were brothers Margaret and Darrel were sisters Tom liked Darrel very much and Kennedy liked Margaret very much Margaret was getting worried about Kennedy. Suddenly Margaret heard someone singing very sweetly.

"Oh," she exclaimed, "I hear someone singing. It sounds like Kennedy's sweet voice"

It was a very funny thing for a Chinaman to say.

"Oh, I hear it again," she cried. "I know it is Kennedy."

She ran outside, but could see no one. Then she spied a wire cage; inside the cage was a large form that looked like a brass dog. She ran up to it. The dog was made with a silver-shaped egg on top of it. This dog was a sort of prison for the emperor's victims. Who should be in it but Kennedy himself. Margaret took the egg and bit it, and the dog sprang open, and Kennedy was free.

"Oh, how did you get inside of that horrid thing?" said Margaret

"I don't exactly know," said Kennedy. "I was walking past here

Then they took a walk in the garden. Soon they were shown to their rooms. They slept well that night.

"To think it was only a dream," said Kennedy.

"That is why it was so funny," said Margaret.

MARJORIE COLLAT, "IN OLDEN TIMES."

There was once a young man. His name was Jack. He was on his way to California in search of gold. He built himself a little hut on the edge of a stream. He had with him a shovel and a pan There were no kind of people around him. Every day he would get up early and go to the stream in search of gold. In a week or two he had a panful. One day as he was panning gold he happened to look under his legs. He saw a robber with his gun pointing at him. Playing he did not see him, he drew out his pistol and shot at the robber. The robber fell dead. He ran up to him and saw a piece of paper fell out of his pocket. He looked at it and saw lines like a map on it. He went the way the drawing on the piece of paper showed and came to a big cave. He drew out his pistol and went in. Somebody jumped out and hit him in the head. That was all he knew until an hour or so. Later he came to and found himself lying on a blanket with a girl whom he loved at first sight. She helped him up and they went to his hut. Later his head was well. One day Jack and Violet (the girl's name) were out in front of the hut. They saw a long, winding train of covered wagons. They ran to meet them and told them that there was gold in the stream and to build huts there. They agreed and soon there was a little town. Now after the day he had been hurt he wanted to go back to the cave and get the robber. As he was walking to the cave he saw a robber looking over the cliff and he knew that it was the man. He pushed him over the cliff and that was the end of him. He soon got married to Violet and they lived happily ever after. MARJORIE COLLAT.

How the Manicure Girl Lives ---By Ralph Barton

PEGGY TRUE.

CHAPTER 26.

Jenny glanced up in a startled fashion. Then veiled the glance quickly. It betrayed something of which she was ashamed. That money had been the sole consideration in this marriage of a young girl to a man thrice her age. But he had caught that fleeting glance.

"That is, not what a great many folks would call rich," he hastened to assure her." I have a tidy little sum, and with my share in the Altruda it will carry us through life without wantin' o' anything, that is if it is handled and manaced properly. I'm not handin' the purse strings over to you, lass, for it's my belief that a man should manage these affairs himself. Neither am I going to be niggardly with ye. I want ye to have the pretties that have been denied ye. But they need not be satins and laces. Simple pretty things are best suited to ye, my lass. I am not the sort o' man who watches the pennies, lass, but the dollars must be accounted for. I am too old to earn many more. And I want ye to be comfortably provided for when I am gone. I want no more grindin' toil for ye. Is that all plain to ye? Perfectly plain?"

What an odd way to set forth on a wedding journey. How incongruous. Money talk! Already, money talk. It made her feel as if she had been married to him for years. And yet she would have preferred it to love talk. If she could postpone that part of this unsuitable marriage she would gladly, joyously welcome the opportunity to do so, forever. Yet she knew that hour would come. It was inevitable. She would be alone with him, this old man, and he would take her in his arms, old arms that could crush on occasion, and he would hold her, and touch her. Ah, touch her! Her lips! With his! Merciful God—no! He was old—old—old! What HAD she sold herself into? What a bondage of shame!

It wasn't marriage. It couldn't be. Eighteen and sixty. God did not sanction that. It was a mercenary, loathsome money bargain, and she, Jenny McCaskie, was vile for her part in it.

Jenny McCaskie? That was no longer her name. She now bore that other ludicrous name that Vicie had laughed at. It was horrible. She must have been mad. An hour after the sordid bargain, and she realized how tragically, pitifully mad.

But the bargain had not been culminated yet. There was that hour alone, against the old breast, the shaggy old head beside her own.

"Merciful God!" she breathed again, aloud.

"What is it, Jenny?" in quick alarm.

"Nothing, nothing. Did I speak?"

"You cried out, lass."

"It was nothing, nothing," she repeated and turned her face from him and stared out the window at the receding landscape, each mile bearing her nearer and nearer to—that hour when she would be alone with her husband.

The captain let it pass. It was just a little hysteria. Jenny was given to these little outbursts. She was of a highly nervous temperament. A bride would naturally be nervous when entering into this new, but natural change in her life. Thus the Captain reasoned, and returned to the burden of his plaint.

"I am just trying to make it plain to ye, Jenny that it is ye I married and not your family."

She glanced back at him again in that startled fashion.

"Not that I am not willing to be helping them as long as their demands are reasonable. I am feeling nothing but pity for your poor worked-out mother. She is always welcome to a crust o' bread at our table and a chair by the hearth. Your mother is a good woman, Jenny, lass. One who deserved more o' life than she got. But your brother and sister, Jenny. I'll have none o' them. The one is a conceited nincompoop. The other a pretty, feather-brained, addle-headed coquette. The one will find no welcome under our roof. The other is more than welcome to our protection and your wise guidance, but—she'll have na crust o' bread that she does not pay for."

"You mean?" Jenny sat up straight. Her eyes were wide and

"Just that, lass, that we will do what we can for her, but she'll pay for her keep!"

"Nothing o' the world! She's had her lessons, and from the devil's primer, too, I'm thinking."

"But that is why I—" she paused, embarrassed. She could not put it quite so bluntly.

"Why ye married me," he finished for her." Don't you suppose I know that? Ye married me to turn my dollars into golden paving stones for her dainty feet to dance over. Now I am not meanin' to speak so harsh with ye, Jenny. I knew that I was leadin' a martyr to the altar, and it went against the grain. But I knew also that my dollars would take ye out o' that sweat shop that was stooping your shoulders like an old woman, and had turned your hands red, like raw meat. And that is why I married ye, Jenny. To be helpin' ye to the rest that ye are entitled to and not to be making o' myself an object for the barnacles to cling to."

"Has been in vain? Is that what ye are meaning? Your marrying me to make a soft berth for your folks?"

Suddenly she jerked straight. The tension snapped.

"Captain Twillegger—"

"Very well, Jonathan, I did marry you to help them. To save her. I made a bargain. I will live up to my part of it in letter and deed. I will keep every vow I made. I will abide by everything we swore to before the minister. I'm not crawfishing on my part if you stand by yours. You didn't tell me in so many words that you would help me to make a lady of my little sister, but you led me to believe so. And that was cheating. I'm no cheat! I haven't love to give you, but I have faithfulness and obedience! And I am young! Even youth that hasn't prettiness is worth something. And that was all I had to sell—youth! We didn't do any actual bargaining before. But I am bargaining now. Unless you promise to help her, you don't get me, vows or no vows!"

She clenched her red little hand. Beat the seat beside her with it. The Captain reached for it, caught it, stopped its fluttering, crushed it in his huge palm.

"Look at this little hand! Red and ugly from toiling for one who knows not the meaning of appreciation. When her hands are like that I'll untie my purse strings for her and gladly. But until she earns something for herself by honest toil just as her sister did, and proves that she is worthy o' your help, not one cent wil come from me to make a lady o' her. Let her BE a lady first! Let her prove that money spent on her will not be wasted. Let her come stumbling home as ye did that night, beaten and torn with honest labor, and then I'll know that she is worth helping! Let her learn the weight o' the burden that I have just lifted from your shoulders! Let her learn the value o' a dollar before she asks and expects one o' us! For until she does, she'll get not one cent o' my money. Not one cent, lass. I married ye, not her!"

Fashion News Notes

PARIS, Nov. 13.—More for one's money is no recommendation when it comes to buying Parisian lingerles. The latest "chemise pantaloon" consists of two short plastrons of crepe de chine which fall front and back. These are joined at the side by a six inch section of Valenciennes which also goes around the top and the bottom and reveals far more than it conceals.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Not all the coats this season are fur trimmed. One charming example seen today was a redingote of navy blue serge embroidered and braided in vivid Bulgarian designs over a gray poplin base. The long collar and the lower half of the sleeves also were of gray but without a touch of fur.

Queen Mary has started her Christmas shopping. Others are following her example and among the gifts seemingly most popular are huge ostrich fans, the plumes or which are distinct and widely separated.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Many persons who go in for winter sports will this year adopt the short heavy woolen sock worn by Swiss guides. These, usually in white or in natural wool, are put on outside the stocking and roll down in a neat circle around the shoe top.

Some of the new top coats actually have to fit. One of the latest models shown is of English tweed and cut on similar lines to those of a man's overcoat when men wore them tight about the waist.

According to Dorothy Dix

One of the most curious things about women is that they can never resist posing as martyrs. They simply revel in being pitied and "poor thinged," and it is meat and drink to them to be regarded as one who endures a secret sorrow and smiles above an aching heart.

This morbid craving for sympathy leads them to do many queer things. It makes mothers reveal their children's shortcomings to strangers and tell shameful secrets that would otherwise never be known. And, in particular, it makes complaining about their husbands the favorite indoor sport of wives.

It is very rarely that you hear a woman admit that she is happily married, that she loves and admires the man to whom she is united, and that she considers that he does his duty quite as well as a husband as she does hers as a wife. On the contrary, most wives assume in public a meek, patient-Griselda attitude, as of one who bears a heavy cross with an almost superhuman courage, and when they speak of their husbands they are more prone to dwell on hubby's faults than his virtues.

Now, the funny part of all of this is that these women do not mean a word of what they say. They are not really dissatisfied with their husbands. You couldn't get one of them to take a divorce if you offered it to her on on a silver salver garnished with alimony. Not one of them would trade off the faulty he-man she has got for an impeccable saint.

When a wife recites the litany of her husband's weaknesses and failings she is just indulging herself in an orgy of self-pity and striking what she considers a romantic note—that of the misunderstood woman who is bound to one who can never really appreciate her.

It does not occur to her that she is doing the man to whom she is married a deadly wrong and that she is putting a spoke in the wheel of her own fortune, which is, after all, his fortune. For the outside world takes a man very much at his wife's valuation, and she either bulls or bears his stock.

Reputation is an intangible thing that is made up of whispers, and careless words, and shrugs, and intimations of things not really told. But these make or mar us, and nearly always go straight back home. It is the people who are nearest to us who write our price tags.

So when a woman whines that she can't have an automobile because her husband doesn't know how to get along in business, we jump to the conclusion that he is lacking in energy and enterprise, and we pass him by if we are looking for a good man for a big job. Or if a woman complains that her husband is grouchy and grumpy, and hard to get along with, he registers in our minds as a surly brute, with whom we want to have no dealings. We might know him for an expert in a certain line for which we needed a man, but we would avoid employing a man who was so ill-tempered that even his own wife could hardly endure him.

Nor would we care to patronize the man who was such a tightwad that his wife had to screw every penny out of him, nor the one who bullied and browbeat a poor little woman and never showed her any kindness or consideration. We all have a natural, kindly, human prejudice against the man who is mean enough to mistreat a defenseless wife and we don't want anything to do with him.

On the contrary, we warm up to the man who is a good family man, who is kind and affectionate to his wife and children, and whose wife goes about singing his praises. In fact, a happy wife is just about the best advertisement a man can have.

Between the wife who is a booster and the wife who is a knocker lies success of failure for her husband in many a case.

Why do we buy ou groceries of A and our drugs of B? Simply and solely because Mrs. A and Mrs. B are such nice women, and they are so fond of their husbands, and are always telling us what wonderful stocks of goods they keep, and how enterprising they are.

How is it that Dr. C and Lawyer D climb so quickly to the head of their professions? Mainly because Mrs. C and Mrs. D never weary of telling what great students their husbands are, and exploiting their wonderful skill and eloquence, and telling about their big cases, and of how wrapt up they are in their work.

That's the kind of a person we want to doctor us when we are sick and to handle our cases when we go to law, and we feel that we have got an inside tip on them because the women who know them best have told us all about them.

Why is it that we all look up to E as such an oracle? Because his wife does. We know he must be simply wonderful because his wife has told us how profound he is, and what deep books he reads, and how noble and conscientious he is. We would never have found out these things for ourselves, but when a wife feels that way about her husband we take it as proof positive that it is true.

Far more important than what we think about a man is what his children think about him, and they take their opinion from their mother. If she is always pointing out their father's weaknesses to them they grow up with a contempt for him; but if she holds up his virtues for their admiration, they revere him and he has authority and influence over them.

Every woman should be her husband's press agent, for she can make him or ruin him with her propaganda.

If I could give one piece of advice more earnest than another to the young woman who is about to be married, it would be this:

Don't try to monopolize your husband. Don't attempt to narrow down his every thought and interest to his home. Don't try to separate him from his own old friends. Above all, don't give him an overdose of your society.

Of course, no bride will take my [illegible] being, except a collegian in his freshman years, who is so absolutely certain that she has been bitten by Solomon's dog and knows all there is to tell about men, as is the young person upon whose marriage certificate the ink is still wet. Nevertheless if she would hearken to these words of warning it would save her a lot of trouble.

Every bride begins by believing that she can be all-in-all to her husband, and that he cannot possibly tire of holding her hand or desire any other diversion than telling her over for the billionth time how beautiful and wonderful she is, and how his guardian angel must have been working overtime when he got her for a wife. Therefore, when she begins to realize that, having got married, her husband takes marriage for granted and has ceased to be excited over it, and that he has resumed his heart interest in the grocery trade, and the stock market, and golf, she sheds salt and bitter tears, and moans that he no longer lo-o-oves her.

The honeymoon is notoriously a time of strife and bickering. The average married couple look back upon their first year of married life with horror and wonder how they ever lived through it. It was the season of torment because the bride was trying to monopolize her husband's every thought and interest, and he was fighting for his personal liberty.

Fortunately for most couples, before the battle ends in the divorce court a baby comes along to distract the woman's attention from the man. But before she has cut her wisdom teeth on her wedding ring and found out that no human being can be all-in-all to any other human being, the hearthstone is strewn with shattered illusions and love has got some body blows from which it never fully recovers.

It is this monopolistic spirit that makes a woman jealous of her husband's mother. She knows well enough that the affection a man has for his mother is entirely different from the love he gives his wife, but she cannot endure to share him even with the woman who bore him and to whom he would be a dastard to be disloyal.

It is what makes a woman cold-shoulder all of her husband's old friends out of the house and supplant them with her own friends, because she is determined to blot out the life in which she had no part.

It is what makes her hate even the business or profession in which her husband is absorbed, and even causes her to speak with resentment of the "old office" in which is made the money that supports her.

You meet women who boast that they have been married for years and have never left their husbands for a single day, and that they tag their husbands even when they go off on fishing or hunting trips.

And you cease to wonder that the women who make the mistake of trying to tie their husbands to their apron strings find that these gentlemen so often slip the knot. For the thing that is chiefly the matter with matrimony is that there is too much of it.

Husbands and wives get overdoses of each other's society, and get so fed up on each other that they lose their relish for each other and rush to other people for a change.

If people were only married six months a year instead of twelve they would stay lovers till their golden wedding day. Absence never makes the heart grow so much fonder as when you are separated from the partner of your bosom.

When you kiss John or Mary good-by at the station you think him or her commonplace and uninteresting. But his or her virtues grow with every mile of distance and day of separation, until by the time you are 3000 miles away and have been gone from home a month [illegible] married to the hero of your girlish dreams or the fairy maiden of your youth.

The terrible thing about domestic life is its lack of privacy. There are homes in which no one has an individual room; no one a drawer that others do not pry into; no one can get a letter others do not open; no one can think a thought or have an opinion that others do not discuss.

Now, the decent soul shrinks from exposing itself to the public gaze. It is as repulsive to bare itself to other eyes as it would be to a modest man and woman to strip their bodies naked.

If women would only bear this in mind, and remember that men are far more reticent about discussing their emotions than women, and if they would begin their married lives by giving their husbands privacy of thought and personal freedom; if they would make themselves the dessert of life instead of the corned beef and cabbage they would save themselves many tears and hold their men to the end.

For a woman cannot be all-in-all to her husband, but she can make herself the best thing of all in his life.

Decay of Stone Studied.

Granite and marble and the other kinds of stone used in buildings are not nearly so eternal as most people imagine. The surface gradually decays and cracks off. On many old buildings in England this has already become a serious danger. Now the United States Bureau of Standards is studying this problem on buildings in New York in the hope of finding some way to protect the stone before the damage becomes serious. The decay is believed to be due to the action of gases and moisture of the air.

TEASERS

The Fountain Pen.

Look the drawing over carefully and see if you can estimate about how many times the pen can be filled from the ink well before the supply is exhausted.

Take a minute or so to estimate; do not measure. Think it over carefully, then look for tomorrow's answer. You may find a surprise.

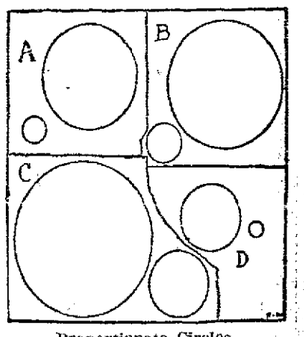

Answer to Above.

The fountain pen could be filled 8 times from the inkwell. An estimate of 8 is exceptional; 7 or 9, very good; 6 or 10, good; 5 or 12, average; 4 or 14, fair; less than 3, or more than 15, poor.

Wednesday's Teaser.

A foothall should weigh from 14 to 15 ounces. An estimate of 14 or 15 is exceptional; 13 or 16, very good; 12 or 17, good; 11 or 18, average; 10 or 20, fair; less than 8 or more than 24, poor.

TEASERS

Proportionate Circles.

It is not difficult to pick the largest circle in the drawing; nor the smallest. It will be noted, however, that there are two circles for each letter—large and small A; large and small B, etc.

Which of the four larger circles is the greatest in proportion to the small circle which is beside it?

Study the circles carefully, for about one minute, without measuring them. Then make your estimate!

Tomorrow's Teaser—A Gain.

Home Life at Rumpus Ridge.

"How are all the folks, Mr. Johnson?" asked the able editor of the Tumblnville Torch of Liberty and Tocsin of the Times.

"Well, wife is on the puny list," replied Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge, who was in the county seat on a shopping expedition. "My least boy, Bearcat, is chilling, gran' dad is grunty, three or four of the other children have got the mumps, my oldest gal ran away tuther night and married some feller that she's brung home to live with us, Greedy got bit on the big toe by a snappin' turtle yesterday and an' the blame thing wouldn't let go till the sun went down. Banty and Runt are beginning to go with the gals and tuther night they had a fight with a passel of kids outside of the church and got clawed and wallered till they look like they'd met a bunch of bears; some cuss—I reckon likely it's a feller that I swapped hosses with—is taking a shot at me once in a while, but not hitting me this far; the baby swallered a fishhook or something that-a-way this morning and was still a yelling bloody murder when I left. Outside of them matters, I reckon we're doing about as common."—Kansas City Star.

Was skeptical of Kellogg's Bran until it gave him back his health

Naturally Mr. Carter—whose letter follows—was skeptical. He had tried practically everything for the relief of constipation. All had failed. But Kellogg's Bran brought him permanent relief, just as it has done for thousands of others. Read his letter:

Gentlemen:
I am 43 years old, and have been for years a great sufferer from constipation. I had to resign a clerical position because of rushes of blood to my head, some of which caused me to fall to the ground. I took an outdoor laboring job and tried for the first time, skeptically I admit, your Krumbled Bran. The result has been wonderful. I began to be normal after I had been on the Bran about three days. No more enemas, no more Old Dr. So-and-So's Pills, Epsom salts by the ton, etc., ad infinitum! You have the most wonderful product for constipation I have ever seen or tried. Yours very gratefully,
L. T. Carter, 204 Nineteenth St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, does not irritate the intestines like drugs and pills. It acts exactly as nature acts. Eaten regularly, it is guaranteed to relieve permanently the most chronic case of constipation, or your grocer will refund your money.

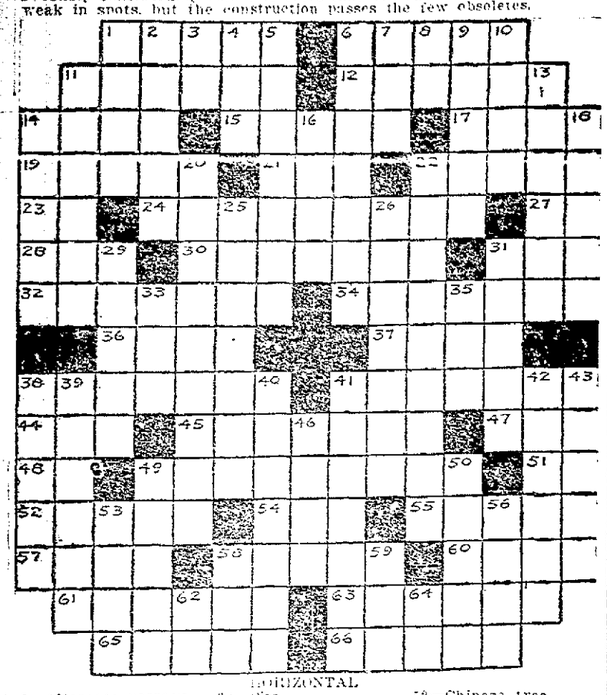

You will like the exclusive, nut-like flavor of Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases with every meal. Eat it with milk or cream and in the recipes on every package. Sold by all grocers. Made in Battle Creek.

Hollow Redwood Tree in Sonoma Hides Stills

SANTA ROSA, Nov. 14.—Illicit stills have been unearthed here in many novel places since the advent of prohibition, but yesterday a new hiding place came to light—the hollow of an old Redwood tree. In a recent raid on the Cisira Ricardi ranch near Sebastopol deputy sheriffs seized 500 gallons of wine and a quantity of jackass brandy. The officers suspected Ricardi of having a still and after a severe grilling he pointed out the tree which concealed two large copper utensils for the manufacture of moonshine liquor. Ricardi was fined $500 and his wife given a suspended 90-day jail term.

ANTI-PROHIBITION SOCIETY TO MEET

SANTA ROSA, Nov. 14.—A mass meeting sponsored by members of the Association against the prohibition amendment will be held here Friday, November 20. Two speakers will be sent from San Francisco to speak on the prohibition question. Removal of that part of the Volstead act which defines intoxicating liquor as anything containing more than one-half of one per cent alcohol is the aim of the association. It is ultimately hoped to permit each state to fix the alcoholic content of its beverages. A powerful movement for the restoration of light wines and beer will be made at the next session of congress.

Boils! "Ouch!"

DON'T CLOSE your eyes to the warning which Nature gives when angry, painful boils appear on your neck, face or other parts of your body. Boils, pimples and so-called skin disorders are the result of an impoverished condition of the blood and are not to be trifled with.

It is nothing more than folly to expect to get absolute relief from the use of local treatments, such as ointments, salves, etc. Such remedies may afford temporary relief but you want more than relief; you want a remedy which will rid you forever of the torturing disorders. And the one remedy which has no equal is S.S.S.

S.S.S. stops boils and keeps them from coming. S.S.S. builds blood-power! That is what makes fighting blood. Fighting blood destroys impurities. It fights boils. It fights skin eruptions—pimples, blackheads, eczema! It always wins! S.S.S. has been known since 1826 as one of the greatest blood builders, blood cleansers and system strengtheners ever produced. There are no unproven theories about S.S.S., the scientific results of each of its purely vegetable medicinal ingredients are admitted by authorities. Begin taking S.S.S. today and clear your skin of those blood disorders!
